FIGHT UPON TAFT FOR 1912 OPENED BY PROGRESSIVES

Headquarters in Washington Will Direct Campaign All Over Country.

MAKE REPLY TO SPEECH

La Follette Willing to Lead Contest if People Ask Him to Be Their Candidate.

SOUTH AS MAIN BATTLE GROUND

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—That the progressive Republican fight against President Taft's renomination is not all froth was shown here today when formal announcement was made of the establishment of campaign headquarters.

The announcement is the progressives' answer to the speech Mr. Taft delivered last Saturday in Hamilton, Mass. It proves that the opposition to the present chief executive's continuance in office is not to be scattered and incohesive, but to have the form of an organized movement, with branches in every state in the union. This is the formal announcement:

"A campaign has been undertaken by progressive Republicans both in and out of congress to obtain the nomination of a progressive candidate by the next Republican convention. A fight will be made in every state and congressional district where there is any chance of securing delegates favorable to a progressive candidate. The offices from which the campaign will be conducted are in the Evans building, Washington, D. C., and are in charge of W. L. Houser."

Two Causes for Delay.

There are two significant features of this announcement: First, that while it undoubtedly was contemplated before the Progressive Republicans of the senate and house left Washington, its issuance was delayed until they had had an opportunity to return to ascertain the sentiment of their constituents; and, second, that it does not give the name of the man who will be the progressive candidate for the nomination for president.

The progressives are moving with caution. They realize a mistake would be fatal to them. For this reason, while they had formulated their plans before they left Washington, it was deemed expedient not to make an announcement of the opening of headquarters at the close of the extra session, but to wait a few days for returns from the country.

Senator Cummins, for example, declined here to state his position, but after a few days in Iowa he felt himself justified in announcing his support of Senator La Follette.

La Follette Not Pushing Boom.

Senator La Follette is saying nothing as to his personal ambitions. That he is a receptive and will become an active candidate, no one here questions. He feels he should not announce his candidacy, but it is for the country to say whether it wants him to run, and if it does, he will gladly undertake the race. But if it should appear that Senator Cummins, for example, has a better chance, he will support him.

Every one has known Mr. La Follette would oppose the president's nomination and every one believes that, if the president be nominated, while "Fighting Bob" may not aid the Democrats, he will at least stand aloof and merely concern himself with the fate of the progressive Republican candidates for the senate, house of representatives, and gubernatorial chairs.

For some reason, which is not clear, Mr. La Follette has decided not to discuss politics before the Pennsylvania grange at Harrisburg tomorrow, "unless he is asked to discuss reciprocity." Probably he will be asked and undoubtedly will answer in his usual vigorous style.

Taft's Friends Not Surprised.

The administration is not surprised at the effort on the part of the progressives to organize a movement to defeat Mr. Taft for renomination.

Supporters of Mr. Taft are confident the Wisconsin man's candidacy will get nowhere. They point out that the number of delegates in the last convention was 980. If the new reapportionment be observed the number in the next convention will be 1,060—1,062 if Arizona and New Mexico be admitted into the union.

Every Republican administration considers it can count confidently on the solid south. It will furnish 316 votes for the president.

Pennsylvania is expected to give practically all its seventy-six votes to Mr. Taft. New York, with its ninety votes, in all probability will do likewise. New England will have eighty-eight votes and with a few exceptions the administration is counting on these for the president. Ohio, according to the president's lieutenants, will be united for Taft, which will give him forty-eight votes more.

Claims by Administration Men.

The total number of Taft votes from the states named will be 618 under the new apportionment. This will more than constitute a majority of the convention.

The administration also is counting on Michigan with its 28 votes, a majority of the votes of Illinois, a majority of the votes of Indiana, and some of the votes of the other middle western states. It expects Utah to contribute six votes, Delaware six votes, and Nebraska most of its sixteen votes. Other states, it is claimed, will send delegates to swell the Taft majority.

The progressives are especially banking upon the results of the presidential primaries in New Jersey, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Nebraska, and Oregon. They are hopeful that Texas will adopt this method of selecting its candidates in time for observance next spring.

"It's a Striking Fact" wrote a contributor to our "Success Stories," "that Tribune want ads not only assist you to a position but also to the kind of position that is worth sticking to. They placed me where I had a chance to make good."

Exactly so. That's just the difference between The Tribune's want ad columns and those of the ordinary paper. The Tribune reaches solid business men—"good men to work for." Its readers, both employers and employed, are the ablest and most competent class in the community.

If you are the right man The Tribune will find the right opening for you and give the best chance to rise as high as your merit will carry you.

START TONG WAR; ONE MAN SLAIN

Failure to Comply with Demands of Chinese Black Hand Brings Murder.

'KING'S' COUSIN ALSO SHOT

Chinatown has thrown aside the opium pipe and the dice box for the revolver.

War, which has been threatened for some time between celestials belonging to the different "tongs," started last night, and as a result Lee Yip Wing, a merchant, is dead, and Moy Dong Tong, a laundryman, residing near Fifty-second street and Ashland avenue, is in a critical condition at St. Luke's hospital. Both were shot twice. The shooting was done by Chu Tu Hun, who escaped in a taxicab.

Wing is principal owner of the King Sun Wo company. Tong is a cousin of Frank Moy, king of Chinatown.

With the outbreak of the "tongs" the police department has another source of worry. Chinamen, like Black Handers and slugging gunmen, tell no tales. It is thought the refusal of the men to comply with demands of the Hep Sing Tong led up to the shooting. There are four "tongs" in Chinatown.

Chow Foo Woy, brother of a man sought by the police, was taken into custody soon after the murder, and is being held at the Harrison street station.

"Black Hand" Changes Quarters.

The Hep Sing Tong, said to be the most powerful of the Chinese societies, and branded as the "Black Hand" branch, moved a short time ago to 555 Clark street, immediately above the basement store of Lee Yip Wing. It has branches throughout the country, and is the society that was given a death blow in Boston a few years ago when ten of its members were sentenced to the electric chair for murder.

The trouble last night came at a time when the basement store of Wing was filled with men. There was a wild scramble to escape when the murderer opened fire. Standing on the steps leading to the place, the Celestial pointed his revolver at Wing and fired. The Chinese merchant was struck by the first bullet and sank to the floor. With a cry of warning Moy Dong Tong attempted to dart past his prostrate countryman, but he was too slow and an instant later he was rolling over the floor, writhing in pain.

Slayer Escapes Pursuit.

With his revolver pointed at the terrified loungers in the store, the slayer backed up the stairway and dashed down the basement steps leading to Louie Sing's place at 549 Clark street. Shouting that he would shoot the first one who tried to intercept his flight, the murderer darted out of the rear doorway and fled as far east as Dearborn street, where he escaped in a taxicab.

Detectives were soon on the trail. An automobile was impressed in the chase, and the detectives sped west in Harrison street, but up to an early hour this morning he had not been caught. Many Chinamen were arrested in the hope that they might tell something.

"If the murder is a result of war on the 'tongs,'" said Patrick H. O'Donnell, who defended Mongolians for shooting in a quarrel some years ago, "the police will have their hands full."

300 GIRLS ESCAPE FROM TOP FLOORS OF BUILDING AFIRE

Young Women Use Perilous Fire Escape; Skirts Catch Fire at Flaming Windows

POLICE RESCUE VICTIM

Patten Building Elevator Operators Stick by Posts; Smoke Overcomes Two.

CROWDS SEE DANGEROUS DESCENT

Three hundred girls passed from the eighth and ninth floors of the tall Patten building to safety yesterday, while a blistering fire raged in the fourth story of the structure. The building is at Fifth avenue and Harrison street. It is twelve stories high.

How the girls escaped without a single serious injury is difficult to determine. The extent of the fire may be gauged from the fact that it did $25,000 damage to a modern fireproof structure. The manner of their escapes was various.

There were heroic elevator men who muffled their faces with their coats and shot their cars up and down through the diminutive inferno until the heat singed and blistered. There were masterly foremen who coolly directed their frightened charges through smoke clouded corridors to safety stairways. And there were determined young women who tripped down the staircase fire escapes twining the sheer walls of the building, with little dignity, perhaps, but with presence of mind that drew roars of delight from the crowds in the streets below.

Girls Kept from Panic.

The fire started in a store room of the Chicago and Alton railway company on the fourth floor. Part of this floor is occupied by the Holmes Manufacturing company.

Thomas Carey, clerk in the railroad office discovered the blaze and gave the alarm. The girls employed by the Holmes Manufacturing company at once became panic stricken. They were quieted by their employer, G. B. Holmes, who ordered the girls to get their hats and coats and take their time about leaving the building.

Most girls on the fourth floor left the building by the rear stairs. A few went down the front stairs. All were terrified when they saw dense clouds of smoke rolling out of the railway company's section. In headlong flight they dashed down the stairways.

In the meantime the alarm had spread throughout the building. The elevator men had begun their heroic task of rescuing the occupants of the upper stories.

Elevator Men Stick by Posts.

The four elevator men in the building made a dozen trips up and down the burning structure, and they stuck by their posts until compelled to leave the building because of smoke. But their heroic efforts to empty the building were in vain. The occupants of the upper stories luckily realized this, and the procession down the fire escape had started before the elevator operators had been driven from their stations.

A. Grieg, 1739 West One Hundred and First street, and Edward Anderson, who operated the passenger elevators, had to be carried from their cars overcome with smoke.

"Daddy" Rasmussen, a gray haired elevator man, stayed in his car while the flames licked at the shaft. Up and down he went in the car that despite the desperate need for speed could go no faster. The last of the girls in the building had been lowered to safety before the old man staggered from the building.

Girl Overcome by Smoke.

Miss Catherine Hayden, a telephone operator for the Harrison Coal company, which occupies the eleventh floor, stopped to answer a number of business calls after the others in the office had fled. She was the last to leave the office and was overcome by smoke. Her fellow employés had all reached the ground and were watching the progress of the fire when one of them missed her.

Policemen Byrne and Richter were told that Miss Hayden was still in the building. They rode up with Greig, elevator operator, through the smoke and fire to the eleventh floor, where they found the young woman lying unconscious near the door of the office. They carried her down. She revived soon after reaching the fresh air, but was still weak. She was taken to her residence, 6343 South Wood street, in a police ambulance.

The flames were burning cornices of windows on the fourth floor when the girls from the eighth and ninth floors began to climb down the fire escapes in an apparently endless stream.

Several times during the descent of the girls the procession was halted when the filmy, black skirt of some one passing the flaming windows caught fire. Each girl would stop and smother the flame, assisted by the one immediately beneath her.

Thousands in the street below watched the girls come down past the flaming windows. Spectators gasped as now one, now another, of the irregular line seemed about to perish in the blaze, or to fall and precipitate others to the ground. But the girls kept their wits about them, and clung firmly to the rungs. Several fainted when they reached the ground.

It was an easy fire to handle, according to Fire Marshal O'Connor.

Risks Life to Save Picture.

Mrs. Emma Long risked death by fire last night to save the picture of her dead husband, which was hanging on a wall on the third floor of the Dover hotel, 19 West Van Buren street, of which she was proprietor. Although almost overcome by the smoke she saved the picture, and she and two other women descended to the street by means of a fire escape in the front of the building. The loss caused by the fire was $700.

"GAY LIFE" BRINGS RUIN TO CASHIER

Detectives Take Lucius Steveley, Who Fled to Iowa; Firm Charges $17,000 Embezzlement.

SERVED TERM IN PRISON.

Conceals Record and Wins Position of Trust; Autos and Diamonds Lead to Downfall.

Lucius A. Steveley, known among frequenters of loop cafés in this city as a spender and all around good fellow, is under arrest in Dubuque, Ia., charged with embezzlement. He was cashier of the Patent Vulcanite Roofing company for two and a half years. His employers assert that in that time he robbed them of $17,000 by clever manipulation of the books.

The discovery of the shortage a month ago and the simultaneous disappearance of Steveley explained to the officers of the company the purchase of two automobiles and expensive jewelry by their cashier. It also accounts for his "high living."

This is the second time that Steveley has gone wrong. On Nov. 21, 1902, he entered Joliet penitentiary to serve a sentence for the embezzlement of $5,000 from George L. Shuman & Co. He was their confidential bookkeeper. He took checks from letters and protected himself by juggling the figures. He also opened a bank account in the firm's name without its knowledge. In this way he cashed the firm's checks.

Paroled, Gets Good Position.

Steveley was paroled Dec. 23, 1906, and discharged Dec. 10, 1907. He was good for a year. In the fall of 1908 he began work for the Patent Vulcanite Roofing company as bookkeeper. Six months later he was advanced to the position of cashier. He appeared to be a mixer. Every one he met thought well of him, and the officers of the company never thought of inquiring into his past.

John Logan, vice president of the company, told yesterday how Steveley worked.

"After Steveley had been here about a year he showed up one morning in an automobile," he said. "We knew he didn't earn enough money to buy one and asked him where he got it. He said it belonged to a friend who couldn't drive well. He explained that he drove the friend around in the evening and the friend gave him the privilege of using the car during the day. We believed him.

Drives Auto, Wears Diamonds.

"One evening last summer his wife drove down to the office in an electric brougham. We asked him where she got it. He said the machine belonged to one of her friends who permitted her to use it. We didn't think there was anything crooked about the story. About the same time he acquired a huge diamond solitaire ring which was worth at least $1,100. He said it belonged to his father's estate and that his mother had just turned it over to him. He also said that he was receiving a regular allowance from the estate. This explained to us how he could live so well.

"We raised his salary three times, and when he left he was receiving $200 a month. We never suspected anything wrong until nearly a month ago, when we called in auditors to examine his books. They came in the morning. Steveley left before noon, and he hasn't been back. His wife came in next day and wanted to know where he was. I told her we had auditors working on the books. She broke down and cried.

"Mrs. Steveley voluntarily turned over the automobiles. They are worth about $2,000. Today we secured an attachment on Steveley's ring and about $2,000 worth of jewelry which he had given his wife. Now it is up to us to prove that these jewels were purchased with stolen money."

Arrested in Iowa City.

Steveley was arrested yesterday in Dubuque by Detective W. J. Burns of the Pinkerton National Detective agency. He was in a rooming house under the name of Lawrence A. Swift. He has been in the Iowa city a week and has been under surveillance for two days.

He was living in moderate circumstances. The fact that he has a small chin and wears thick glasses made identification easy. When arrested Steveley admitted his identity and waived extradition. Officers O'Hara and McFarland of the city detective bureau left for Dubuque last night. They will return the prisoner today.

"My papa is away; he'll be back next Wednesday," lisped Steveley's 3 year old daughter last evening at her home, 3900 Jackson boulevard. Her mother was not in. When Mrs. Steveley arrived she had not learned of her husband's arrest, although for four weeks she had been expecting to hear of it. Steveley is 39 years old. His wife's age is 24. Mrs. Lucy M. Steveley of 145 North Homan avenue, a Christian Science reader, is Steveley's mother. She would not talk about her son's arrest.

William E. Webster, assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton agency, says Steveley presents an interesting study to the criminologist.

"He belongs to a type which cannot stop stealing no matter how hard they try," he said.

BRIDE ON FOURTEENTH FLOOR, GROOM ON FIRST AT HOTEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosich Separated at the La Salle, Owing to Lack of Baggage, for Three Hours.

Joseph Rosich of Joliet and his bride were separated at the Hotel La Salle last night. He was given a room on the first floor, while his wife was sent to the fourteenth floor with her bridemaid, Miss Annie Musich.

"We are married all right," said the groom to Clerk Earl Thornton, "but have no baggage."

"You must occupy separate rooms until you show us you are married," was the ultimatum of the clerk.

"But I want to be with my wife. What shall I do?" Rosich asked.

"Well," said Thornton, "you might send her a letter or call her on the house telephone."

Three hours afterwards Assistant Manager Hutchins happened to think of the marriage certificate and when questioned, the bride displayed one. Then she and her husband were given rooms together.

BOY'S TESTIMONY GIVES BIG AID TO BEATTIE DEFENSE

Story of More Blood Spots Upsets Procedure in Virginia Murder Trial.

DELAYS CLOSING OF CASE

Prosecution Will Call Several More Witnesses to Oppose Evidence by Youth.

ACCUSED MAN TO TAKE STAND

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Testimony by a boy witness, which came as a surprise to both defense and prosecution, today upset the whole procedure in the trial of Henry Clay Beattie Jr., who is accused of having slain his wife. The testimony was such that it gave great aid to the defense, and the prosecution announced that instead of closing its case today, as was intended, seven or eight witnesses would be called to oppose this testimony.

Alexander Robertson was the witness who upset the trial. He testified that he had observed several blood spots along the Midlothian turnpike where the crime occurred. Hitherto it had been presumed no blood spot except one, near the place where Mrs. Beattie is supposed to have died, existed.

On direct examination by Prosecutor Wendenburg, when the latter was seeking to show where the boy found a certain yellow hairpin similar to that worn by Mrs. Beattie, Robertson referred to its distance from the "first blood spot."

"Were there two blood spots?" asked Harry M. Smith Jr., counsel for the defense, in apparent surprise, and the boy not only told of a second blood spot but of several other smaller spots near it.

Upsets Prosecution Theory.

The revelation concerning the presence of more than one blood spot is in line with the contention of the defense that all blood on the road oozed from the car in which Beattie alleges his wife was shot. The prosecution's theory has been that the large blood-spot in the road at the place where Mrs. Beattie is alleged to have been killed resulted from a murder committed outside the machine and not in the seat as Henry alleges.

The prosecution has pointed out by witnesses and its statements concerning the murder that no blood was found on either running board of the car and that the dust pan underneath the car would have caught any blood that trickled through the front part of the machine from the seat and that all the blood visible had hardened on the floor of the car just beneath the steering wheel.

Robertson was summoned as a witness by the prosecution only for the purpose of saying that he had found a hairpin, but his testimony as a result of the questions of the counsel for the defense soon established that he would be an important witness for the defense and he subsequently will be called by the defense if necessary.

Two Beatties in Same Jail.

Henry C. Beattie Jr., the accused, and Paul D. Beattie, his cousin, who yesterday, on the witness stand, told of an alleged confession by Henry concerning the murder, were confined in separate cells in Chesterfield county jail tonight. Paul hitherto had been kept in confinement in Richmond in default of bond, but today after he finished on the witness stand, Judge Watson suddenly ordered his retention in jail here.

Paul Beattie's story of yesterday was not shaken in the cross-examination by counsel for the defense, but it became apparent today that the defense intends to oppose his testimony by placing on the stand the prisoner himself. Mr. Smith made this announcement casually during the day's session when John Sandifer, instead of giving expected testimony for the prosecution, gave character testimony for the defense and Prosecutor Wendenburg entered objection.

When Mr. Smith said that he intended to put the prisoner on the stand the court allowed Sandifer to proceed with his delineation of Henry C. Beattie Jr.'s character and reputation.

Paul Beattie Resumes Stand.

When court opened this morning, Paul Beattie was recalled to the stand for cross examination by the defense. In answer to questions by Mr. Smith of the defense he said he worked on the day following the murder and did not hear of it until that day.

"You are sure you didn't hear about it before it happened?" Mr. Smith asked.

"No," he answered.

"Did you meet a Mr. Booth on the bridge where you worked as a watchman?"

"Don't know the man."

"This man, Mr. E. W. Booth, I understand, discussed the murder with you and you said you did not think Henry committed the crime, because he always was devoted to his wife. Did you make this statement to him or any one else?"

"No."

"You say you bought the gun on Saturday?"

"Yes."

Urged to Keep Secret.

"Did Henry say anything about keeping the matter of the gun secret that day?"

"No, not until after the murder."

"You didn't tell any one about the gun, though under no pledge of secrecy, from Saturday till Thursday night?"

"No, I did not tell any one until then."

"Then you have made two conflicting statements in your previous testimony, as you said you told your wife Wednesday night and also Thursday."

"I never told her till Thursday night."

"Weren't you in a right bad fix when Detective McMahon found out that you bought the gun?"

"Sure, I was in a right bad fix."

"You knew from the newspapers and Wednesday that the gun had been found."

"I did not and I don't remember much about that day. I was in bad shape, especially when I learned that I had bought a gun for my own cousin."

"You say Henry Clay Beattie Jr. called you on the phone and asked you to buy the gun?"

"Yes."

"Had Henry Clay Beattie Jr. ever called you on the phone since you were married a year ago? Had he ever since then visited you socially?"

"No, but he used to phone me before I was married."

"How long had you known Beulah Binford?"

"I didn't know her, except that I took shoes and things to her from Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., for four years."

Tells of Learning Story.

"You went out on the side porch of Henry's home on Thursday night after the murder?" asked counsel for the defense.

"I did."

"He never asked you before Thursday night to 'stick by him'?"

"He had no reason to, because he didn't tell me until Thursday that he did it."

Cross examination ended here and Prosecutor Wendenburg took the witness on redirect examination. He had the witness tell of his illness at the time of the inquest and how after his first collapse he was brought back to the witness stand from a hospital.

John Sandifer, an intimate friend of the prisoner, who accompanied the latter to Harry M. Smith's home two nights after the murder, followed Paul Beattie on the witness stand for the prosecution. Sandifer testified that the relations of Henry C. Beattie Jr. with his wife were pleasant so far as he knew.

Luther Wells, who was best man at Henry Beattie's wedding, succeeded Sandifer. He testified he was with Sandifer and the prisoner after leaving the home of Lawyer Smith on the night after the murder. He said Henry said he wanted to "phone Paul Beattie." Later, he said, he went home with Henry Beattie.

"What was said?" he was asked.

"Henry told his father that Mr. Smith had all that the woman knew.' 'What woman?' asked the father, and Henry said 'the same.' 'Son, I'm sorry you are so indiscreet,' said the father as he turned away."

"What woman was meant?"

"Beulah Binford."

Identifies Shotgun Shell.

F. B. Kidd of Richmond, a hardware merchant, testified that Paul Beattie on the afternoon of July 15 bought three shells from him. The shell which W. A. Brown testified he found several yards from the scene of the murder was produced and Kidd identified it as similar to the three bought by Paul Beattie.

Thomas Owen, uncle of the dead woman, was called by the prosecution and told of the burning of Mrs. Beattie's clothing after the murder.

"How did the clothes come to be burned?" asked Prosecutor Wendenburg.

"At the suggestion of my wife."

"Do I understand then that Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was in no way responsible for having the clothes burned?" asked Mr. Smith.

"He was not."

Judge Richard S. Tuthill of Chicago, a friend of Judge Watson, arrived at the courtroom this afternoon and was given a seat beside Judge Watson.

"OFFICIAL FLIRTER" NEMESIS TO LOS ANGELES MASHERS.

Young Woman Serves City Free—Four of Those Arrested Plead Guilty and Are Fined.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Ten men, who are accused of flirting with Miss Fay Evans, the volunteer "official flirter" of the police department, have been dragged within the toils of the law in the last twenty-four hours.

Four in police court pleaded guilty to the charge and were sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or spend thirty days in jail. Another arrested on the same charge failed to appear for trial.

Five others were arrested tonight and will be arraigned in police court tomorrow morning. They gave the names of M. S. Gesberg, J. D. Chelenty, John Frank, P. S. Brownley, and Tom Milts.

This havoc among the flirtatiously inclined has been wrought by Miss Evans during the last few days and she is still on the streets, under an arrangement with Chief Sebastian and convoyed by two plain clothes men awaiting the advances of other mashers.

Miss Evans offered her services to Chief of Police Sebastian several days ago, after she had complained that mashing should be banished in Los Angeles and that insults to women on the streets should be stopped. She serves the city gratis. She says her chief thought is to quell in Los Angeles the "genus masher" and his tactics.

GORMAN WINS IN PRIMARY FOR GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND.

Son of Former Senator Will Be Democratic Nominee, Defeating the "Progressive" Faction's Candidate.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 28.—Returns from today's Democratic primary election in Maryland indicate that State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, son of the late United States Senator Gorman, will be the nominee of the Democratic party for governor at the November election.

Mr. Gorman's opponent was State Senator Blair Lee, who had the support of the so-called progressive element.

SHIFTS "SPITE WALL" BUILDER.

Mistake by Reporter Makes A. J. Ross, Instead of Theodore Freeman, the Constructor.

The $3,000 record breaking spite wall which is being built on the side of a three story brick apartment building at 527 Barry avenue is being erected by Theodore Freeman, who lives at that number. Through the stupidity of a reporter a story in last Monday's TRIBUNE gave the name of the builder as A. J. Ross, 521 Barry avenue.

Ill feeling between Freeman and Ross arose three years ago, when the men agreed to buy the lot at 527 Barry avenue for speculative purposes. Ross says he paid his half, but Freeman withdrew. In the story the foregoing statement was reversed. Mr. Ross says he fears the mistake might injure him in his business. He is a building contractor.

The spite wall is said to project within twelve feet of the Ross home, to the south of Freeman's building.

BOYS MAKE FRIEND A TORCH.

Peoria Lad Probably Fatally Burned by Companions While Playing "Indian."

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 29.—Charles Stevens, aged 9, while playing "Indian" with two companions today received burns which physicians say will be fatal. Howard Ross, aged 10 and Arthur Aleck, aged 9, conceived the idea of pouring gasoline over Stevens' body and igniting it. Neighbors were attracted by the lad's screams and before the flames were extinguished young Stevens was terribly burned.

CHARLESTON GALE FATAL TO FIFTEEN

Damage Upward of $1,000,000; Greatest Loss in Southeastern Section.

TWO DIE AT SAVANNAH.

Storm Leaves Imprint on Navy; Torpedo Boats Wrenched from Moorings.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—At least fifteen persons are dead as the result of the storm which swept this city Sunday night and Monday. The wind has died down and the water has receded.

Conservative estimates of the damage place the loss at upward of $1,000,000. Both bridges into the city have been badly damaged.

The greatest damage was suffered in the southeastern section of Charleston. The city is steadily recovering from the hurricane's havoc. A large force of laborers is cleaning the débris strewn streets. Train service is approaching the normal.

Shipping has suffered, but it is impossible to fix the loss. Scores of launches have broken away, and efforts are being exerted to catch them.

Havoc Wrought at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 29.—Springing from the sea an unheralded storm buffeted this city and adjacent territory, including ships at sea, Sunday night and Monday.

Savannah's parks are scenes of desolation as a result of the winds. Long distance telephone and all telegraph wires connecting Savannah with the outside world have been out of commission since early yesterday morning.

Two men are reported to have been drowned in Lazarette creek. At 3:50 o'clock yesterday morning the wind reached its highest velocity, ninety-six miles an hour.

The steamship Lexington of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company is aground at the mouth of the Edisto river, north of Huntington island, on which rests the remains of the old City of Savannah, wrecked there eighteen years ago. Capt. Connelly reported tonight that his ship is resting easily and that he has some hopes of floating it. Revenue cutters and tugs have gone to the assistance of the vessel. The ten passengers are all safe.

The Clyde Line steamer Apache made port today after a thrilling experience during the hurricane. Passengers wore life preservers for several hours, and were prepared to leave the ship at any moment.

No word has been received from the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company's steamer Cretan, due here Monday night.

Night of Terror on Island.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 29.—Seventy-five guests of the Hotel on the Isle of Palms spent a night of terror while the storm raged. Congregated in the lobby, the only spot immune from the wind and rain, women wept and prayed, and one man held a pistol in readiness to shoot himself to avoid drowning.

Storm Leaves Imprint on Navy.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—The storm which swept the South Atlantic Sunday night left its imprint on the navy. Six torpedo boats were wrenched from their moorings at the Charleston navy yard and tossed as toys high upon the beach by the gale. Many buildings of the yard are believed to be wrecked.

Cuba Awaits Big Storm.

HAVANA, Aug. 29.—The national observatory announces a recurrence of the storm which swept over Charleston. It is headed toward Cuba from Jacksonville and, it is believed, will strike this island in the morning.

OBITUARY.

JAMES S. CAULFIELD, a civil war veteran and one of the oldest employés in the federal building, dropped dead at his post yesterday. He had been suffering from gastritis for a long time. He served through the war with the Ninth New York cavalry, and in 1878 came to Chicago, starting as a letter carrier. Six years ago he was transferred to a clerkship in the newspaper division of the general delivery office. He was born in Ireland nearly sixty-seven years ago and came to this country just before the war, enlisting when in his teens. He has lived at 3947 Lexington street.

O. D. WETHERELL, city controller for four years, died of pneumonia at his residence in Tampa, Fla., Monday night, according to telegrams received by friends in Chicago. Mr. Wetherell was born seventy-seven years ago in New Hampshire. He was elected alderman in Chicago for the first time in 1881 and served in that capacity for eight years. While a member of the city council he was head of the finance committee. Carter Harrison the elder appointed Mr. Wetherell controller.

JOHN WESLEY JOHNSON, for many years connected with the University of Mississippi and southern preparatory schools, died yesterday morning at his summer residence, 5210 Washington avenue. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Misses May and Christine Johnson. Interment will be at Oxford, Miss.

DR. JESSE H. SMITH, capitalist, and for more than thirty years president of the Farmers' Insurance company, died at his home in Cedar Rapids, Ia. He was 74 years old.

EDWARD E. CURTIS, dean of Trinity school, Yale university, died on a steamer en route from Castine, Me., to Boston.

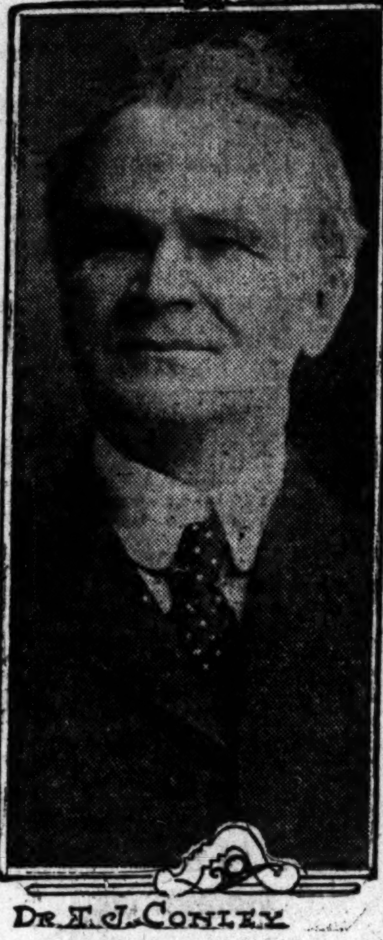
Man Who'll Take Crowe's 'Hot' Job.



DR. T. J. CONLEY

CONLEY AS COUNTY PHYSICIAN

Dr. Crowe's Successor Chosen, Report from Bartzen's Office.

ACCEPTANCE ALREADY IN.

Insanity Expert "Expecting It" Tells of Qualifications.

"It's Dr. T. J. Conley."

That is the word that went out yesterday from the office of Peter Bartzen, president of the Cook county board. Dr. Conley is said to have been selected as the successor to Dr. Thomas S. Crowe, county physician, who resigned under fire. Official announcement of the appointment is expected today.

Dr. Conley admitted last night that he expected to be appointed. He said he would accept the position.

"Mr. Bartzen asked me some time ago if I would take the position," said Dr. Conley. "I told him I would. I have not heard that my appointment has been announced, but I am expecting it."

Insanity His Special Study.

Dr. Conley has been on the consulting staff of the Cook county hospital since 1890 and is familiar with the work which he expects soon to begin. He has made a specialty of the study of insanity and considers that he is well fitted for the position of county physician and superintendent of the detention hospital.

"I have made a special study of insanity cases and have been in close touch with the work in asylums for years," said Dr. Conley. "At one time I was assistant physician at the Cook county insane asylum, which is now the Dunning institution. I also served as superintendent of the Cook county infirmary several years ago."

Physician for Twenty-six Years.

Dr. Conley resides at 2256 Kedzie boulevard and has a downtown office at 32 North State street. He has lived in Chicago since 1883 and has practiced medicine since 1885.

Dr. Crowe resigned a month ago after his name had been linked with irregularities in the civil service examination for internes for the county hospital. It was charged that the examination papers had been tampered with and the examination marks changed.

The position of county physician carries a salary of $3,500 a year.

WOMAN YOUNG UNTIL 35 YEARS.

Cambridge, Mass., Y. W. C. A. Fixes Age at Which Girl Passes Into Old Maid Classification.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—That a woman is a young woman until she is 35 has been definitely established by the rules of membership of the Y. W. C. A. building, Cambridge. The admission requirements of the home are, first, that the applicant be under 35, and that she relinquish her quarters upon reaching her thirty-fifth birthday; that she be self-supporting; that her salary be not over $12 a week, and that she be a member of the Christian association.

SANITARY BOARD ROW IS COSTLY

Public Will Have to Pay $32,887 Additional This Year for Street Lighting.

TRUSTEE CLARK TO ACT.

Says He Intends to Find Out the Real Cause of Delay in Installation.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

As a result of the sanitary district row, the public will pay an additional cost of $32,887.12 for street lighting this year.

"We are also contributing to encourage crime to just the extent to which adequate and proper street lighting would decrease crime," said Wallace G. Clark, a district trustee, yesterday. "A good arc light is better than a policeman. We have a contract with the city dated Oct. 27 last to install 10,000 arc lights in three years.

"At the rate we are going, a year will pass before we have any lights installed, although our contract specifies that we must install one third each year. We will be in default. As I was instrumental in getting that contract, I intend to find out the cause of the delay."

Mr. Clark sent a letter yesterday to Edward B. Ellicott, electrical engineer, asking for the reason of the delay and offering the aid of the majority of the board in hurrying the work. Later he intends to call a meeting of the engineering committee to consider the matter more in detail.

Two Reasons for Delay.

Mr. Ellicott probably will reply that the two chief reasons are the failure of the board to award the contract for arc lamps and the failure of the city to designate the location of the lights.

The trouble over the lamp contract was detailed in THE TRIBUNE yesterday. The contract cannot now be awarded before Nov. 27, and then it will be too late to do construction work this year.

Mr. Ellicott says that the city has been tardy in giving the location of the lamps. At the city electrical department it was explained that Mr. Carroll consulted with the aldermen from each ward before deciding upon the distribution of the lighting. Some of the aldermen have been slow.

The location of the lights already decided upon is in the districts roughly bounded as follows:

Howard avenue to Belmont avenue, Western avenue to Lake Michigan, 569 lamps.

Diversey avenue to Twelfth street, Kedzie avenue to Ashland avenue, 947 lamps.

Austin district in Thirty-fifth ward, 220 lamps.

Twelfth street to Thirty-first street, Forty-fourth avenue to Western avenue, 626 lamps.

Fourteenth street to Sixty-seventh street, State street to Lake Michigan, 996 lamps.

South of 55th street, west of Halsted: In Thirty-first ward, 509 lamps; in Thirty-second ward, 806 lamps.

Plans for the Lights.

Instead of the ordinary street arc light of about 400 candle power the district will use a flaming arc with 1,200 to 1,600 candle power. It is proposed to replace all of the 496 arc lights in the district bounded by the river, Twenty-second street, and the lake with the more powerful lamps.

The city desires to have a light every 250 feet on the well populated streets. This means a light on each street intersection and one in the middle of the block. At present the city has 12,366 arc lights in service, which it owns, and 893 rented from the Commonwealth Edison company.

The remainder of the city street lighting consists of 11,990 incandescent gas, 5,426 flat flame gas, and 7,319 gasoline lights. Add to this approximately 4,900 arc lights of the three park systems and you have all of the street and boulevard lighting of the city, except that given by the advertising signs.

The average yearly cost of operating the city owned lights, supplied with current of the sanitary district, is $38.16 a lamp. Of this amount the current costs $11.66. For the 893 lights rented from the Commonwealth Edison company the city pays annually $75 a lamp. It is proposed to replace these with lamps of the sanitary district. The yearly saving will be over $32,000 on these lights alone.

GREET TRIMBLE AT AURORA.

Neighbors Give Welcome to Man Elected Commander-in-Chief of the National G. A. R.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Harvey M. Trimble, who was elected commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at Rochester, N. Y., last Friday, was given a reception on his homecoming here tonight. The demonstration will be continued until tomorrow night, when the new commander will be received by the citizens of the county at a mass-meeting.

Wagon Hurts Man; Driver Flees.

Following the example of many chauffeurs, the driver of a wagon which struck Charles Spear, 73 years old, 1111 West Adams street, near his residence yesterday, breaking three ribs and injuring him internally, fled. The initials "R. J. P." were on the wagon.

SINCLAIR TO WRITE DRAMA

To Depict "Terrible Experiences" of Socialist in Prison.

EXPECTS TO VISIT GERMANY.

Will Seek Divorce in Delaware if the New York Suit Fails.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Upton Sinclair today returned to Arden, after his meeting in New York with his wife and Harry Kemp, the Kansas poet, who is alleged to have won the affections of Sinclair's wife.

Sinclair made known his intentions of starting work on a play which will deal with his experiences while serving time for breaking the blue laws of the state of Delaware.

"I have returned here with my 9 year old son, and my secretary to work and not to talk," Sinclair said. "I have but little to say regarding my suit for divorce. If I cannot get a decree in New York I shall sue for divorce in Delaware.

Talks of Prison Experience.

"I expect to remain in Arden until the fall, writing a play, to be called 'The Convict,' which will be produced in New York. It will be molded around the terrible experiences I encountered in the prison at New Castle, Del.

"After I finish the play I shall take my son and sail for Germany to remain for some time; this, of course, if my divorce proceedings do not interfere."

Sinclair said he did not believe his wife would contest his suit on account of the resident clause, he claiming that he is more of a resident of New York than of Delaware.

Mrs. Sinclair Tells Her Views.

New York, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—At her mother's residence in this city Mrs. Upton Sinclair talked of her ideas of marriage.

"Monogamy is the natural impulse of every woman with ideals," she said. "This is as it should be; but the fact should not tie her down to a marriage grown distasteful and unreal. A perfect marriage is as rare as a great poem or a wonderful expression of music.

"Material and physical attributes are looked upon with too much importance, just as chastity is made the basic virtue of womanhood. In reality it is the least important thing to the highest womanhood, for if a woman is pure in mind and soul her actions, no matter what, will of necessity be pure and ideal, and she can do no wrong to herself or to society.

"Mr. Sinclair brought suit against me for divorce. It does not make the slightest difference to me or to Mr. Kemp. We understand, and I am proud and happy to have known so wonderful a soul. He has the most perfect poet mind, and heart, and soul, and being that I know. I cannot say whether we will ever marry or not.

"No matter what Mr. Sinclair does in the future, I shall always think kindly of him."

TOWN FIGHTS 1,000,000 BIRDS.

Residents of Hoylton, Ill., Spend Greater Part of Night in Exterminating Pests.

Hoyleton, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—The residents of this town spent the greater part of the night in an effort to exterminate blackbirds, estimated in number at 1,000,000, which have disturbed the sleep of the villagers for many a night. Thousands of the pests were slain. All sorts of weapons were used.

SKYSCRAPER LIMIT BEGINS TOMORROW

Building Ordinance Fixing Structural Height at 200 Feet in Effect Friday.

MANY PERMITS GRANTED.

Builders in a Rush to Get Under Wire; Several Big Buildings Planned.

Tomorrow is the last day for issuance of permits for buildings 260 feet in height. On Friday, Sept. 1, the city council's amendment to the building code, by which future structures are limited to 200 feet, goes into effect.

As a result of the new code Chicago's downtown district for the last few months has witnessed the greatest building activity in years. Property owners and lessees and architects and builders have rushed plans to beat the time limit. Permits for nine skyscrapers, the estimated cost of which aggregates over $20,000,000, have been issued within the last few days.

Construction work on all buildings for which permits have been issued must begin by Saturday. Otherwise the permits will be revoked. This was the announcement of Mr. Ericsson yesterday, coupled with the explanation that such work need only be of a preliminary nature in evidence of good faith.

Many Big Structures Planned.

Two permits, one for a sixteen story building and the other for a seven story addition to a building completed a few months ago were issued yesterday. Charles A. Stevens & Bros. secured a permit for a $1,400,000 structure on the site of the present State street store. A permit for an addition to the Karpen building, Michigan avenue and Eldridge place, to cost $650,000, also was issued.

Other permits for the following buildings have been issued within the last few days:

Continental and Commercial National bank, La Salle, Quincy, Adams streets, and Fifth avenue, 260 feet high, cost $7,000,000.

Marshall Field estate, office building No. 1, Wabash avenue and Washington street, 21 stories, cost $1,600,000.

Marshall Field estate, office building No. 2, Washington and Clark streets, 21 stories, cost $2,000,000.

Henry C. Lytton, store and office building, State street and Jackson boulevard, 19 stories, cost $1,600,000.

Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad office building, South Clinton street and Jackson boulevard, 19 stories, cost $1,500,000.

Boston Store addition, State and Madison streets, 17 stories, cost $1,000,000.

Morrison hotel, Clark and Madison streets, 20 stories, cost $5,000,000.

Kesner office building, State and Quincy streets, 21 stories, cost $1,500,000.

Stevens Store Long Planned.

Charles A. Stevens & Bros. are carrying out a plan they had in view when they acquired the property just south of the Columbus Memorial building last month. A record price of $2,500 a front foot was established in the purchase at that time of the H. O. Stone property, with a frontage of twenty feet in State street and a depth of ninety feet. This was at the rate of $277.77 a square foot.

The building will extend through from State street to Wabash avenue.

ROADS STAND PAT IN SHOP FIGHT

All Lines Involved in Controversy Still Refuse to Recognize Federation.

CONFERENCE DUE TODAY.

I. C. Officials Agree to Meet Committee; Northwestern Remains Firm.

Developments in the controversy between the railroads and their shopmen yesterday indicated clearly that the prospects of strikes in the near future depend mainly on the confidence with which the employés view their chances for a victorious outcome.

The railroads have no intention of recognizing officially the federation of shop trades, although it remains to be seen whether they will adhere to this determination when the situation on the various roads reaches a final stage. While the Illinois Central, the Harriman lines, and the Northwestern have been willing to hold conferences with representatives of their employés, they have thus far stood pat on the proposition that they will deal only with the individual unions representing the various crafts.

Conference to Be Held Today.

An element of peace was injected into the situation temporarily during the day when the Illinois Central officials gave a reply to the committee representing the federated shopmen and announced that a conference with the committee would be held today. The announcement, however, gave no sign of any intention to conduct negotiations with the federation.

"I have received a communication from the international officers asking for a conference," said W. L. Park, vice president and general manager of the Illinois Central, in a statement issued from his office late in the day. "I have said to them that we will meet accredited representatives of the organizations with which we have contracts."

This information was communicated to the representatives of the various shop crafts in conference at the office of Secretary W. F. Kramer of the blacksmiths' brotherhood, and the committee prepared for a conference to be held at 2 p. m. today. Assistant General Manager T. J. Foley will represent the road at the conference, which probably will be held at the Illinois Central offices.

Northwestern Stands Firm.

No time was lost by the officials of the Chicago and Northwestern railway in stating their attitude concerning the proposition to recognize the federation. Following the presentation of a notice to the motive power officials that the shop crafts intended presenting demands for higher wages and changes in working conditions at the expiration of thirty days, General Manager W. D. Cantillon and F. T. Bentley, assistant superintendent of motive power, met a committee representing the five principal classes of shop men in the morning and made it clear that the road would not recognize the federation.

Louis Presemble, chairman of the machinists' organization on the Northwestern, acted as chairman of the employés' committee.

Statement by Aishton.

Following the meeting the following statement was given out by Vice President R. H. Aishton:

"The general manager and assistant superintendent of motive power met with five employés of various crafts of the mechanical department employed at the Chicago shops of this company this morning, and discussed with them whether the Chicago and Northwestern railway would make contracts with a federated committee representing all trades and crafts engaged in the shops of this company, or as heretofore, with committees of their employés representing each particular craft.

"The arguments for and against each particular method were gone into in detail and the attitude of the company as distinctly favoring the making and maintenance of contracts with committees representing the particular trades or crafts affected, as well as the desire for maintenance of the business and contract relations heretofore existing with our employés in the various trades, was clearly outlined to the employés present."

"BEAR" INVADES NILES CENTER; CONSTABLE ATTACKS IT.

Huge Animal Dashes Through Street —As Officer "Tears It to Pieces" Village Crowd Gasps.

The advance of civilization in Niles Center received a rude jolt yesterday afternoon when a large shaggy grizzly "bear" lumbered down Oakton street, the main thoroughfare, and drove all the residents of the village to cover. That is, all but Constable John Howes, representing the police department and the village board in all their majesty.

A tame bear of the dancing variety usually attended by dark skinned foreigners had appeared in Niles Center on Monday to the great delight of the boys of the village.

Yesterday, as Constable Howes stood in front of the State bank, a cloud of dust in the main street heralded the approach of the second bear.

The usual crowd of philosophers at Siegel's barber shop sought the shelter of the shop as the huge animal approached and headed for their midst.

Everybody in sight followed suit and the street was deserted save for Constable Howes. The "bear" galloped on steadily, occasionally stopping to roll in the dusty street. The gallant Howes stepped into the middle of the street and the crowd at the barber shop gasped and held its breath.

The "bear" just then was enjoying a roll in the dust and failed to take note of the approach of Niles Center's "finest." Howes inspected the beast from all quarters, then kicked the huge animal. A canine yelp answered him and he laid violent hands on the "bear," tearing loose a handful of oakum.

After a considerable quantity of the latter article had been removed the "bear" was identified as "Jack," the St. Bernard dog owned by Robert Siegel. The boys of Niles Center are now in hiding with Constable Howes hot on the trail.

FARMER GRABS 'HORSE THIEVES'

Fred Voss Hears Burglar Alarm, Fires Shotgun at Couple, Handcuffs Them, and Guards Them Till Morning.

Fred Voss, who has a farm near Elmhurst, awoke at 2 o'clock in the morning, when he heard the burglar alarm connected with his stable door. He grabbed a shotgun, slipped up close to two men armed with an electric flash lamp, and let drive with both barrels.

They ran. He gave chase, caught them, handcuffed them, and stood guard over the two until morning.

Then he had them locked up in the county jail at Wheaton on a charge of horse stealing. Their names are J. Moore and S. Foster. This was on Sunday. Mr. Voss sought more evidence against them yesterday.

"SHOP GIRLS WHO FLED TO SAFETY"

Three hundred girls descended from the eighth and ninth floors of the Patten building to safety yesterday afternoon. The girls were carried down elevators by heroic elevator men, guided down smoke filled staircases, and many of them climbed the narrow fire escapes past the flames which raged on the fourth floor.

NEAT, EVEN FINICKY, IN SUICIDE

G. A. Wastjer Arranges Cardboard, Pitcher, and Towel First

THEN HE SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Letters Give Directions to Hotel Manager and Undertaker.

Remembering even in his plans of self-destruction his habitual neatness, George A. Wastjer arranged his room in the Drexel Arms hotel yesterday so that it would not be mussed up when he committed suicide. Completing his careful preparations, he shot himself in the head.

He was a traveling salesman for Wallace & Foster, wholesale dealers in slippers. The cause for his act probably will be learned today when three letters addressed to relatives will be opened at the coroner's inquest.

Plans for Sanitary Scene.

Before killing himself, Wastjer placed cardboard over the bedspread. On the floor at the foot of the bed he put a large pitcher. Then he lay down, placed his head between the bars of the footboard, resting his neck upon a large towel. He was found at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by a maid who went to make up the room.

The suicide left five letters. One of them asked the manager of the hotel to notify a brother, Joseph Wastjer, at Evansville, Ind., and pinned to it was a $5 bill to defray the expense.

Another letter was addressed to Charles H. Perrigo, an undertaker at 3918 Cottage Grove avenue. The letter contained $50 for a "plain burial." Wastjer also requested that he be dressed in the ordinary suit of clothes which he left hanging on a chair.

Mystery to Two Brothers.

His brother at Evansville is secretary of the Indiana Tie company. He underwent an operation yesterday in a hospital there. Another brother, Fred, formerly was manager of the New Grand theater at Evansville. Relatives can find no explanation for the suicide.

DESERTED AT BABY'S BIRTH, ARTISTS' MODEL DIES; INQUIRY

Rita Le Roy, Too Proud to Return Home, Struggles a While, Then Takes "Easiest Way" Until the End.

Rita Le Roy, once an artists' model, died early yesterday morning at the Chicago Policlinic hospital a few minutes after being taken there. The young woman was without money and had been deserted. She was 22 years old and is thought to have been suffering from blood poisoning.

She eloped from the home of her father, William L. Felkner, 2253 Addison street, with a Cuban, who deserted her a short time after the birth of her baby. The girl was too proud to return home. She worked as an artists' model. The baby was given to acquaintances on the south side, but the identity of those caring for it is not known.

Some time ago she gave up the struggle for an existence and went to live at the Tremont hotel as the wife of an O. L. Alexander. She was found there yesterday feebly rapping on the wall for aid.

Unconscious at the hospital, she revived sufficiently to ask for her child. Then it was that the hospital authorities learned her name.

The mother, who had not seen her daughter or heard of her for years, was told of the tragedy last night. "Things might have been different," she said, "but my child would not be like other girls."

SUES WHEN GOAT'S MILK FAILS.

Cicero Man Wants Back $9.75 He Paid for Animal to Feed Baby Infant Now Ill.

Vaclav Novotny, Thirty-second street and Austin avenue, Cicero, brought suit in Morton Park yesterday against Joseph Osmanski, 3140 South Fifty-third avenue, for $9.75 which he paid Osmanski for a goat that failed to give milk. Novotny wanted the goat's milk for his baby. His wife worked with the goat three hours without success. The child was given cow's milk and became ill.

BEMIS GIVES OUT NICE JOBS; HIRES AIDS IN PHONE QUIZ.

Two Assistants Will Cost $75 a Day—Ald. Twigg Approves—Council Committeemen Express Surprise.

Edward W. Bemis, who gets $50 a day while investigating the affairs of the Chicago Telephone company for the city, hired two assistants yesterday. One also will be paid $50 a day. The other will get $25. They are James Hall, manager of a firm of public accountants, and Andrew Sangster, one of Hall's employés.

The two men were hired by Mr. Bemis after being approved by Ald. Charles Twigg, chairman of the council gas, oil, and electric light committee.

"What will Mr. Hall do?" Mr. Bemis was asked yesterday.

"O, he will not do very much," replied the city's expert. "He will direct the study of the accounts of the company. Mr. Sangster will do most of the work of investigating the operating and purchasing accounts."

Mr. Bemis said Mr. Hall would not devote all of his time to the work. He was unable to tell how long either of the men would be employed.

PLAN STRIKE; GET SUSPENDED.

Women Attendants at Elgin State Hospital Plot Walkout—Claim Scant Food and Short Meal Hours.

Plans of seven women attendants at the Elgin state hospital to strike last night because they were not allowed one day off each week were frustrated by their being suspended from the state service. They were Misses Julia Doty, Ida Maxwell, Elizabeth Schmidt, Ruth Gilliam, Beulah Metzger, and Hattie Setzekorn and Mrs. Lilliette Winn. Two other women attendants, Misses Clara Woods and Sadie Hadden, were suspended last night by Dr. Sidney D. Wilgus, superintendent of the hospital, for refusal to appear for duty on time. They charged that they did not get enough to eat or enough time to take their meals.

M'WEENY MAKES GAMBLING RAID

His Detectives Swoop Down on Keystone Hotel and Arrest 28 Persons.

MANY OTHERS ESCAPED.

Brolaski Sues Mont Tennes for $25,000 Libel on Alleged Graft Charge.

The first gambling raid since Tim Murphy started his fight against Mont Tennes and declared 300 poolrooms and handbooks were being run in the city was made last night.

Twenty-seven negroes and one white man were taken when detectives swooped down on the Keystone hotel, 3022 State street. About the same number escaped, owing to the small force of raiders.

Gambling of all descriptions has been going on in this place, a saloon operated by John Frey, for years. The players generally considered themselves immune from arrest because of the neighborhood impression that the house was "protected." Yesterday, however, Chief McWeeny directed Detective Sergeants William L. Bush, George Murphy, and Jacob Harwich to investigate.

The detectives rushed through the saloon and the adjoining billiard room, and reached the door leading to the extreme rear, where the gambling operations are carried on, just as the thirty or more players were in a mêlée grabbing the stakes. Harwich got a fair portion of it. Harry Hempstead was arrested as the "keeper."

Gamblers generally are awaiting the word to close. The situation has become tense and it is expected that temporarily they may be advised to shut down tight.

Tennes Sued by Brolaski.

Suit was filed in the circuit court during the day for $25,000 damages against Tennes by Harry Brolaski. Tennes, in a statement, declared that Brolaski could be bought and made other charges, which the latter says are libelous.

Attorney Percival Steele, representing Brolaski, declared that the specific charges will be set up in the declaration, which will be filed in a few days.

"Brolaski was called a grafter by Tennes, and I think he has good grounds for a suit," said Mr. Steele. "My client has been slandered, and his character defamed. When I file the declaration in a few days, the specific charges will be set out."

TO INVESTIGATE PAYNE BOMB.

Covington, Ky., Aug. 29.—The Kenton county grand jury, tomorrow will take up the question of the blowing up of the summer residence of John A. Payne at Chrystal Lake, Ky., and will in all probability use its efforts to have Tim Murphy, Payne, and Mont Tennes come to Covington from Chicago and appear before it.

Murphy is said to have stated that one of these men knows who blew up Payne's home and why it was done. That explosion caused a rigid examination by the local authorities. They say that two men were seen near it just before the explosion occurred.

However, no arrests ever have been made. The local court will issue summonses for the three Chicago men.

PLUMBERS' SUPPLY HOUSES AID WARFARE WITH MONEY, CHARGE

Nothing Offered to Substantiate Alleged Plot—Another Report Says Architects Are Threatened.

Certain plumbing supply houses and master plumbers who own combination shops—those doing both plumbing and steamfitting—were charged yesterday with contributing $5,000 a week to the plumbers' union to enable it to wage continual warfare against the International Association of Steamfitters.

Nothing was offered to substantiate the alleged plot.

Official investigation into the accusations will be made by the Master Plumbers' association on Friday, when it will hold a special meeting for that purpose. Dissension exists between some.

Further charges were made that a representative of the combination shops has been calling on architects and announcing that trouble will be experienced on all jobs unless "certain" combination shops are awarded the plumbing and steamfitting contracts.

Efforts to settle the controversy between the plumbers and steamfitters have practically been abandoned.

Round About Chicago.

A Ravinia Orgy.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

OLD man Hilkens didn't want to go. He said it was all right for young fellows like Slosher and Bowler and Bilkins to go joy riding up the north shore and drink a lot of things they shouldn't and have people talk about them, but it wouldn't do for him. Hilkens had a family and a lovely character and position. He had to think about those things.

Bilkins wanted Hilkens to go, but he had to admit that Hilkens was right in recognizing the fact that it was going to be an awful damp and squally night on the sea that night, that the waves would be running mountain high and that it would be no place for a nervous lady. Still Bilkins said that Hilkens, while extremely well and favorably known on the south side, had never been north of the river in his life.

Bilkins went on to state that his wife had gone away for a month and that he proposed to give a regular party that would have red fire burning all around the edge. He said his idea was to go up to Ravinia where he could drink without eighteen old friends and neighbors jumping hurdles all the way to the telegraph office to send night letters regarding the fact to the absent Mrs. Bilkins.

Hilkens and the others had never been up to Ravinia, but they had no doubt but what they could go as far as they liked in that foreign seaport, and they could sit there with a spotlight turned on them for twenty-four hours. They could drink every known form of alcoholic beverage and nobody would talk about it. Old man Hilkens grumbled a good deal about getting so far away from the loop, the center of civilization, but finally surrendered, and the glad party speeded in record time to the far north.

It was a long ride to Ravinia and they made no stops. Old man Hilkens said he was in possession of the finest thirst he had had since the great drought of '73, and he didn't want to waste it. He wanted to save that thirst for Ravinia. He had heard of Ravinia for years, but had never been up there. He wanted to commemorate his first appearance by being in grand training.

The south side expedition landed in triumph in Ravinia and made a combined rush to the spot where they saw tables, and lights, and people. Bowler wanted to sit down at a table outdoors. Old Man Hilkens said he wouldn't insult his extra fine thirst in that manner. He was going to take that thirst right into the café and lead it gently but firmly by the hand up to the bar and bid it go as far as it liked.

The pilgrims dashed into the barroom and piled up against the bar. The bartender asked them what it would be.

"A gin fizz, and then make three more while I am drinking the first," shouted Old Man Hilkens.

"Make mine a stein of the coldest, foamiest beer ever brewed," said Slosher. "Imported, too; there's nothing too good for this thirst."

Bilkins ordered a cocktail, and Bowler deliberated.

"What'll you have, sir?" asked the polite bartender.

"Say, hurry up, Bowler," snapped Old Man Hilkens; "you're keeping everybody waiting."

"Rye highball with plain water," demanded Bowler finally.

"I'm sorry, gentlemen," said the bartender pleasantly, "but only soft drinks are served in Ravinia."

Old Man Hilkens almost fainted and Slosher grasped the edge of the bar to keep from falling over backward.

"What!" demanded the refugees from the south side in chorus.

"Just soft drinks," repeated the bartender gently. "Sarsaparilla, lemon, orange, and strawberry pop; sarsaparilla, ginger ale, root beer, and soda water, all flavors."

"Stand back, men, give me air," gasped old man Hilkens. He thought desperately for two minutes and then in a hoarse whisper said:

"They can't fool me. They've got it around here somewhere. Look at that orchestra down there. Do you suppose those fellows can play without having their beer. No! Such a thing has never happened yet, and won't in 2,000,000 years. Wait until the intermission and then trail the band. They've got a blind pig around here somewhere."

◆

The joy riders sat down and passed a long, thirsty hour waiting for the intermission. Slosher whispered he could see beautiful palm trees and great birds of brilliant plumage darting among the orchid flowers, and Bilkins begged the others to let him throw himself off the raft and into the mouths of the hideous sharks which had followed them ever since the ship went down.

But finally the intermission came and the orchestra arose as one man and hastily disappeared in the woods.

"Come on, boys," whispered old man Hilkens, "the scent is warm and the quarry not far off. If necessary form a line and beat the bushes. We'll drive 'em to the road outside the park, and, then, when they produce their hidden treasure, jump in and wrest it from them."

The south side fugitives trailed four members of the band down a winding path and through the woods.

"We're on the right trail," said old man Hilkens, "that man on the outside is carrying a bag. That's it."

The members of the orchestra stopped and one of them said:

"This blace vill do; ve are now far away from der crowdt. No one vill inderrudpt."

"I told you so," said old man Hilkens under his breath. "But make no move yet. We might frighten them away. Wait."

◆

The orchestra paused and the man with a bag opened it. Slosher started to leap forward, but old man Hilkens grasped his arm and held him back.

"Not so sudden, fool," he gasped, "he'll think we're the Ravinia police force and they will be scared and drop the bottle. Wait until he pours out the drinks and then we'll all approach gently."

"Undt notice, gentlemen," the musician who had opened the bag was saying. "I will blay again the note shust as I blayed idt tonight, undt you shall see whether or not it was a bum note. I shall brove I blayed the music as it was written."

"It's a French horn," gasped old man Hilkens. "Fly for your lives."

The south side delegation returned slowly to the barroom of the casino and conferred. Then old man Hilkens approached the bar and asked, "Is tnere a physician handy?"

"Yes, sir," said the bartender in surprise.

"And a police force?"

"One of the gate men is a special officer," said the bartender. "He has a regular star on his left suspender."

"And Fort Sheridan is only a few miles north?"

"Only a few miles," replied the bartender.

"And there is a regiment of infantry there and some cavalry?"

"Yes, sir," answered the bartender.

"All right, then," said old man Hilkens, "give us three lemon pops and a sarsaparilla cocktail. We never did this before and we don't know how we're going to act."

Plan Winona Improvement.

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—After formulating a plan to raise $1,000,000 during the year for financing and improvement of the property the Winona Lake Bible conference tonight ended its seventeenth annual session.

Tomorrow will mark the opening of the International Lyceum association, which will hold what is designated as a model Chautauqua. Of the 700 members of the association 500 have promised to attend.

The plans for the Bible conference include a visiting of many of the principal cities of the United States by a group of men who will present the claims of the conferences and solicit financial and moral support. William Jennings Bryan, the Rev. George R. Stuart, Cleveland, Tenn.; the Rev. William A. Sunday, Winona; H. J. Heinz, Pittsburg, and J. M. Studebaker, South Bend, Ind., are among the men who have agreed to join the party.

The organization of the governing body has placed the conference under the authority of the Presbyterian domination. This action was indorsed at the special gatherings of the different denominational bodies which have met during the conference. The program of future conferences is to be kept interdenominational in character as at present.

"Every family has in it its 'black sheep,'" said Bishop W. A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal church, who preached at the most largely attended service of the day.

"It is not always safe," he said, "to erect a family tree; it will probably turn out to be a bush. I do not deny the potency of heredity, but I deny its omnipotence. It is as easy for some persons to be mean as it is for to smell or water to fall from leaves, yet I have known such persons, in spite of their tendency, to become virtuous for God.

"Childless women are sometimes afraid to adopt foundling children. They say you cannot tell the stock they come from. There is more in nursing and training than in borning. Ninety-five per cent of children brought from anywhere and nowhere come out, under right training, Godswhere.

"I have no patience with a grown woman who will kiss a dog. It is inhumane as well as inhuman to put a dog in the sanctuary of a baby. If there was no other influence at work except ancestry the world couldn't live thirty minutes. The greatest factors in human character are self and God. Every human being is a fresh creation of God. No individuality can be patented. Heredity and environment count for much, but they can be mastered."

"It is not a question of being busy, whether one is a country or a city pastor," said the Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago in his address to the ministers. "Every man has enough to do. It is a question of discrimination. There is more activity in a shepherd chasing a railroad train than in a six cylinder auto car, but it is not wisely directed.

"Avoid being imitators of great men. Every imitator is a failure. Catch the spirit of a great man, but avoid his mannerism."

Consecration of New Bishop.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—The Rev. John E. Gunn, pastor of the Sacred Heart church of this city, was consecrated today as the Roman Catholic bishop of Natchez by Archbishop Blenk of New Orleans, assisted by six bishops and by thirteen other ecclesiastics. Thirty priests, representing the parishes of the south, participated in the mass.

Women in the congregation wore mantillas of various hues. Assistant priests were clad in black gowns and white surplices. The consecrating prelate wore purple. The bishop-elect was clothed in white. Bishops were clad in full pontificals and the archbishop mitred and sceptered, was vested in all the magnificense of his office.

The consecration service was entirely in Latin, with the exception of the sermon preached in English by Bishop Kelley of Savannah.

After the ceremony the new bishop entertained the visiting clergy at dinner. Tonight he held a public reception, at which $5,000, subscribed principally by members of the parish, was presented to him.

Bishop Gunn succeeds the late Rt. Rev. Thomas Heslin. He was ordained in Rome on Aug. 24, 1884, and for several years taught in the Marist House of Studies in Washington. He came to Atlanta as pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart in 1899 and as president of Marist college, which he founded. He was appointed bishop on June 29 last.

It was unofficially announced today that Father George Rapier, now president of the Marist college, will succeed Bishop Gunn as superior of the Catholic community in Atlanta.

Lady Cook Denies Fight in League.

Lady Cook, formerly Miss Tennessee Claflin of Chicago, asserted yesterday that the report of an upheaval in suffraget circles due to her arrival in Chicago was unfounded. She is at the Blackstone hotel. Lady Cook has come to open a country wide lecture tour, she said. She insisted that there was no factional fight in the Race Betterment league which she founded during a recent visit to Chicago.

The date for Lady Cook's opening lecture has not been set, nor has the place been selected. There has been a slight hitch in her original plan to speak from the platform of the Auditorium theater, and she will probably appear at Orchestra hall in about two weeks.

"The report that I came here to settle some dispute in the Race Betterment league is not true," she said. "Unfortunately there has been a little controversy over money matters, but it is too small to mention. The controversy lies between Mrs. Minona S. Jones, president of the league, and Mrs. Mary Engler and Mrs. Frances Shaw, deposed officers of the league, who say the $1,000 endowment from Lady Cook has been handled entirely by Mrs. Jones, and that irregularities appear in the management.

"Mrs. Jones has complete charge of the money," said Lady Cook. "I talked with her today, and I think she is using it properly. There will be no hearing."

Then Lady Cook told of her plans to lecture in every large city from New York to San Francisco.

"I am going to fight the teachings of the ministers, who tell us that we are born in sin and raised in iniquity," she said.

Lady Cook was not feeling well after spending a night on the train and a night disturbed by the noise of the Illinois Central trains. She said she intended going to the country for a few days before beginning work on her lecture.

Suffragets Tear Down Bills.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—In the campaign which the suffragets are carrying on for a constitutional amendment granting suffrage to woman, the anti-suffragist organizations in and about San Francisco find it impossible even to post a placard announcing the existence of their societies.

Every sign which the "antis" put up is torn down and destroyed. In several cases the suffragists have threatened to boycott merchants who permit the signs to be exhibited in their windows. One druggist has been nearly driven out of business because he persisted in displaying one of the obnoxious posters.

Among the leaders in the movement to thwart the suffragists are Mrs. William L. Duff, Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. C. L. Goddard, Mrs. M. C. Sloss, Mrs. John Garber, Mrs. Thomas Bacon, Mrs. C. M. Galey, Mrs. Anson Blake, Mrs. Isaac Requa, and Mrs. Charles Blake.

Council Fights Woman Mayor.

Hunnewell, Kas., Aug. 29.—The councilmen of Hunnewell have obtained their "revenge" over Mrs. Ella Wilson, Hunnewell's woman mayor, who has humbled the city fathers in a number of conflicts. The councilmen have allowed the time for levying taxes for next year's expenses to expire without making a levy. As a result Mrs. Wilson faces the serious problem of how to obtain enough money to pay the town's 1912 running expenses.

Mrs. Wilson was visibly disturbed today, but she declared her confidence in being able to adjust the situation. She said she was considering the institution of ouster suits against the council, using the ground of negligence as a basis.

Mrs. Wilson pointed out that there was still a way to secure the revenue by the collection of a poll tax, but the council must pass an ordinance before this can be done, and the council is firm and refuses to act.

Letters and Answers.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

He Is Susceptible.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a young man of 27. For a number of years I have been hopelessly in love with a young lady who recently left this city. Although I had no encouragement I nevertheless was surprised and shocked to hear of her engagement to another man. Since then I have met a charming grass widow whom I think has caught my heart in the rebound. Would it be right to ask the widow to marry me after loving the first one so long? Should I tell her the story of my lost love? "FREDDY."

You seem to be extremely susceptible to feminine charms. You had better not be in a hurry to be on with the new love.

* *

Cheer Up and Write.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a blonde of 22 and have been keeping company with a young man four years my senior, whom I met a year ago. He went away for two weeks, in which time he corresponded with me frequently. I received the last letter from him, but before I could answer it he came home. He then went away again and left his address for me with his mother. Should I write to him as if I was answering his last letter or wait until he writes to me, as he has gone to a different town. BLUE EYES."

Write to him, Blue Eyes.

Here's a Bashful Conductor.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a street car conductor. I am considered very handsome, especially by the girls, who persist in riding on my car just to see me. Now, Miss Libbey, I am very bashful and whenever these girls are on my car I am so embarrassed I forget my duties and therefore have many complaints from the other passengers. I want you to tell me if it would be proper for me to tell these girls not to ride on my car any more and just what I should say to them. I do not see why I am so popular, for I never encourage the girls at all. POPULARITY."

The street car company probably does not empower you to reject passengers. Ignore the girls. It is possible, you know, that they realise your foolish conceit and are having fun out of the situation.

* *

She Bleaches Her Hair.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been keeping company for two years with a handsome young girl whom I dearly love. She has a sweet nature, winning ways, and is real sociable. Now there is only one thing that prevents me from marrying her, and that is that she bleaches her hair. I have told her about it many times, but she pays no attention. This is her only fault. ART."

Tell her you are sure she would be much prettier with her hair its natural color and that you would love her better. If that doesn't have any effect the inference, I am afraid, would be that the young woman cares more for her bleached locks than for your urgent wishes in the matter.

Invite Him to Call.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 21 and am keeping company with a man of the same age whom I have known for over four years, but I am not engaged to him. I know he loves me only because he does not go out with any other girls. The other day we quarreled. He told me I looked as if I wanted a kiss. I became so angry that on parting I did not tell him to call again. Now, I love him dearly and would like to know if there would be anything wrong in my sending him a note telling him to call on a certain evening, as I could never learn to love another. PEARL."

Ask him to come to see you. You were right to forbid the kiss.

Did She Do Wrong?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am greatly interested—rather, in love—with a young man of 26 who is a few years my senior. He has many admirers, but when I meet him at parties and dances he pays me more attention than to any other girl. Although loving him, I always have treated him coldly. He had asked me out several times, and when we were out the seventh time he insisted on knowing whether I really cared for him, saying he must know, as I treated him so coldly. Fearing I would lose him, I told him I returned his affections, if any he had for me. Since then he treats me rather coldly. I have several admirers, but cannot get interested in any of them. I even refuse to go out with them when asked. Did I do wrong in telling him I cared for him when he insisted on knowing? ANXIOUS."

Don't feel badly about this affair. Go out with the nice men who ask you and I am sure in a short time you will have forgotten the exceedingly unpleasant young man.

Economical Housekeeping.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

The Egg Plant or Melongina.

Note: It is not necessary to soak egg plant in salt and water before cooking it.

IT is an interesting thing that there should be scores of recipes for cooking a vegetable which has such a limited popularity as the egg plant. Perhaps the ancient prejudice of the English has had a greater influence in checking its use than might be believed.

The old English name for this plant was "Raging or Mad Apple," and it was said that "doubtless these apples have a mischievous qualitie, the use whereof is utterly to be forsaken."

Another name for this plant is Guinea squash. It is a native of Africa.

One of our best household magazines gave, in a recent issue, two pages to the "Egg Plant as the Hindus Cook It," a valuable article mostly made up of recipes, and by a native of India. The following is the introduction to the recipes: "The egg plant is not as popular in this country as it would be if American cooks knew how to prepare it in a variety of tempting ways. As it is, the few who do appreciate this toothsome member of the nightshade family know how to cook it other than to slice and fry it, either breaded or plain. Egg plant is commonly used in India as an article of diet, and the cooks of the coral strand work it up into a number of delectably dainty dishes."

Yet by referring to the files of this same magazine we find that in 1887 and 1888 it was publishing a number of egg plant recipes, and thirty years earlier than this Miss Leslie gives two recipes for cooking it, although cook books in those days gave few vegetable recipes as compared with today. One of her recipes is for the fried egg plant, and she advises that it be twice dipped in the eggs and twice in the crumbs. She not only adds salt but pepper in preparing the plant for an hour before frying.

Her second recipe is for baked egg plant, and the Hindu above quoted says in his first recipe, "Baked or Boiled Egg Plant," that "a person does not know what the real flavor of an egg plant is until he has eaten it baked." This is his further advice: "Cook the egg plant whole, without removing the skin. It may either be boiled in sufficient water to cover it or baked in the oven. The latter method is much to be preferred, since it preserves all the delicate flavor of the vegetable. . . . When it is perfectly cooked, so a fork pierces right through the soft pulp, remove the skin, just as you would peel a baked potato. Mash the pulp with a potato masher, or preferably run it through a food chopper. This will form the foundation of a number of dishes. Melt one spoonful of butter in a frying pan and put the mashed egg plant pulp in this. Season with pepper and salt to suit the taste and let cook until all the moisture has evaporated and the egg plant shows a tendency to stick to the bottom of the pan and brown. Arrange in a mound and garnish with eggs, first boiled, then fried. To make them, boil as many eggs as desired until hard, then remove the shells, cut them in slices about a quarter of an inch thick, and fry in butter a golden brown. Or you may substitute boiled rice in lieu of the eggs."

The other recipes given by Saint Nihal Singh are: Egg plant with onions, egg plant fritters, egg plant patties, fried egg plant slices, escalloped egg plant, broiled egg plant, sautéd egg plant, stuffed egg plant, egg plant dressing, egg plant soufflé, egg plant omelet, egg plant loaf, sautéd egg plant with gravy.

It is interesting and revolutionary to have the following prohibition under fried egg plant slices: "Do not put the egg plant in salt and water, as it destroys the fine flavor and is not at all necessary. This practice began when egg plant was first raised in America. Those of the occident conceived the idea that because egg plant belonged to the nightshade family it might have poisonous properties which could be drawn out with salt. These people pointed to the brown liquor that they poured away as proof of the necessity of salt and water, but as a matter of fact they were throwing out the very soul of the egg plant. They did not consider that the potato, likewise, is a nightshade. Be that as it may, you lose the essence of the vegetable by this antiquated process. Dip the sliced egg plant either in egg and bread or cracker crumbs, or in batter, and fry in enough fat to keep it from sticking to the bottom of the pan."

Of course it is a saving of time as well as nutriment to pare and cook it without the intermediary process.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

Give Your Hands a Chance.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.]

I HAVE received a number of letters on the subject of massaging the hands. One woman writes me that her hands are wrinkled and red, the joints large and knotty, and asks if the warm olive oil bath which I have recommended to some one else will benefit her.

It surely will. I knew a woman who had a bad case of rheumatism in her finger and the joints were beginning to swell and look ugly. Each night she bathed them in warm olive oil, allowing her fingers to be immersed in the bowl for at least ten minutes, all the while rubbing her hands and fingers carefully. She soon found that the swelling and ugliness had entirely disappeared.

Few women have nails that are nicely shaped, and unless they patronize the manicurist most women usually allow the cuticle to grow around the nails, cutting the nails instead of filing them. This makes them thick and brittle. Look at the nails of the man who is always tampering with them with his pocket knife and you will find them thick and usually corrugated, even if they are scrupulously clean.

If the fingers are short and stubby I advise wearing thimbles over their ends at night, drawing over loose gloves to keep them on. However, much can be done with the finger tips by massage. There is no part of the body that can be so easily molded and put into proper shape and no part of the body that is more universally neglected. Few women dry their hands properly, and they are not particular about the soap they use.

Even those women who are careful of the kind of soap they put on their faces do not scruple to put "any old kind" upon their hands. Unless they become badly chapped and roughened they never use cream or unguents of any kind. They wash their hands many times a day with strong alkali soap and then wonder why they look so shriveled and old when every bit of the natural oil has been washed out of them—and before it has time to form again the hard water and soap are used once again.

Try putting a little cold cream upon the hands and rubbing it in well, then wiping off all superfluous grease after each washing, and see how quickly they will improve if you do nothing else to them.

For the woman with beautiful hands there is a pretty fad that will enhance their beauty. It is wearing a tiny piece of court plaster on the back of the hand near the little finger. This brings out the whiteness and calls attention to the shape, but be sure your hands are above reproach before attempting this little foible.

◆

Remember the adage of Mme. Recamier: "Three things contribute most to beauty. The first is cleanliness, the second is cleanliness, and the third is cleanliness."

Lillian Russell's Answers.

MISS R.: Practice the following exercise to develop the calf of the leg: Sit in a chair, place the foot flat on the floor; then press forward, throwing the weight on the ball of the foot; press hard against the floor. Relax the foot and repeat many times. Do not wear shoes while doing this exercise. If you will send me stamped, self-addressed envelope and again ask for it I will send you instructions for the treatment by which a number of my friends develop their bust.

◆

BESS AND KITTY: I do not believe in taking internal remedies for developing the bust. More can be done by massage, which should always be gently performed, and with a circular upward motion. Nothing is better than cocoa butter. Deep breathing exercises are also good for development of the bust.

◆

B. M. D.: Yes, indeed, there is hope for you. If you are a healthy woman there is no reason why you should not have a well developed bust. If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and again ask for it I will send instructions for the treatments which a number of my friends have used for developing the bust.

◆

FRIEDA: The eyelashes should be brushed daily, the strokes turning upward so as to curl them. A little almond oil or vaseline is placed on the finger tip the lid lifted with the other hand and the little rim of delicate hairs touched several times, going backward and forward. Cocoa butter, melted and applied with the fingers is also used. This is a great stimulant and will improve the most stubborn lashes unless the physical condition is greated depleted. If you care for it and will send me a note with your stamped, self-addressed envelope asking me for it I will be happy to send you the recipe for the hair curling fluid.

Music and the Drama.

News of the Theaters.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

AT McVICKER'S they have an abnormal capacity for enjoying, and when so enjoyable an entertainment as "The Deep Purple" is available there is no gladder place of its kind on earth. The audiences at the Princess last season liked the play, restraining the evidences of their pleasure more or less, but at McVicker's there is tumult with every florid line and situation. This condition may account for a lack of the suavity which distingushed prevous performances. Mr. Corrigan is there, however, repeating his delightful impersonation of the rhetorical bandit and dilating the improbable but fascinating figures of speech with his skillful delivery. His vivid preliminary to the slaughter of the "badger" seems quite plausible as he recites it. "I'm going to change my ghost," says he, "that last baggagemaster I got troubles me a little o' nights, but I could sleep sound forever with a hundred of your wraiths on my pillow." They are all expert at sinister repartee and what is known as "parting shots." It is a clever underworld that Mr. Mizner and Mr. Armstrong portray—the hiding place of the lost art of conversation.

Robert Cain, a perfervid substitute for the late Mr. Finney as the sinuous confidence man, is so wicked that he could be hung merely for the way he looks at his watch. He acts even with his ears. Miss Madeleine Louis is the trustful heroine, pretty and tremulous, and is much easier to become interested in than her predecessor, name forgot. As "Pop" Clark, Frank Currier uses only half the oil that Mr. Ferguson did, and so is more real and less effective. Miss Anne Sutherland bestows upon the distraught Frisco Kate comliness and some sincerity; but the task of succeeding Miss Ada Dwyer in that picturesque rôle is not to be accomplished. In Richard Bennett's place Edwin Arden appears, and is fine as the youthful, ebullient, and foolhardy engineer. Mr. Corrigan and Mr. Cain leave the company Thursday—Mr. Corrigan to be followed by Walter Edwards.

A new b'gosh drama called "Cy Whitteker's Place" is being put together in the east for use at the Whitney Opera house after the departure of "Dear Old Billy" on Sept. 9. It is the product of Joseph Lincoln, a writer unknown to the metropolitan theater and it tells of "the quaint folk of the Atlantic coast," presumably in the vicinity of Cape Cod and a lighthouse. An inspection of the play will be made next week, by A. L. Delamarter, the Whitney impresario, who will then decide whether or not it is fit for exhibition at that theater.

"Uncle Sam" was weighed in the delicate balance of an audience at Reading, Pa., Monday night, and a telegraphic criticism from that metropolis asserts that nothing was found wanting. Mr. Wise and Mr. Barrymore are said to have been most comic in their rôles of a peppery uncle and his frolicsome nephew having adventures in Europe; and another hit was that of an unknown youngster named John J. Scannell.

◆

One of the reasons for the absence of Miss Emily Stevens from the cast of "The Boss" is that she is engaged in rehearsing with Mr. Cyril Scott a play by Harrison Rhodes called "A Modern Marriage." This drama is a satirical scourge of "the modern idea of matrimony," whatever that may be. In the play Miss Stevens falls in love, though married, with the author of a treatise on the advanced attitude of husband to wife—only to discover that the commentator is an inexperienced spinster of 60. Miss Olive May, Miss Lucille Watson, Miss Edna McClure, and Percy Ames are in the company.

The American managers of Pavlowa and Mordkin are in deep trouble over the invasion of Russian dancing by Miss Gertrude Hoffman and her troupe from St. Petersburg, who are to perform at the Lyric, beginning on Sept. 11. Printed warnings made super-ominous by decorations of death's heads, admonish the public that the Hoffman exhibition is counterfeit; and all the unkind criticisms of Miss Hoffman's gyrations are sent to prospective reviewers of her dancing. It is through this agency that one is able to call attention to the fact that Miss Hoffman's program boasts of a gold medal given one of her dancers by the "king of Switzerland."

◆

The ultimate syllable of inducement has been uttered to those who contemplate attending Mr. Ziegfeld's "Follies." It is from the Colonial theater press bureau and bears the news that "Walter Percival, who wrote, produced, and starred in 'The Will-o'-th'-Wisp' at the Studebaker last year," will be a participant in Mr. Ziegfeld's show.

◆

Miss Billie Burke's new play, "The Runaway," discourses on the advisability of matrimony between a man of 50 and a girl of 18. The text is contained in this profound observation to be made by Henry Miller Jr. in the play: "You will be fifty when you marry this girl of 18, and the year after you think you will be 49, and the following year 48. But you won't. You will be 51 years of age the first year after your marriage and 52 the next year and 53 when she is barely 21. It will mean degradation for both of you."

◆

Recent changes in the cast of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" bring Miss Florence Dunlap and Miss Marjorie Foster from the New York company hither. Miss Dunlap plays the blasphemous waitress of the Palace hotel in a sprightly spirit of broad comedy, and Miss Foster coos ingenuously through the rôle of the judge's daughter. The alterations improve the performance. Mr. George Parsons is now rehearsing in a new Cohan comedy in New York and his place as Blackie Daw is pretty well filled by William H. Forstelle. So is that of Miss Myrtle Tannehill by Miss Elizabeth Drew.

◆

After the 380th and final performance of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," Mrs. C. E. Kohl will entertain the mechanical, executive, and artistic forces of the company at supper in the roof garden of Hotel La Salle.

◆

It is announced in London that Miss Marie Tempest has decided to postpone her American tour, and will continue in management in the metropolis. She has concluded an arrangement with Messrs. Vedrenne and Eadie, whereby she will open at the Royalty theater in the later weeks of September in a new comedy by Arnold Bennett entitled "The Honeymoon."

Ravinia Welcomes the Minneapolis Orchestra.

BY GLENN DILLARD GUNN.

ORCHESTRAL standards at Ravinia were reëstablished on the high plane inaugurated at the beginning of the season by Mr. Stock and the Thomas orchestra when the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, under its regular conductor, Emil Oberhoffer, began a fortnight's series of concerts Monday evening. Indeed it is not too much to say that, except for the Thomas orchestra, the present visitors compose the best symphonic organization that has been heard at the north shore park at any time, and the small but appreciative audience left no doubt as to the warmth of its approval.

Minneapolis shares with Chicago the advantages of a condition especially favorable to the cultivation of symphonic music. Because of the limited field for orchestral music it is possible to engage the entire body of players permanently and to rehearse every day during the regular season, thus establishing a standard of ensemble that no New York orchestra that has ever visited us can claim.

The Minneapolis orchestra's concerts will pleasantly preface the reopening of the regular season, for, though the programs are lighter in character than those Mr. Stock will offer us in another month or so, the quality of the performance is distinguished by that perfection of mechanical detail to which we have long been accustomed.

Not that Mr. Oberhoffer's readings impress the public with this mechanical element. The results his orchestra obtains in the direction of warmth and beauty of tone, precision of attack, delicate adjustment of contrasts, and pulse quickening impulse of rhythm do impress, however, as so many means to a most satisfying musical end. Mr. Oberhoffer is an authoritative master of orchestra. His methods in conducting incline somewhat toward that interpretative significance of gesture practiced by Felix Weingartner. In making clear his intentions to the players the listener also is enlightened as to his purpose in every detail of phrasing, accent, and inflection. But there is no hint of pose. It all is a part of the high strung, sincere, and direct personality reflected in music. Perhaps the most effective number on Monday's program was the march from the "Pathetique" symphony of Tschaikowsky. Its brilliant and colorful texture of theme and countertheme never has been more effectively displayed.

The program further contained a "Folkunger" march by Kretchmar, an exceedingly grateful and attractive overture, "Land of the Mountains and the Flood," by McCon; the second movement from the sixth Tschaikowsky symphony; a "Valse Triste" and "Preludium," by Jaernefeldt, the latter a particularly clever bit of counterpoint; the second Hungarian rhapsodie of Liszt; Chadwick's "My Jubilee," the "Prize Song" from the "Meistersingers," and Strauss' waltz, "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

There will be the customary afternoon and evening programs. Concertmaster Czerwonky, Miss Genevieve Wheat, contralto; Joseph Schenke, tenor; and Mrs. Truman Aldrich, pianist, will be heard as soloists.

WOMEN RIOT OVER HIGH FOOD PRICES

Disorders in Many Cities and Towns of Northern France Bring Anarchy.

TEAR DOWN MILK DEPOTS

Farmers Armed with Pitchforks Repel Mobs' Attacks on Their Gardens.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Large processions of women are marching this evening in the cities and towns of northern France protesting against the high prices of provisions.

At Lille, Cambrai, Douai, Valenciennes, Bethune, Lens, and at many smaller places a species of anarchy prevails, because the police are insufficient to protect the dealers of food from the destructive impulses of the manifestants.

Trample Out Truck Gardens.

The processions in some of the northern departments are marching from village to village, running over farms and damaging dairies and vegetable gardens to indicate their grievance against the high cost of food.

As each village is descended upon, the ranks of the manifestants are augmented, and occasional conflicts between the marauders and farmers armed with pitchforks are reported.

Rioting Extends to Belgium.

LILLE, France, Aug. 29.—The movement against the high price of food extended over the frontier and involved villages in South Belgium. At Billy-Montigny a mob attacked a baker, who seriously wounded a youth, whereupon his establishment was sacked.

PROGRESSIVES IN MEXICO PLEDGE MANY BIG REFORMS.

Party Convention Adopts Platform Which Would Bring Government Back Into Hands of People.

Mexico City, Aug. 29.—Wearied by the exercise of their constitutional but hitherto unused right to nominate candidates for the presidency and vice presidency, delegates to the first national convention of the Progressive party late tonight adopted a platform that sags beneath its burden of reforms. Tomorrow, it is expected, the nominations will be made.

The first plank of the platform provides for the strict maintenance of the constitution of '57. There was a lengthy debate, but in the end the plank as written was adopted.

The convention pledged its candidates to carry out the principles of anti-reëlection and to work for a revision of the election laws.

Another plank provides for a revision of the system of taxation, favors the development of public resources, and promises to combat monopolies and special privileges.

SEARCH OF ATLANTIC LINER FOR "MONA LISA" PROVES VAIN.

Detectives and Customs Officers Ransack the Kaiser Wilhelm II. in Effort to Find Stolen Picture.

New York, Aug. 29.—"Mona Lisa," the famous painting by Leonardo da Vinci, which mysteriously disappeared from the Louvre in Paris and was reported to have been secretly taken on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II at Cherbourg, was not to be found on board that ship when it docked here today.

Detectives and customs officers in plain clothes searched the steamship from keelson to truck, and every piece of baggage of the passengers was carefully inspected.

Plot to Steal Picture Alleged.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—The Boston Art museum officials have private reports that the Louvre painting was stolen in a political plot. The assistant curator of the Louvre, now here, denies knowledge of any such plot.

NIZAM OF HYDERABAD DIES.

Premier Prince of Indian Empire to Be Succeeded by Sultan Ul Mulk Bahadaur.

HYDERABAD, British India, Aug. 29.—Asaf Jah Nizam-ul-Mulk, the nizam of Hyderabad and the premier prince of the Indian empire, died today. He was born Aug. 18, 1866, and succeeded his father, the Nizam Afzul-ul-Daula, on the latter's death Feb. 26, 1869. The nizam's heir, Sultan Ul Mulk Bahadaur, accompanied by a royal entourage, visited the United States three years ago.

TWO PRIVATE BANKERS HELD.

Heads of Financial House of Kwiet & Gans in Berlin Accused of Embezzlement.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Paul Kwiet and Martin Gans, heads of the firm of Kwiet & Gans, a private banking house, were arrested today charged with embezzling $500,000 of the bank's deposits.

Must Stay Sober Thirty Days.

If Andrew Kelly abstains from liquor for 30 days he will be free of the charge of arson in setting fire to his barn at 6045 South Forty-fifth avenue. Judge Hopkins in the Englewood Police court, yesterday decided Kelly's action was due to drink.

DAN HUNTER BAR-TENDER

THREE ARRESTED AS SPIES

Englishmen and Dane Freed by Germans After Inquiry.

WATCHED FLEET AT KIEL.

Officer in Kaiser's Army Held for Trial at Plymouth.

KIEL, Aug. 29.—Two Englishmen and a Dane, who for several days have been cruising in the neighborhood of Kiel, were arrested today on the suspicion of spying. The suspects asseverated their innocence of the charge and after undergoing a searching examination were released.

The three men were on board the motor fishing boat Delphin of Kolding, Denmark, and were observed carefully watching the summer maneuvers of the German warships.

Seen at Other Places.

They also have been seen with a few days at Sondenberg and Flensburg and on the Schlei fiord, near Schleswig.

Upon being examined the Englishmen said they were respectively a professor and a teacher of a high school. The Dane claimed to be the owner of the motor boat.

German Held for Trial.

PLYMOUTH, Aug. 29.—After evidence had been presented today bearing out the statement of the public prosecutor in the case of Lieut. Philip M. Schultz, the German army officer arrested here Aug. 19 last charged with espionage, the prisoner was committed for trial.

PLEADS FOR SUFFERING POOR.

British Chancellor Appeals to Church Members to Right the Wrongs in Society.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 29.—David Lloyd-George, while laying the cornerstone for a chapel at Heath today, appealed to the Christian churches to right the wrongs from which the masses are suffering.

"There are multitudes in the country, who notwithstanding grinding toil, do not earn enough to keep body and soul together," he said. "There are members of Christian churches who never have missed a delicacy, yet they become angry when another class of the population makes an effort to ameliorate its condition.

"Let them cease reviling and consider the conditions under which millions of poor workers live. If they do so they will realize their responsibility and remove the causes for unrest, lest the next struggle might prove infinitely worse."

ALPS MAY YIELD OLD VICTIM.

Body of Massachusetts Man, Lost Forty Years Ago, Likely to Be Recovered, Says Daughter.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Recent dispatches from Chamonix, Switzerland, give encouragement to the relatives of John C. Randall of Quincy, who lost his life in the Glacier des Bessons, near Mont Blanc, Sept. 6, 1870, that his body will be found.

His daughter, Edith Randall, who left for Switzerland a few weeks ago, has cabled relatives that she has hopes the glacier will soon give up its dead.

Randall was treasurer of the Quincy Saving bank and the Granite National bank, and during a vacation he ascended the Alps with two other tourists and eight guides. The party was caught in an avalanche and all perished.

IOWA CHILD NEARLY PERFECT

Judges at Show Find No Flaw; Give Score of 96½.

DES MOINES CHILDREN WIN.

Special Program for Veterans at State Fair.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Charles Elmer O'Toole, aged 36 months, son of C. J. O'Toole of Des Moines, is an almost perfect child, according to the four women physicians who this afternoon gave their decision in the baby health contest conducted at the state fair by the state congress of mothers. Master O'Toole was entered in the 2 to 3 year olds.

Master O'Toole should have a perfect score if it were possible for any human being to be perfect, say the judges. They were unable to find a flaw in his body, but, acting on the theory that no child could be entirely perfect, gave him only a score of 96½.

The second prize in this class went to Mary Lena McDonald, aged 30 months, daughter of George McDonald of Des Moines, who had a score of 95½ points.

Other Des Moines Children Win.

In the one to two-year-old class, Wilma Cass, aged 22 months, daughter of W. M. Cass of Des Moines, won first place with a score of 96 points. The second prize went to John Roland, Jr., aged 20 months, of Des Moines, with a score of 95 points.

In judging the babies, the physicians considered height, weight, circumference of abdomen and chest, symmetry, quality of skin, fat, and muscles and bones. The head and the features also were considered, as were the disposition, energy, and facial and ocular expression of the child.

The judges were Doctors Florence Sherbourne of Colfax, Margaret Clarke of Waterloo and Lena Means and Sophia Hinzie Scott of Des Moines.

Special Program for Veterans.

A special program for the entertainment of the veterans of the Mexican and civil wars was carried out oday at the fair. It was officially known as old soldiers' day, and the veterans began arriving at the grounds in large numbers at an early hour.

Several flights were made by Parmalee and Clifford Turpin in Wright aeroplanes.

Hold Slain Man's Cousin for Robbery.

Michael Gentleman, said by the police to be a cousin of William Gentleman, who was killed by Morris Enright in the sluggers' war, was held to the grand jury in bonds of $1,000 when he was arraigned in the Englewood police court yesterday on a charge of robbery.

NEW CHIEF FOR PARK BUREAU

Mugler, Temporary Appointee, Resigns as Employment Head.

F. G. HEUCHLING APPOINTED

Secretary of Board Holds Job Since Its Creation July 1.

At the meeting of the west park board yesterday in Union park the resignation of George A. Mugler as superintendent of employment of the west park system was accepted. Fred G. Heuchling, at present efficiency inspector for the civil service commission, was appointed in Mr. Mugler's place.

The position of superintendent of employment was created by the new civil service law which went into effect on July 1. The law provides that the position shall carry with it a term of office extending for six years and that the incumbent shall not be removed during that time.

Mr. Mugler, who is secretary of the west park board, had been appointed temporarily, as has been insisted repeatedly by Gov. Deneen and the members of the park board, as superintendent of employment under the new civil service law.

The Civil Service Reform association officials criticised the board severely and the matter of Mr. Mugler's appointment was the subject of a sharp warfare between Robert Catherwood and Herbert Fleming, officials of the reform body.

Mr. Heuchling's appointment, it is understood, is thoroughly satisfactory to the civil service reform forces.

Mr. Heuchling is a graduate of Armour institute and was formerly instructor of engineering there. He resides at 1310 Glenlake avenue.

Commissioner Addison E. Wells, who was reported as having resigned from the board, withdrew his resignation at the personal request of Gov. Deneen and his fellow commissioners.

PICTURES SHOW HOTEL BLIND PIG

A. B. Farwell Claims to Have Evidence Against the Del Prado.

EASY TO GET A DRINK.

Says He Will Start Prosecution Against Twelve Other Places Today.

Photographs of a barroom scene, alleged to be in the Del Prado hotel on the Midway, were secured yesterday by investigators for the Hyde Park Protective association.

"We have proof that the Del Prado is conducting a 'blind pig,'" Mr. Farwell said at night. "Look at these!"

Mr. Farwell held up the photographs. One of them showed a young man with what looked like a glass of beer in his hand as he leaned over a bar. Another showed a white coated individual busy with a shaker such as is used for mixing drinks. A third showed a group of lockers, the doors swung wide to reveal bottles that looked like those in which whisky is put up.

Says It's Easy to Enter.

"The Del Prado is one of the worst offenders," Mr. Farwell continued. "Of course we have convicted the proprietors before. They pretend to conduct a locker system, but it is only a bluff.

"Our investigators could not find that any restriction whatever was made. They obtained drinks without any trouble."

"Any one who enters by the front door of the hotel can walk down the hall and turn into the barroom," the investigator said.

The clerk of the Del Prado hotel said last night that the hotel was not selling liquor in violation of the law.

"We are not running any 'blind pig' that I know of," he declared. "You can tell Arthur Burrage Farwell that he may attend to his business and we will attend to ours."

Mr. Farwell displayed a letter he was sending John Prystalski, assistant city prosecutor of South Chicago, to announce that he would today have complaints sworn out against a dozen alleged "blind pigs" in the vicinity of Calumet lake. Nearly all of them have been convicted and several have cases pending against them, according to Mr. Farwell.

"I am going to show up these people who telegraphed to Portland, Me., stating that there were no blind pigs in Chicago," Mr. Farwell explained. He showed copies of a telegram sent by Chief McWeeny, City Collector Edward Cohen and City Treasurer Henry Stuckart, denying liquor was permitted to be sold in Chicago without a license.

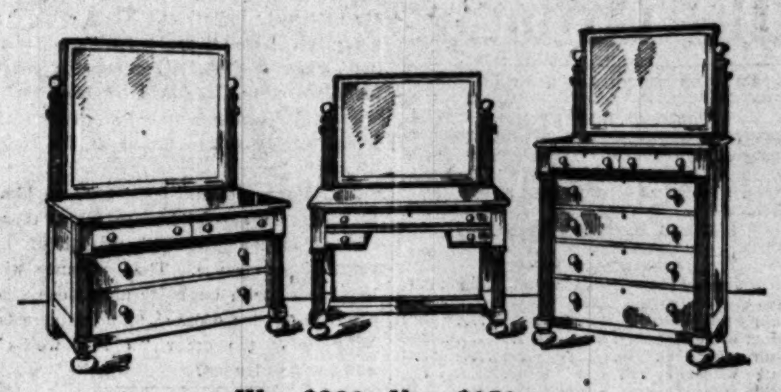
Says 1,000 Fail to Pay Tax.

In a letter to Secretary G. W. Norton of the no license movement, Portland, Me., Mr. Farwell says in part:

"We have just concluded an inspection of records in the office of the collector of internal revenue for this district, showing the names, addresses, kind of certificate, and amount of tax paid by liquor dealers in Cook county, in which the city of Chicago is located. This record contains the names of all persons paying the United States internal revenue tax, whether as retail liquor dealer [R. L. D.], retail malt liquor dealer [R. M. L. D.], rectifiers, or brewers.

"After deducting 650 who pay taxes for selling liquor outside Chicago, but in Cook county, we find there are at this time 9,628 federal taxpayers in this city. The records of the city collector's office show that 7,152 saloons have paid the current city licenses, and that 1,202 druggists' licenses had been issued to Aug. 23, 1911, and that there are fifty-four licensed breweries or brewery agencies in this city. Record 10 shows forty-eight local breweries paying government tax, also 118 rectifiers.

"This makes a discrepancy between the number of persons who pay the federal tax as liquor dealers, 9,628, and the total paying city license as saloon keepers, druggists, rectifiers, and brewers, 8,256, of 1,101."



Was $300; Now $150

HERE'S a remarkable bargain in a Scholle solid mahogany dresser, chiffonier, and dressing table; the three pieces for $150. Price was $300.

There's only one way this could be a greater bargain and that would be by getting it for less money; as to the quality of material and workmanship, it isn't possible to do better, no matter where you go or what you pay; this is as fine as furniture can be made and no one will ever show you anything better.

It's a safe guess that the price is away below anything you'll find in mahogany pieces of any kind, and considering the quality of these, there is no likelihood of your finding anything at anywhere near this price.

Come and look at them, anyhow, and while here look at the eight big floors containing many big bargains. Such as these for instance:

THE CAT AND THE PRODUCER.

In a magazine article one of the conspicuous producers of plays in this country tells how he worked his way out of an artistic embarrassment. To get a "domestic touch" in one scene he yearned mightily to teach a cat to come out on the stage, stretch itself, and lap a saucer of milk.

There was a dramatic problem to send Æschylus scampering to Piræus to jump off a pier or to compel Sophocles to cut short his miseries by hemp or hemlock, but our conspicuous producer settled down with the cat, the saucer of milk, and the patience of great genius and worked out this problem of life.

One easily understands the reasons for our dramatic prominence, contemplating the producer and the cat. He says that the cat made the play a success. At the proper dramatic moment four hundred nights running it came out, stretched, and lapped the milk in the saucer, and thus the stage was made to serve its great purpose to mankind.

If the cat had arched its back, spit at the conductor of the orchestra, and upset the milk in scampering for an exit, the play might have failed. The critical audiences might have rejected it as not interpretative of life, as not purging the emotions, as not revealing the struggle between men and the laws of their being.

The cat stretched and it lapped the milk, and another success was given to the American stage. The dramatic genius of a people is revealed when the cat laps the milk.

GETTING THE REAL OFFENDER.

When the umpires at the Chicago-Philadelphia game Monday in Philadelphia asked the police to throw a rowdy out of the ball park the police, of course, refused to do so. When they were informed that the umpires had authority to order the rowdy's ejection they removed him from the place he had been sitting to another, where he promptly made himself quite as obnoxious as he had been in his first position. Then Umpire Klem again requested a sergeant of police to put the man off the grounds.

"The sergeant replied that he would not do anything of the kind and that if the umpire didn't go about his business he would arrest him instead."

Police the country over seem to be—police. The real offender is the man who insists on the enforcement of a law.

KEEP IT UP, ALDERMAN.

Ald. Murray got through the council an ordinance prohibiting automobile drivers from cutting out mufflers and ordering the use of mufflers on motorcycles. He earned thereby the thanks of the thousands who are exasperated or maddened by the nerve racking, sleep destroying noises at which the ordinance is leveled.

The alderman does not rest content with the passage of the ordinance. He actually wants it enforced. That is not the customary Chicago way of dealing with ordinances. They are passed to pacify somebody and then those whose duty it is to make them a living letter shirk that duty.

So it is not surprising that when Ald. Murray, seeing that the ordinance was not being enforced, asked the chief of police why he had not ordered his subordinates to act under it, that individual was surprised and perhaps a little amused. Immediate enforcement! Why, that would be something unheard of. "I'll take that matter up in a few weeks perhaps," said the easy going chief of police. "You must not get impatient, you know."

Ald. Murray is not the only one who is impatient. The people who pleaded for the ordinance and rejoiced when it passed are extremely impatient. They, with the alderman, have the old fashioned idea that when the council orders the police to do something it should be done forthwith. The council and the public can justly condemn the attitude of the chief of police.

Ald. Murray should not let up on him. If he does not goad him to action there will be no perceptible abatement of an intolerable nuisance. The ordinance will be violated with impunity until the police shall have been ordered to make arrests. Why delay the order "a few weeks" and perhaps longer?

THE PEOPLE ALWAYS PAY THE FREIGHT.

THE TRIBUNE acknowledges the receipt of many letters from its readers commenting upon or protesting against the distribution in Illinois at public expense of the speech of William Lorimer, delivered in the senate on Feb. 22, 1911, in defense of his seat in that body, and of the speech of Joseph W. Bailey, delivered in the same place to the same end, on Feb. 13 and 14. One correspondent writes:

"Mails of the north side of Chicago yesterday were burdened with large government envelopes containing the speeches of Senators Lorimer and Bailey on the Lorimer case. In one neighborhood the postman had a cartload. The envelopes were marked as follows:

SENATE UNITED STATES.

PART OF CONG. RECORD—FREE.

SENATOR FROM ILLINOIS

I am giving to the Senators the truth as to why these men voted for me for United States Senator. I am not pleading for sympathy. I do not want sympathy. This is not a question of sympathy. It is a question of right or wrong.

SPEECH OF
HON. WILLIAM LORIMER, OF ILLINOIS,
IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
Wednesday, February 22, 1911.

In the upper right hand corner of the envelopes, in lieu of a postage stamp, there was the following:

Wm Lorimer
U. S. S.

Upon which our correspondent remarks:

"Uncle Sam," he pays the freight. Is this part of the campaign for the rehabilitation of Lorimer?

Without hesitation we should say that it is and that any review of Mr. Lorimer's career discloses the fact that Uncle Sam—or Father Dearborn, or Mr. Taxpayer—has always paid the freight for Mr. Lorimer. The people of the west side paid the freight when the west parks were exploited to support Mr. Lorimer's political power. The people of Illinois paid the freight when Mr. Lorimer and his friend Mr. Richard Yates were running the political and governmental affairs of the state on the slush fund system. The people of Chicago would have paid the freight for many a year to come if Mr. Lorimer and his friend Charles T. Yerkes had been able to "put over" the Allen and Humphrey bills as successfully as Mr. Hines "put over" Mr. Lorimer.

And not only the people of Illinois but the people of the United States will pay the freight for Mr. Lorimer and Mr. Lorimer's friends as long as Mr. Lorimer has influence and office.

The franking of the Lorimer and Bailey speeches is a petty item in this account. Still it is worth noting. The Evening Post published a Washington report some time ago to the effect that a million copies of the Lorimer speech had been or were to be sent to Illinois. Wherever or however printed, it seems that a good part of this number is now being distributed in this city. If the poll list has been used, something over 400,000 have been sent out. If all the voters of Illinois could be reached the million copies would be more than exhausted.

This is a campaign of "education" as extensive as it is inexpensive—to Mr. Lorimer. Its results, if they could be measured, would accurately gauge the susceptibility of the people of Illinois to buncombe and the juggling of their own political history.

THE RAILROAD SITUATION.

There is no disposition on the part of the railroad employés who are seeking higher wages and better labor conditions to rush matters. Their representatives are discussing quietly with the representatives of the roads the questions at issue. As neither side wants war and as each probably is prepared to concede something when it comes to a pinch the conferences now being held should have a satisfactory ending.

The railroads assuredly do not want a strike. They understand the extent to which it would interfere with the discharge of their duties to the public. Compliance with the wage demands might not cost so much as the loss of revenue which a strike lasting any time might entail.

The fact that the employés are moving slowly and deliberately is good evidence that they know what a strike would mean. Their officers, mostly old and experienced men, know that this is not the time to win an easy victory by quitting work. The fact that the railroads of this country have laid off 80,000 men in a year shows that there is a great volume of unemployed railroad labor which the roads could draw on. When there are so many lay offs the man who can keep his job and old wages is not so badly off.

It cannot be unknown to railroad employés that while the wages of men in many industries were reduced after the panic of 1907, theirs were not. Since then there have been general increases. The roads have not fared so well. They have not been allowed to raise rates and have had to submit to cuts. So this is hardly the time for employés to insist peremptorily on material concessions. If they were working for a manufacturing company they would not.

The fact that this is such an unpropitious time for a strike is a strong reason for believing that there will not be one. There are other reasons, among them the good temper and the willingness to meet and discuss of both sides.

MOBS.

If the average community would examine itself microscopically it would have less occasion for surprise when its own ruffians take it by the neck and shake it out of its peaceful routine. If it were so to examine itself it is probable that half its complaisance would disappear.

Coatesville, Pa., is the present cause of astonishment—Coatesville, a thriving, peaceful, industrial town not far from Philadelphia. A negro tied to a cot is placed on a fire of fence rails and burned. He rolls out of the fire three times and is thrown back into it. A monstrous crime. How was it possible in Coatesville?

Troops no sooner clear the streets of hooligans in London than they are guarding small towns and villages in Wales, where surprising attacks are made on Jewish storekeepers. A surprising demonstration of ferocity is given in a big city; a surprising demonstration in a village—always surprising; always surprising when a lawless element crawls out into the light like rats from a sewer and reveals its ferocity.

A microscopic examination of a community, almost any community, would result at least in the dropping of the word "surprising." To walk through the streets of Springfield, Ill., now and find any color of probability for the recollection of the riots in which innocent persons were killed would be difficult. That was a surprising outbreak there. It will be surprising in the next city, town, or village which suffers from it.

The social microscope would show that the elements of a mob exist in every community. Let the opportunity be dropped in with them and they fuse instantly. It is not a restful thought to consider that they are present even when passive. It would not be a restful thought to consider that the source of a city's water supply was polluted, but it is wiser to find out and admit it than to say that the water looks pure and tastes sweet and, it is to be hoped, is both.

The wiser community acknowledges to itself that in its composition are elements which when tempted by opportunity, crazed by passion, or infuriated by drink are capable of any monstrous crime. The wiser community hopes that the humanizing process will be effective some time on these brutal elements, but it knows what they are and it takes precautions against them.

It does not think to trust the administration of its affairs to men who bargain with these elements in elections, submit to their minor infractions of law after election, and then stand dismayed and afraid before them when they break from restraint.

The wiser community shows itself and makes no such bargain in its politics.

A KENTUCKY clergyman has shown by figures that heaven is large enough to contain about 500 trillion souls, allotting a room ten feet square to each one. These souls, if standing in line, would reach from Chicago to Arcturus, but they would have to stand nearly two miles apart. It is well that they are to be huddled, so to speak, within limits that will permit them to be neighborly and sociable.

"SINCE Atwood reached the Atlantic," suggests the Sioux City News, "why not make it Atwater?" Because, esteemed contemp., he would be then Atsea. It wouldn't do at all.

More or Less Sanguinary.

The traveling man wrote his name, "R T. Rees," in the hotel register.

"You are related, perhaps," ventured the clerk, "to the Vanes."

"We belong to the same general family, I believe," rejoined the traveler, looking at him over his glasses, "but I can't say I ever met any of them. We work along different lines."

"But you work for the same system?"

"Yes, but in different capacities. They look after the income and we attend to the outgo."

"I see. For that reason, I presume, they claim to be bluer blooded than you are."

"They do, but they are not as well red."

"Yet you both work for the same——"

"Pumping concern? Yes."

"Ever have any trouble at the main plant?"

"There has been some complaint lately, I think, because of too much smoke."

Here the traveling man lighted a cigar.

"But suppose the works shut down?"

"Then we'd have to quit; that would catch us coming and going."

[Puff, puff.]

"And it would be mighty bad," he added, "for the circulating medium."

LONG before Germany set covetous eyes on Agadir, where the presence of the kaiser's warships has had the effect of filling the atmosphere with rumors of war, it had attracted the attention of the late King Leopold of Belgium. The advantages of the bay, not only from a strategical and commercial point of view but also as a health resort for officials invalided home from the Congo Free State, had been brought to the king's notice by Dr. Tackuin, at one time physician on board the liners running from Antwerp to the mouth of the Congo and afterwards principal medical adviser of the Congo Free State.

Indeed, Leopold was so much interested by the descriptions of the doctor that he actually took the trouble to visit Agadir on board his steam yacht Alberta and spent a fortnight in visiting the valley of the Sous and the environs of Agadir, during which time not even his ministers at Brussels knew of his whereabouts. They had some impression that he was cruising off the coast of Morocco, but that was all, and it led at the time to a wild report in sensational newspapers to the effect that he had been seized by Moorish bandits and carried off into the interior to be held for ransom.

His visit to Agadir confirmed the reports made to him by Dr. Tackuin, and, accordingly, he hastened, on his return to Brussels, to send a special embassy to the former Sultan of Morocco, bearing a quantity of presents and asking him to cede, either by purchase or lease, to Leopold, in his capacity as sovereign of the Congo Free State, the bay and town of Agadir and the valley of the Sous. The request of Leopold, as ruler of the Congo Free State, was indorsed by Leopold as king of Belgium and by the Belgian government, the mission itself being headed by a distinguished Belgian diplomat with Dr. Tackuin as one of his principal attachés.

The Sultan, however, prompted, it is said, by both the French and the English representatives at Fez and by Sir Henry MacLean, the Scotch commander-in-chief of the Moorish army, declined, after a considerable amount of hesitation and delay, to grant King Leopold's request, and the mission proved a complete failure.

Prince Alexander Bibesco, whose death has just taken place on the shores of the Lake of Geneva, was the last surviving son of that wonderful old George Bibesco, who in 1843, at the age of forty, was elected by the people of Wallachia and Moldavia, now known by the name of Roumania, as their hespodar, or prince, for life, the election being confirmed by the Sublime Porte, which, in those days, exercised rights of sovereignty over all the Balkan states.

George Bibesco abolished slavery, transformed Bucharest into a western and civilized city, and endowed the entire country with a system of roads. Eventually overthrown by political intrigue, he took up his residence abroad and made his home in Paris, where he died in 1873.

All his four sons distinguished themselves in one way or another, and two achieved fame in active service in the French army, both George and Nicholas being decorated with the Legion of Honor on the battlefields of 1870 for conspicuous bravery.

After the war, George eloped with the wife of a well known French cavalry general, the late Duc de Bauffremont. She was by birth a Princess Chimay, sister of the late Prince Joseph Chimay, whose son's first wife, Clara Ward of Detroit, has achieved such unsavory notoriety by her various matrimonial adventures.

As there was no divorce at the time in France, the Duchesse de Bauffremont secured from the petty German state of Saxe-Altenburg a divorce from the Duc de Bauffremont, the legality of which was, however, repudiated by the French courts, which did not hesitate to pronounce the marriage which the duchess thereupon contracted with George Bibesco as bigamous. Nor was it until divorce was inaugurated as part and parcel of French law, in 1888, that the duchess was able to obtain from the French tribunals a dissolution of her union with the duke and to legalize her marriage with George Bibesco in such fashion as to admit of her return to France without peril of arrest for bigamy.

The Bibescos, unlike most of the Roumanian nobles who assume the title of prince, have obtained the authorization to use it as a foreign, but not as an Austro-Hungarian title, in the dual empire. In Roumania itself, all nobiliary titles have been abolished, and, when in 1900, George Bibesco was appointed by King Charles' government to be commissioner general for Roumania to the Paris International exhibition, the Official Gazette at Bucharest referred to him, in recording the appointment, as "Mr." George Bibesco.

George Bibesco objected to being thus styled, and demanded that the decree should be modified in such a manner as to describe him by what he claimed to be his correct title.

To this the Roumanian premier, George Cantacuzene, demurred. He called the attention of George Bibesco to that noteworthy paragraph of the national constitution of Roumania which abolished all nobiliary titles and distinctions in the kingdom, forbidding their use, besides pointing out that he himself, the premier, although a scion of the formerly imperial house of Cantacuzene, which reigned at Constantinople in the fourteenth century, was perfectly content to call himself "Mr." Cantacuzene, instead of prince.

The late Prince Alexander, unlike his elder brothers, was a littérateur and a poet, rather than a soldier, and with his lofty stature and his somewhat leonine head of gray hair presented a very striking appearance. He leaves two sons, Emmanuel, who is making a name for himself in the Roumanian parliament at Bucharest, and Antoine, who is secretary of the Roumanian legation in London and a playwright of considerable note, several of his plays having been produced as very drawing successes on the Parisian stage, notably "Le Jaloux," at the Théâtre Antoine.

Antoine Bibesco is very popular in London, and was a particular favorite of the late King Edward, who constantly included his name in the list of guests whom he desired to be asked to meet him at the various house parties organized in his honor.

The head of the family is, of course, Prince Antoine's first cousin Constantine, Prince Bessaraba de Brancovan, whose sister is the well known poet and author, Countess Mathieu de Noailles, and whose mother is the daughter of old Musurus Pasha, for nearly thirty years Turkish ambassador in London, an office afterwards held by his eldest son and namesake.

If this head of the Bibesco family styles himself Prince Bessaraba de Brancovan, instead of by his patronymic of Bibesco, it is for the purpose of calling attention to his descent in the female line from the historic house of Bessaraba de Brancovan.

The Bessarabas are one of the most illustrious families of the southeast of Europe any may be said to have been founded by Jugomir Bessaraba, who flourished in the fourteenth century. Towards the end of the sixteenth century the Bessarabas acquired the great domain of Brancovani, and, in 1688, received from the crown of Hungary the Magyar title of counts of Brancovan. Fifty years later they were advanced to the status of princes of the Holy Roman empire.

In the early part of the eighteenth century the then head of the family figured conspicuously in the war between the Turks and Russians and, having been found guilty of treachery to both Peter the Great and to the sultan, was strangled by order of the latter,

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

THE OLD ROLLER TOWEL.

How dear to this heart is the old roller towel
Which fond recollection presents to my view.
It hung like a pail on the wall of the washroom,
And gathered the grime of the linotype crew.
The sink and the soap and the lye that stood by it
Remain; but the towel is gone past recall.
O tempora! Likewise, O mores! Sic transit
The time-honored towel that creaked on the wall.
The grimy old towel, the slimy old towel,
The tacky old towel that hung on the wall.

Now hangs in the washroom a huge roll of paper—
The old printer's towel we'll never see more.
The new (see directions) is "used like a blotter,"
And crumpled and scattered in wads on the floor.
And often, when drying my hands in this fashion,
The tears of remembrance will gather and fall,
And I sigh (though I'm not what you'd call sentimental)
For the classic old towel that propped up the wall.
The sainted old towel, the tainted old towel,
The gooey old towel that hung on the wall.

"WE are not of the usual sort," says Poet Kemp, referring to the sides of the triangle of which he is the hypothenuse. Mr. Kemp flatters himself and the Sinclairs. They are every bit as usual as John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones; and their philosophical outlook, as disclosed by their utterances, is no higher than that of Col. Libbey's correspondents.

WHEREAS Mrs. Martha Crowe Gibson, who has come over from England to hunt for her husband, is much more of a philosopher. "All men are polygamous," declares Mrs. Gibson. "There never was a man who didn't covet his neighbor's wife if she were better looking than his own, and there never was a woman who didn't think her own ugly duckling the sweetest thing that ever wore trousers."

THAT covers the past history of the race, and will do very well for its more or less immediate future.

CAMPING SUGGESTIONS.

I.

Not advice; merely suggestions. One or two may be helpful to even the experienced camper.

For tent we used this year a silk Baker shelter, and found it more than satisfactory. It is light, it stays light, and it may be pitched, among trees, in no time at all.

More important than the tent is the bed. Having tried almost every kind, we can testify that there is nothing better than the stretch of heavy canvas looped at the sides for supporting saplings of good thickness. If there are two of you, have the canvases sewed together, so that one pole in the middle will serve. Crotched sticks are usually suggested, but simpler and much better are logs, at head and foot of bed, on which to lay the pole ends. Notch the logs, and spike the poles so they can't twist.

These beds, like all camp beds, are cold. The trick of keeping warm is to have more under you than over. The best thing we know of to put next the canvas is a lambskin—the sort you see hanging in harness shops. Lacking that, spread out all the clothing in your pack. Given a good foundation, you will need few blankets.

"MR. TAFT is tricky," complains Vox Populi. Gross flattery.

GROSS flattery, too, is Champ Clark's statement, yesterday, that "if there was any playing of politics in the extra session the president did it." Mr. Taft's golf game is nothing extra, but it is a marvel compared with his political game.

BOULEVARD WORK DELAYED.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Can you explain why the three or four blocks from Halsted street west on Sixty-seventh boulevard are in such disgraceful condition?
F. O. CREAGER.

A special assessment has been levied for the improvement of this boulevard, but the actual work in connection therewith in all probability will not be reached this fall.

NOT A TRANSFER POINT.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—[To the Friend of the People.]—In coming from the north side Sunday on an Evanston car, destined to the west side by a Madison street car, I took transfers for the intersection of Madison and La Sallè streets. It happened that the Madison street cars were all crowded, and we walked east to Clark street to see if we could catch a car in which we could get a seat. I presented the transfers to the conductor and they were refused. Has the street railway company any legal right to make me pay this extra 10 cents?
S. ALON.

Transfers are good only at the transfer points punched on the slip.

TAKING AWAY REFUSE.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—What are householders supposed to do with paper and wood, boxes, and other containers, and wrappers of groceries, meats, and other food and fruit? If by any mistake a piece of any of the above gets into the garbage, the lordly "collector of garbage" will not touch the lot. Is garbage to be collected and burned, or is it to be lotted out to some contractor, who must have it sorted just so? I have all sorts of receptacles now to suit these imperious gentlemen, but they will not touch wood or paper. I burn nothing but gas so cannot burn them, and the alley newly paved is getting to be an eyesore.
FRANK N. GAGE, 4028 Ellis avenue.

TO BE CLEANED AGAIN.

Jefferson Park, Ill., Aug. 29.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I have read and know of the good you do for the people, and I would appreciate it very much if you could do something for us, if it is at all possible. On Higgins avenue, where we live, there is a great deal of automobile traffic, especially between Milwaukee avenue and Fifty-sixth street. The street is very dirty, having about two or three inches of dirt thereon, and when the automobiles go by in droves, as they do, the dust that clouds from the street is almost unbearable. It would indeed be a great relief to us and appreciated by all the neighbors, if you could do something for us to eliminate this dust.
A SUBURBANITE.

The superintendent of the Twenty-seventh ward advises me that Higgins avenue has been cleaned four times this year and will be cleaned again within the next few days.
F. W. SOLON,
Acting Superintendent of Streets.

GOT QUICK RESULTS.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[To the Friend of the People.]—On the afternoon of the day you published the reply to my communication concerning paving the subway at Lincoln avenue and Addison street, several wagon loads of brick had been unloaded, and the pavement was put in satisfactory condition within a few days. Your department and THE TRIBUNE deserve great credit for its usefulness to the community in matters of this kind.
ALBERT W. MOSS.

BLOW HOLES IN HIS ICE.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[To the Friend of the People.]—While reading your paper I often see that people measure the ice in order to see if they are getting what they pay for. Permit me to call attention to a fact I have not seen noticed—viz.: that frequently the ice which is delivered contains a large air hole which the man is careful to keep out of sight. The box which receives the ice seems to be full, when in reality the air hole the ice contains is large enough to diminish its weight by ten or twelve pounds. I have weighed the ice many times myself and have called the attention of the man who delivers it to the short weight, but have always failed to make any impression upon him. Once I reported the shortage in weight to the company from which the ice comes, but only to receive a visit from the agent, who insisted on the honesty of the delivery man and promised that ice of full weight should henceforth be furnished. But since that time I have failed to receive more than two-thirds of what is charged me. I am glad to know the name of the man to whom I am to apply in order to obtain my rights in this matter.
J. L. HANSON, 4471 Oakenwald avenue.

ELEVATING ST. PAUL TRACKS.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—[To The Friend of the People.]—I wish you would be kind enough to inform me through your paper how soon the C., M. & St. P. Railway company is likely to elevate its tracks on Bloomingdale road.
ONE OF A HUNDRED PROPERTY OWNERS.

The ordinance of June 27, 1910, requiring the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway to elevate its tracks on Bloomingdale road provides that the elevation should be completed by June 27, 1915. From the information at hand the work under this ordinance will, in all probability, be started within the next year.
FRANCIS J. OWENS,
Commissioner Track Elevation.

TOO FEW CANS PROVIDED.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The garbage can in the rear of my home has been emptied but once in three weeks. I have notified the police, the health department, and the superintendent of streets on two occasions, with no result. Can nothing be done to abate this nuisance?
A. D. O'NEILL, 4228 North Fiftieth avenue.

The superintendent of the Twenty-seventh ward advises me that garbage was removed before this complaint reached him; regular service will be given in future. Only one fence can was provided for three families, and notice has been served to provide proper receptacles.
F. W. SOLON,
Acting Superintendent of Streets.

BUSINESS METHODS AND MAIL BIDS.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Aug. 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Did you ever hear of anything more foolish than the postoffice department's treatment of the railways in regard to carrying the mails. I read in THE TRIBUNE of the indignation of the second assistant postmaster general because the railroads take the only means of retaliation against such cutthroat and unbusinesslike conduct as telling one bidder another's price to see if he'll meet or beat it.

I venture to say that neither THE TRIBUNE nor any other commercial organization could buy goods from legitimate houses if they followed a course like that.

Why is it not possible to obtain men in our government who have not only common sense, but real commercial honesty? Men seem to be selected for responsible positions solely on their ability to deliver the votes of a prostituted gang of ward heelers for some man higher up.

One mighty good cause for anarchy is the despotic control of this country by trust ruled office holding grafters possessed of an innocence and purity as regards honorable commercial transactions for the good of the common people comparable to that of a 4 year old child, and THE TRIBUNE should be first to disavow politics when it conflicts with the greater good for the greater number, and come out with a rigid editorial on the subject of this second assistant postmaster general's complaint of the way his advertisement for bids is regarded by the railroads.

TO THIS COMPLEXION.

New Lenox, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—There is an ancient story to the effect that a lady of state was before a mirror plying with brush her facial paint and powder to assist in making up in her beauty that which was lacking in nature. The proverbial old philosopher who saw the performance secured a human skull and wrote the following note and sent it with the skull by a servant to the lady. The note read: "Tell her, though she paint herself an inch thick, to this complexion she must come at last."

The people of Illinois have been asking for measures, and even they have not obtained. Gentlemen "of state" have manipulated the affairs of the people. Great issues of nation wide importance constitutionally provided for by Illinois have been ruthlessly snatched from the people and literally trampled under foot. The logical results are before us. Plastered and painted over by a thousand and one silly and nonsensical excuses, with dignified issues with world wide benefits trailed in political dust, it is sought to make these "gentlemen (?) of state" look respectable, but the political student may take the human skull, now known as "a campaign of personal vindication," with the appropriate message, "To this complexion they have come at last." If there are homes that have a "skeleton in the wall," it looks much as if our state is not a stranger to such a presence.

JUSTICE BEFORE GENEROSITY.

Buda, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE I saw the letter of a "mere man," and, being a woman and a believer in the entire equality of the sexes, I would say that I do not belong to any of the four classes he mentions, and I do not want any man to give me his car seat or show me any courtesy that one gentleman should not show another. I for one am tired of this bowing and lifting of hats while they legislate me to the realm of idiots and criminals. Men, as a class, are just as good as women, and all I ask is to be treated as their honored, glorious equal. Let them be just before they are generous, with their car seats or anything else.

A WORD FOR MR. WESTON.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Kindly permit me with a few remarks to give you this copy of a letter received by me in reply to a complaint against the S. S. L. service:

Dear Sir: Replying to yours of 7th relative to our Jackson park service around 8:30 a. m., I thank you for the suggestion and trust the change ordered may prove satisfactory to all our patrons on that division. We are pleased to receive any such suggestions for the betterment of the service. Yours very truly,
C. V. WESTON, President.

One, signing "A South Sider," takes occasion in your valuable edition of Aug. 24 to give the outgoing president of the South Side Elevated railway a parting kick and to tell us how glad he is to see him go. Like all Americans, I believe in fair play, and, after using the South Side elevated for eighteen years and receiving such a courteous reply to my first and only complaint, I cannot help but feel that Mr. South Sider is probably one of those chronic kickers which get the habit of pestering newspapers and public service corporations with senseless questions and imaginary grievances. Now, Mr. South Sider, get your kicking clothes on, for you will soon have a real live one coming before the New York crowd gets through retrenching to pay the merger promoter a cool million for pulling off the deal.

BECOMING A FULL CITIZEN.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I took out first citizen's papers in August, 1909, and am now entitled to full citizenship papers if I pass the examination. How long can I postpone taking out these second papers? Can you give me the names of an instruction book as to the administration of the United States? Where would I have to apply for my papers? What kind of questions are asked in this examination?
H. R. S.

[You may at any time within five years take up the matter of completing your citizenship. Petitions for naturalization may be made to the clerks of the Circuit and Superior courts, fourth floor, county building, and the clerks of the United States Circuit and District courts, sixth floor, federal building. LAND AND AIR MONOPOLY.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I notice that a Dubuque judge has decided that the monopoly right to a part of the earth, private ownership of a lot, etc., carries with it also a monopoly right on the air, perpendicular over the lot boundaries. Now, this is important if either true or constitutional. For instance: The Illinois Central railroad owns a sacred land monopoly right plus a sacred air monopoly right over the perpendicular boundaries of its right of way and terminals. Therefore it has the right to fill up its own air with as much smoke as it wants to. That's the Dubuque law now.

But, vice versa, the proprietors of the air over the adjoining lots do not have, legally, you know, to permit the lake breezes to blow the murky soot out of the "air" property of the Illinois Central into the privately owned air over their own lots. That is a new fangled kind of "trespass" in law as much as if somebody now does not keep off the grass of a vacant or used lot.

Cannot one of your readers—a corporate lawyer posted in hair splitting preferred—explain this momentous issue of monopoly rights in the air? Explain why the gifts of God to man, such as land, air, sunshine, should be monopolized by some fellows while all the living need either of them to live.

CLARK DECLARES TAFT UNGRATEFUL

Speaker of National House Answers Speech Made by President at Hamilton.

PRAISES THE WOOL BILL.

Alleges Misstatements of Facts by the Executive in Defense of His Vetoes.

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives, in a long statement today replied to charges made in President Taft's speech at Hamilton, Mass., last Saturday.

Among other things, he said if the tariff board is to be used as a pretext for delaying tariff revision downward the Democrats will cut off the supplies.

"President Taft's speech at Hamilton, Mass., last Saturday," said Speaker Clark, "can only be described as remarkable when the history of the recent past is taken into consideration. He essayed the rather large stunt of running amuck on both the Democrats and the insurgent Republicans in congress, singling out Chairman Underwood and myself particularly as Democratic targets. I accept his onslaught as a badge of honor.

Lack of Gratitude Charged.

"The President's criticism of Mr. Underwood and myself—which is essentially a criticism of all Democrats, in the house and senate, because all Democrats stood together—is absolutely uncalled for and is as ungrateful a performance as I can remember; for, if it had not been for the action of the Democrats in the house in both the Sixty-first and Sixty-second congresses in lining up almost unanimously in favor of reciprocity with Canada, he would have been the most thoroughly discredited and humiliated president since the days of Andrew Johnson.

"The president says we didn't play politics about reciprocity, but we did play politics about the tariff. The only politics we played was to keep faith with the people and redeem the promises we made in order to win the election in 1910, which is the best and noblest sort of politics. If any politics was played on reciprocity, the president himself played it—personal at that.

Proud of Democratic Record.

"We made the best record of constructive statesmanship made by any congress in the same length of time in a generation and that fact is precisely what caused the president to assail the Democrats in congress.

"In the teeth of his Winona speech and his other declarations to the effect that tariff rates were too high, and ought to be reduced, he vetoed our wool bill, which largely reduced the rates and would have greatly relieved the people by giving them much cheaper clothing and blankets.

"We stand for the best interests of the masses. He stands for a handful of protected tariff barons, and by his veto enables them to continue to levy unjust and exorbitant tribute upon the consumers of the land.

Refers to Taft's Conscience.

"It will be noted that the president's conscience would not permit him to sign a bill revising even one schedule—the wool schedule, the rates of which he declared to be too high, and in need of reduction—without recommendation from his board of non-experts, but he promptly signed the outrageous Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff bill without the counsel, advise, or tuition of any tariff board whatsoever.

"The president himself is a man of large general information, as well as a man of great ability, but certainly he is not enough of a tariff expert to justify him in vetoing tariff bills which passed the house by majorities of more than two to one.

Consideration of the Wool Bill.

"The president implies that he refused to sign the wool bill because it was introduced and rushed through without due consideration.

"Any tyro in arithmetic knows that as we devoted three months to one schedule and the framers of the Payne bill devoted on the average only two-sevenths of one month to each schedule, we devoted ten and one-half times as much time to a schedule as did Brother Payne and his Republican coadjutors on ways and means.

"In view of the foregoing facts, the president must have forgotten that all men were entitled to a square deal when he uttered this monstrous and preposterous sentence:

"'The bills bear internal evidence of the fact that they rested on a basis of not tariff for revenue only, but tariff for politics only.'

"The president rushed in to create an issue. We pick up the glove flung into our faces and the faces of the consumers of the land. We confidently believe the people will indorse our cause and give to us the victory, for we have right and truth and justice on our side."

CULLOM STARTS FIGHT TODAY

Arrives in Chicago, Hurries to Springfield, Opens Office.

AIDS READY TO REPORT.

Conference May Result with Deneen on State's Status.

The Illinois field managers for Senator Shelby M. Cullom begin to report at Springfield this morning for personal report to the senior senator from Illinois. They are expected to bring to him many glad tidings and assurances that it will be all one way—that there will be a Republican legislature in Springfield in 1913 and no substantial opposition to his own reëlection.

Preliminary arrangements have been made also, it is reported from Springfield, for a heart talk, probably tomorrow between Senator Cullom and Gov. Deneen, in which the Republican situation in Illinois will be closely canvassed.

Cullom Opens Headquarters.

Senator Cullom came in from Washington yesterday morning and was in Chicago just ten minutes. He departed for Springfield and saw only Collector of Customs John C. Ames.

The official christening of the new Leland hotel at Springfield as the once-again Republican political headquarters of Illinois was coincident with the arrival of Senator Cullom at the state capital. He established his personal headquarters immediately in the new hotel.

Among Senator Cullom's early conferees at the New Leland were Postmaster L. E. Wheeler, Assistant Postmaster W. H. Conkling, United States District Judge J Otis Humphrey, United States Attorney W. H. Northcott, and Assistant District Attorney H. A. Converse. Later State Auditor McCullough, Attorney General Stead, and a number of Springfield citizens called to pay their respects. Senator Cullom announced that he expects to remain in Springfield practically all the time until the latter part of November. He would say nothing after the conference.

Would Welcome Lorimer Votes.

Asked regarding reports that he would be given the solid backing of the so-called Lorimerites in case he chooses to be a candidate for reëlection, Senator Cullom's only reply was:

"Their votes will count the same as those of any other Republicans."

Senator Cullom had little to say during the ten minutes he remained in Chicago. He said he was glad to get away from Washington, and that the extra session of congress had dragged on quite too long to suit him.

The senior senator was apparently in perfect health as he changed trains at the union station. He will be 82 years old when he celebrates his birthday on Nov. 22, but he was spry, happy, and, to all indications, eager to swing into the political battle.

JONES DENOUNCES BOSS RULE.

Bushnell, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Senator Waltr Clyde Jones, candidate for governor on the progressive Republican ticket, spoke at the Bardolph chicken fry today to 5,000 persons. He told the program upon which he seeks office and denounced all "boss rule."

TAFT CENSURES THE STINGY RICH

President Scores Millionaires for Not Supplying Hampton with Funds.

MUST BEG FOR MONEY.

Institution for Education of Negro Should Not Be Compelled to Ask Alms, He Claims.

Manchester, Mass., Aug. 29.—Speaking in behalf of the Indian and negro industrial school at Hampton, Va., of which he is trustee, President Taft today voiced his indignation at the necessity that such useful institutions must beg for money and at the failure of the nation's many millionaires to come to their rescue with contributions.

Meeting at Coolidge Home.

The president spoke at a meeting held in the interests of Hampton at the home of Mrs. T. Jefferson Coolidge. He said:

"I always come in with a living protest—a protest of indignation—that an institution so useful, forming as it does the basis for our industrial schools, and suggesting a remedy and method of meeting the negro problem, should still be on a basis necessitating the organization of such meetings as this, and the begging for money enough to run it from year to year.

"We have lots of millionaires in this country. Why cannot the contributions be sufficiently large to put such an institution as Hampton on a basis that shall be self-supporting?

Lauds Booker Washington.

"Hampton graduated Booker T. Washington, and, as somebody has said, if it had not done anything else that alone would entitle it to the gratitude of the country. Booker Washington established Tuskegee, and from Tuskegee have sprung many schools of a similar character throughout the south.

"Northern generosity and donation with reference to southern educaton and the education of the negro have of course its fruits, and I don't want in any way to diminish the desire of those who wish to give. The negro is a citizen of the south, an important part of the industrial makeup of the south, and the negro therefore ought to come and is coming more and more under the guardianship of the south."

TAFT COMES HERE ON OCT. 27.

Fred L. Rossbach, president of the Hamilton club, yesterday received from Charles D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, a telegram confirming the engagement of the president to lay the cornerstone for the new club house now being erected on Dearborn street near Madison.

The president will arrive on the evening of Friday, Oct. 27, and remain until Monday, Oct. 30.

In addition to the ceremonies attending the laying of the cornerstone, the club is arranging a banquet in honor of President Taft.

MITCHELL BARS AN INQUIRY

Treasurer Denies Catherwood Chance to Investigate.

SLAP GIVEN TO 'REFORMERS.'

Illinois Official Would Permit Legislative Action.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Robert Catherwood, president of the civil service reform association of Chicago, will not be permitted to investigate the office of State Treasurer Mitchell. An emphatic refusal of such a request was written to Catherwood today by the treasurer.

"I would not object to an investigation conducted by the legislature or any regularly constituted authority," wrote the treasurer, "but without knowing more of your motive and purposes in the investigation you contemplate, I respectfully decline to allow the same."

A statement was given out by Treasurer Mitchell in regard to Catherwood's contention that most of the clerks in the treasurer's office should be classified under civil service. He says:

"The treasurer has interviewed many members of the legislature, and so far every one agrees that the intention of the law was to except every employé in the treasurer's officer, and the word 'watchman' was expressly added to the law to cover those positions in the treasurer's office and make the exemption of that office complete.

"A provision was also added to the law giving any officer who gave bond for the custody of public funds the right to discharge any employé who came in contact with such funds, without consulting the civil commission, a provision expressly applicable to the treasurer's office. Why give the treasurer the right to discharge and not the right to employ?

"The contention of the civil service board is in effect that it has the right to recommend all employés in the treasurer's office.

"The present treasurer feels that he was elected to this office by the people and has given bond according to law for the safe conduct of the same, and he does not feel justified in abrogating its most essential duties to a few 'reformers,' whose greatest anxiety is to exploit their personal views, regardless of any other interest."

"His Master's Voice"

Here is Uncle Sam. Dear old Uncle Sam, whom every American loves. Whom some foreign countries once hated but have learned to respect. Great Uncle Sam! Once a youth in the parley of nations, now sitting at the head of the diplomatic table of the world; and all this time growing because he symbolizes an individual who has listened to "His Master's Voice." He has heard, welcomed and heeded what each President of the United States has said, and he has grown successful and great, admired and loved because of the uniform wisdom and power of the utterances of the Presidents of the United States. What a magnificent tribute this is to what the Presidents have said!

There could be no better training for any mind than to read the matchless Messages—Essays—written by the Presidents, scrutinized by their Cabinet members and friends, and printed for perusal in all the languages of the world. They are exalting, ennobling, and all in all constitute the best chronological history that could possibly be written of the United States. But if you do not use it that way, you ought to have it on your library shelf for reference. You will be surprised at the amount of information you will accumulate regarding our United States progress and development, by just using this work a little each day, as suggested by your reading of the headlines of the daily paper. At the end of a year you will be astonished how much you know about your own country. Each message records the past, depicts the present and forecasts the future.

If you want to be prosperous individually and want to be patriotic for the good of the country, listen to your "Master's Voice," which is the voice of the heads of the nation—the great nation—the greatest nation on earth.

United States Senator B. R. Tillman said:

"I consider the 'Messages and Papers of the Presidents' one of the most valuable of all publications. It is a gold mine of historical and official information, and sheds light on many complicated international questions."

Washington at Cleveland.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

With the help of some splendiferous support in the early rounds, Senator Jimmy Scott won an exciting pitchers' combat yesterday from Joe Wood of Boston, by a score of 3 to 0, putting a scintillating finish to the final eastern invasion of the west, and giving the White Sox a clear title to fifth place.

The attack and defense of both teams was brilliant in spots, and so nearly evenly matched that superior generalship and a couple of fortunate breaks turned the scale Chicagoward. A slip by Yerkes in the third inning gave the White Sox the only run they needed to win, and a spectacular one handed catch by P. Bodie in the fourth was responsible for the failure of the visitors to score a run. Ping's circus feat robbed Wagner of a sure home run.

Scott was hit hard and often in the first four innings before he warmed up to his work, but swell fielding behind him cut off numerous hits. Before Bodie's performance in the fourth, McIntyre and Tannehill had pinched line drives that sang through the air, and Bodie himself took care of two line smashes. The enemy bunched three hits on Scott in the third inning, but there were two out when it happened, and quick thinking by Tannehill turned a dumb play by Speaker into a third out at the plate.

Scott Goes at High Speed.

By the fifth inning Scott was thoroughly warmed up and from that time on he hit a stride that made him invincible. The Red Sox had as much chance to score a run after that as they have of beating out the Athletics. Not a hit was made off Senator Jim from the fourth until two were out in the ninth inning. Then a crooked bounder shot past Lord, delaying the finish a couple of minutes.

Eight visiting batsmen were set down on strikes, three of them in rapid succession in the eighth inning when Scott was going at top speed. Twice in the earlier rounds the Senator passed a batsman. One of them he caught napping off first. Scott distributed his whiffs in pairs, getting Riggert, Yerkes, Nunamaker and Wood twice apiece on strikes.

Wood pitched a sterling game and was going best at the start. He pitched himself out of a deep hole in the first inning by striking out Callahan, Bodie, and McConnell in a row with two runs waiting to score. In all Wood registered nine strikeouts to Scott's eight, and allowed six hits to Scott's five. Two White Sox were handed passes. Both pitchers had terrific speed and used it with telling effect. Even the fouls that were hit were vicious ones, and when ball and bat met squarely the former traveled fast. The field work of the White Sox was perfection all the way and the Red Sox gave Wood strong backing except when their spikes slipped.

Speaker Caught Off First.

Scott saved himself a bunch of trouble in the first inning after he had passed Speaker by catching Tris napping off first base. That made two out. Engle sent a sizzling single to right and Lewis soaked one to left, but Tannehill was within reach of the latter smash and pulled it down, retiring the side.

McIntyre was passed in the home half and Lord poked a little fly safely over Wagner's head. That was where Wood shone brightest. He speeded up and fanned the next three White Sox in succession.

Trouble brewed in the third after two were out. Speaker singled to center and Engle repeated with one that nearly took a leg off the Senator as it shot into center. Speaker was stopped on second by Bodie's throw. Lewis hit a bounder that shot off Scott's mitt. Tannehill got it when the ball came down, but too late to throw out the runner. He made the bluff, however, and Speaker, who had rounded third, dashed for the plate. Tannehill switched and fired to Block, nipping Speaker easily.

In their half the Sox scored. Scott flied and McIntyre struck out, but Lord gained a life when Yerkes fumbled his fast bounder and failed to locate it among his feet in time to make the throw. Callahan waited until Lord stole second cleanly, then delivered a hit to right on which the captain rode home with the first run. Bodie rainbowed to Lewis.

Bodie Makes Star Catch.

Gardner opened the fourth with a line drive to Bodie and Wagner tore off one in the same direction. It went out so fast that it looked out of all reach. Bodie wheeled and started for the back fence, hoping against hope. The wind checked the ball slightly. Just as it was sailing past him Bodie wheeled again, reached out his mit and the ball stuck there for keeps. That was the last hard hit off Scott. He struck out Yerkes, ending that inning, and from there to the finish it was a steady procession of outs until the ninth. Speaker and Engle were disposed of in the final spasm, when Lewis singled into left. Gardner bounded one to Tannehill for the final out.

The White Sox did not get to Wood again until the sixth round. Lord started that rally by striking out. Callahan worked Joe for a pass and Bodie singled to left. Foxy Jimmy sneaked a long lead off second and stole third with a pretty fallaway slide that avoided Gardner's touch. Bodie remained on first, but his mistake did not prove costly. McConnell rapped a hard one to Yerkes and Callahan tried to score on it, but was cut off at the plate, Bodie going down to second on the play. Tannehill stepped in with a pinch hit to center, scoring Ping. The throw home let Lee to second and Mullen straightened out a liner to center, but Speaker grabbed it out of the wind.

Callahan Scores Final Run.

A pass to Scott was unproductive in the eighth because Block already was out and McIntyre and Lord could not deliver the needed safeties. But in the ninth the thing was cinched. Callahan opened with a screamer to left center. Lewis ran over and partially blocked the hit with one hand, but it kept righ on going. Speaker slipped and fell trying to reach it and before he could get up and corral the ball Callahan was on third. Bodie's out by way of Wagner and Engle did not let the run in, but McConnell poked a short fly to left and Callahan scored on it. Little Mac stole second, only to be left there. Tannehill struck out; Mullen walked and was forced out by Scott.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Next game on Friday.

White Sox at Ottumwa today.

Comiskey's men have only ten more games to play on their own grounds this year.

Block and Nunamaker ran a dead heat on putouts, but Nunamaker had the edge on his rival because he obtained an assist.

Center field was a busy place all day. Bodie nailed five flies and Speaker got three in addition to several safe hits they had to stop.

The White Sox still have a chance to win the season's series with Boston, but they will have to take four straight from the Red Sox in Boston to do it, as the count now is 10 to 8 in Boston's favor.

Wood went right down the line with his strikeouts. Every one except Charley Mullen succumbed by the whiff route some time during the day, and McIntyre was set down that way twice.

When Callahan stole third in the sixth inning Bodie was not expecting it, and, after getting a late start, turned back to first while the ball was traveling to third. Apparently Ping thought Nunamaker might throw to second.

After Lewis singled with two out in the ninth Block pegged to Mullen, and it looked as if Lewis did not quite get back to first when he slid, but Umpire Mullen, who was in the vicinity of second base, called him safe. Charley Mullen appealed to Evans without avail, and it made no difference a minute later when Gardner groundered out.

Chicago and Cleveland will play a seven game series beginning Friday, and when it's over somebody will be in fifth place. The Naps come here for four games in three days, opening with a double header on Friday. On Sunday night the two teams will jump to Cleveland for two games on Labor day and one on Tuesday.

TIGERS WIN GAME IN 11TH, 9-8; CRAWFORD'S HIT TURNS TIDE.

Detroit Slugger Doubles with Bases Full—Wild Throw Sends Bush Home with Needed Tally.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29.—After Jack Coombs apparently had won the game for Philadelphia by driving in two runs with his homer in the eleventh, Crawford doubled with the bases full in Detroit's half, scoring Tutweiler and Lathers, and when Lord threw wild to third Bush came home with the run that gave the Tigers a 9 to 8 victory.

Detroit found Morgan for five runs in the fifth, and when he walked Drake in the sixth he was replaced by Danforth, who held Detroit to two singles in four innings. Philadelphia's battery was derricked in the ninth to allow Lapp and Coombs to hit, and the pinch hitters drove in the two runs that tied the score. In the eleventh Lapp again singled, and Coombs' homer past Cobb put Philadelphia in the lead.

Jones then replaced Baumann and singled. Tutweiler ran for Jones. Stanage struck out. Lathers, batting for Works, smashed a fierce drive at Collins which took a false bound and struck Collins on the nose, putting him out of the game, Derrick taking his place. Bush got an infield hit. Cobb flied to Baker, and then Crawford banged his double past Barry, which won the game.

A physician who treated Collins stated the latter's nose was badly bruised, but not broken. Score:

WHY IS THE BOSS MUCKER?

What sustains this Horace Fogel in his anarchistic course?
How is it that he dares to muck it so?
Has he something on the rest of them that makes him such a force?
Perhaps he has. We don't know.

We never knew exactly when or where he did come in,
Nor what mission he was slated to fulfill.
All the "expert" information on that point was rather thin—
Just a stall, if you will.

The power that lies behind him lies persistently behind;
It never has been pushed into the light.
A man who plays as he plays must have something in the blind,
Covered up and out of sight.

Would there be a way to reach him if the other seven stuck—
Some civilizing influence to bear,
To sit on him and hold him when he tries to run amuck?
Can it be they do not dare?

PITY THE POOR PAN FISH.

A contemplation of how many ways the bettor's money has to go and how many grafters and schools of grafters from pilldroppers to "gents higher up" have to get a crack at it before it gets into actual play on the issue of a horse race, should be enough in itself to hammer home the proof positive that "you can't beat the races." The game is "strong" enough when the player has to match his wits against the wits and "percentage" of the dealer, but when the expense of dealing absorbs 50 cents of every dollar staked before it is staked and the "percentage" has to be strengthened to meet the deficit, what—to put the question abruptly—what chance?

Horse gambling has been reduced to the last agonies of an incurable disease. The real "producers," coming to appreciate what they were up against, have abandoned it. Those dealers who, according to the "exposures," have to pay so much for the privilege of dealing, are dealing only for les miserables, the incurables—the "pan fish," in the vernacular. It's "hard money" that these poor wretches dig up to bet against such withering odds, and the man who takes any part of it, especially without risking any of his own against it, can have no more conscience than a roach has a soul.

If Chief McWeeny is right in his contention that gambling we have and shall have with us always—if it is a condition that must be met, why not meet it fairly and by eliminating the invisible rake-off allow the gamblers to give their victims a sporting chance for their heart's blood?

IN THE STRETCH.

Getting thicker
Round the ticker,
Growing eager and more eager
For the information meager
That comes rolling off the tape.
In the shop there's nothing doing
But the arguing and chewing,
Jawing, pawing, clawing, stewing,
As the "ribbon" makes escape.
One unfailing sign of autumn:
When each mother's son has got 'em,
When the help from other regions
Of the office come in legions,
And swarm into the corner
Where they hear the ticker tick.
When it comes right down to cases
In the frenzied pennant races,
When the clubs are shifting places
Do they work?
Why not a lick!

WALTER JOHNSON BEATS NAPS.

Idaho Wonder Holds Cleveland to Four Hits, One a Homer, Washington Winning, Two to One.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 29.—Cleveland was unable to hit Johnson and Washington won its first game on the local grounds this season, 2 to 1. Kaler fanned eight in the first five innings, but was hit hard from then on. Ball's error, however, resulted in Washington's first run. Cleveland escaped a shutout when Easterly, batting for Kaler in the ninth, hit over the right field wall for a home run, the third time the feat has been accomplished. Score:

BASES ON BALLS BEAT CARDS

St. Louis Practically Gives Game to New York, 7 to 5.

JOHNSTONE CHASES PLAYERS

Sends Extra Visiting Pitchers and Utility Men from the Field.

New York, Aug. 29.—St. Louis practically gave today's game to New York, the Cardinals' pitchers presenting the locals with twelve bases on balls. The Giants lost many chances to swell their total runs, having fourteen men left on bases. Oakes and Ellis made great catches, the former spearing Merkle's terrific drive over his head in deep center by a jumping one handed catch. In the sixth inning, while St. Louis was in the field Umpire Johnstone cleared the visitors' bench, sending all the extra pitchers and utility men, fourteen in number, off the field. Score:

BY SAM WELLER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—During an entire afternoon of pastiming under leaky skies, the Cubs and Phillies managed to play one game of a scheduled double header and the Cubs took a beating because they blundered once and erred twice. These miscues, coupled with bits of wild pitching by big Ed Reulbach, caused their downfall by a score of 5 to 3.

As is customary in these days of strenuous games, the champions got away to a bully start, only to get muddled a bit later, and let the enemy come from behind and win the game. They struggled gamely for their three runs and blew up and tossed enough runs to the Phillies to give them the victory.

Reulbach's wildness in one inning had much do with the beating, but not all by a good deal. Heine Zim tried to get a fly ball away from Schulte just at the most critical time of all, with the result that neither one got it, and two runners crossed the plate on the blunder.

Umpire Klem Misses Strike.

This tied the score and later on when the home club had a runner on third and one on second and two out, Umpire Klem refused to give Ruelbach a strike on a curve ball that Tom Needham declares cut the plate between the batter's waist and knees. The batter was allowed to walk on it and Sherwood Nottingham Magee then came up with his mighty bat and whaled the ball to left field, driving home two runs and that won the game.

During the afternoon a crowd of about 7,000 persons raved like madmen from the grand stand and bleachers. The episode of chucking a rooter out of the park on the previous day had aroused the whole town and the fans gathered early for the double header with apparent intent of making things disagreeable for the umpires and visiting players.

They fairly screamed things at the visitors and officials, but there never was an attempt to put any one out of the grounds, for it would have been a case of putting them all out. Luckily for the umpires, the home team won the game, and the crowd dispersed peaceably.

Rain Prevents First Contest.

The first game was booked to start at 1:30 p. m., and ten minutes before that time a light drizzling rain began to fall. The players went to the shelter of the benches, while groundkeepers hurried the canvas out to protect the home plate and the pitcher's slab. The rain lasted only ten minutes, then cleared away, and the sun came out for a short time. Not enough rain had fallen to hurt the grounds in the least, but the clouds had kept the crowd away, only about 5,000 being present at the time, when 15,000 were expected.

The club magnates saw a chance to frisk a few more sheckels from the common people by delaying the start until it would be too late to play two games, thereby enabling them to double up again tomorrow and at the same time keep all the change that had come in at the gate today.

Consequently, after a delay of nearly a half hour, when they could have been playing, the umpire announced the first game had been postponed, and the second would be played starting at 3 o'clock, weather permitting. In the meantime, more patrons were pouring out to the grounds encouraged by the clearing away of the clouds and expecting to see two games when they got there. After buying their tickets and getting in, they learned only one game was to be played, and that would not start for nearly an hour.

In the meantime the players were practicing and fooling out on the diamond and field, as if there had been no rain at all. Finally when 3 o'clock was approaching, more clouds began to come up and it threatened to rain some more and the magnates hurried things then, starting the game ten minutes ahead of time so as to get enough of it played before the rain came to keep the money.

Not more than three innings had been finished when it began to rain again and the rest of the game was played in a drizzle that soaked the players and the bleacher fans.

Reulbach was chosen by Manager Chance, for the big fellow had his speed and control when warming up. He had plenty of stuff and the wildness wouldn't have caused him trouble if it had not come just at the time that Jimmy Doyle had picked for a wild throw and just when Heine Zim and F. Schulte should get so muddled on which one should catch an easy fly ball. Only eight hits were made off Big Ed and he kept them well scattered.

He was opposed by the tall and successful Young Chalmers, who has done so well this season with his spit ball. He was hit much harder than Reulbach, but received splendid support in the tight places.

Cubs Away to Good Start.

Good clouting and base running gave the Cubs two runs in the first. Sheckard opened with a drive against the right wall for two bases. He moved to third on Schulte's out and scored when Tinker singled to center. Joe then stole second, and when Heine Zim smashed to Doolan, Tinker was nipped going to third. Zimmie then stole second and scored when Doyle dropped a long fly close to the left foul line for two bases. Hofman's fly closed the round.

Reulbach's wildness aided by Doyle's wild throw and one single gave the Phillies three runs and the lead in the second. One was out when Luderus and Doolan walked. Madden bounded to Doyle, who heaved a bit wild to first base, the ball hitting Madden and bounding off to the grand stand. Luderus scored. Doolan went to third, and Madden to second. Chalmers fanned, then Knabe raised an easy fly to right field, but Heine Zim went dashing back after it and scared Schulte so badly that the latter stopped and let the ball fall to the ground about five feet in front of him. Both Doolan and Madden scored. Knabe next tried to steal second, but Needham shot him dead with a perfect peg.

In the sixth the Cubs put one run over, tying the score. One was out when the Heine Zim busted one against the right field fence for two bases. Doyle beat out a bounder to Doolan, Zimmie taking third. Hofman then smashed one to Knabe and Doyle was forced at second, but Doolan made a wild throw to first trying for a double play, the ball going to the stand, while Heine Zim scored and Hofman took second. Saier fanned for the third out.

Phils Rally for Two Runs.

A seventh inning rally netted the Philadelphias two runs and a decision by Umpire Klem helped greatly. Madden, the first batter, was safe on Tinker's boot. Chalmers then tried to bunt and pushed a single to right field, when Saier fell down going after it. Knabe sacrificed and Paskert hit to Doyle, who shot home, nailing Madden at the plate. Lobert was the next batter and, with the call three and two on him, Ruelbach curved one apparently right over the plate, but Klem called it a ball, which let the man walk. Needham raised a terrific roar, but it did no good. Sherwood Magee then came up and smashed the first ball pitched for a single to left, scoring Chalmers and Paskert. Beck grounded to Saier for the third out.

The Cubs had chances to score in each of the last three innings, but could not produce the timely single in any of them.

SAM WELLERISMS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—A double header will be attempted tomorrow, and if it rains it will be tried again on the next day.

"Red" Dooin watched the game from the porch of the clubhouse. It was the first bit of pastiming the hustling leader of the Phillies has seen since the day his leg was broken in St. Louis.

"Peaches Graham's throwing hand is swelled up like a boxing glove and Jimmy Archer is nursing a bruised finger, so Tom Needham is the only catcher on the job these days. If Tom should go down the P. L. would have to go back of the bat.

M. Brown is greatly peeved because the morning papers blamed him for the riot of yesterday, saying he had asked Klem to have the offending rooter put out of the grounds. And Brownie has been working against offending rooters for some eight years.

Horace Fogel called upon the scribes in the press stand while they were waiting for the game to begin and did a lot of talking for publication, telling just what he thought of President Tom Lynch and his umpires, but the boys decided the things he said weren't fit for publication.

The Philadelphia club is making an effort to procure Jack Kleinow, once catcher for the New York Americans. He is expected to help Hack Spencer, Madden, and Pat Moran.

Mr. F. Schulte has a steely glint in his eye these days and vows he'll have a home run inside of twenty-four hours. In five attempts today he couldn't even get a single and his ire is thoroughly aroused. Once he tried to dodge a wild pitch and the ball hit his home run bat and broke it, but Frank has its duplicate to use tomorrow.

HACK ANALYZED BY QUEENSBERRY

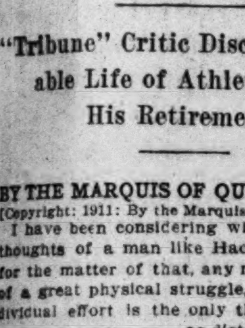
Scottish Marquis Finds Russian a Student as Well as a Wrestler.

READER OF GOOD BOOKS.

"Tribune" Critic Discusses Probable Life of Athlete After His Retirement.

BY THE MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY.
[Copyright: 1911: By the Marquis of Queensberry.]

I have been considering what must be the thoughts of a man like Hackenschmidt, or for the matter of that, any man, on the eve of a great physical struggle, where the individual effort is the only thing to rely on as distinct from being one spoke in the wheel of a "team." The difference, to a man who is more in a profession in which he excels rather than in a game in which he revels supplies so much food for thought—intangible, psychic reflection.



I am quite sure—and this idea is confirmed by a friend of mine who has known the Russian for years—that Hackenschmitt is only in wrestling still because he feels that he has such an established reputation that he is impelled to continue by force against which he cannot combat continually.

It is not exactly that the Russian wants to "turn money away," although Hack is not avaricious. He knows the value of it, yes, and the power, or rather in his case, the comfort of it. But he is the applauded of crowds, the comrade of professionals, and a man with a reputation which gains him new friends all the time.

Hack a Natural Athlete.

Think it out as I have tried to do. Step in Hack's shoes for a moment and endeavor in your cleared sense to follow the skein and you may be in accord.

Suppose you were introduced to the man with a German name and he was presented as plain Mr. Schmidt—he speaks English well enough to be Smith—you would simply remark even in his ordinary clothes that he was an athlete by his abnormally developed shoulders. It would be natural to think of him as a gymnast, but yet he might be dismissed with just the inevitable suggestion when you spoke to him.

Hack is essentially a man with an artistic temperament, a lover of pleasure, a tireless traveler, a reveler in occasional solitude, and the last man you could imagine for a showman, for—he is a gentleman.

The Russian says he is not a good business man and he has always been averse to taking chances. This is based on a well ordered mind—that of the careful man capable of "making his economies," as the French say. He likes to know the extent of his earnings from an engagement, and leaves nothing to chance, or many a time he might have made more money. He likes, however, to know exactly what he is going for—it saves just one of those extra worries of life and therefore gives repose. He is a sentimentalist, a deep thinker, and a man who while he can listen yet can most lucidly explain his own thoughts and opinions.

Takes Profession Seriously.

Hack works; he theorizes on possible attacks and imitates the best mode of defense against possible new ideas on the part of an adversary. Still, he is a wrestler by accident of nature making him of Herculean strength and abnormal build, but he is, before anything, a pleasure lover, artist, and boon companion—ask his friends.

Getting up at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, what did he think of, for instance, when he went for his walk? He was discussing a chapter of Gibbon he had just read, for he is absorbed in the "Decline and Fall" but unlike the immortal Mr. Boffin and his literary adviser, Mr. Wegg, he knows every historic fact with the appreciation of a natural scholar. Yet, without knowing, I should say that Hackenschmidt has to a great extent educated himself.

During his walk Hack's fresh, boyish disposition came out in him; he threw a ball and ran after it, and few men—and certainly none of his weight—could sprint a hundred yards against him. The walk, as usual, took about an hour and a half. Back to breakfast, as usual, he ate sparingly. He takes a steak or a half of a large chicken, with fruit for luncheon, and makes dinner his big meal of the day.

No Rubdown After Bath.

Before his breakfast and after the walk he takes his bath, but is not rubbed down. He is not a believer in it, but has his muscles massaged later in the morning. Fully dressed, he goes for a stroll down to the bathing station—yesterday he took a swim for the first time for several days and then more reading—no newspapers, but a change from Gibbon to a book of Wilde's or Tolstoi's. [A peculiarity of the man is that he will read an important work with cut pages patiently, but a Tauchnitz cheap edition he will tear off the pages as he reads them. It is not impatience at their uncut edges, but a phase of his nature. There is work in the afternoon—not heavy, and more reading. He goes to his bedroom about 9:30, but not always to bed.

Sitting in his pajamas, Hack will play Canfield sometimes by the hour, asking the cards to answer him pressing questions which are uppermost in his mind, and maybe he has read his fate as regards finance, friendship, affairs of the heart, but this latter is distinctly his own private business. He has not "card sense" or the "card mind" to give him any taste for games, but his beloved "patience" is a part of that mind and nature which makes Hackenschmidt the man so attractive to the student of human nature.

Hack an Accomplished Linguist.

When, finally, he leaves the world of showmen, it need not follow that he will give up sport. Many of his friends have speculated where he will live and what occupation he will follow—of course as a hobby. Perhaps he decided that for himself when in the many days he pursued a lonely journey with his own thoughts in Palestine. He was accompanied only by a guide, and able linguist as Hack is, they had no common tongue in which to converse. Incidentally he speaks German as well as his native Russian, talks delightful French, and reference has been made to his English. But what will be do when he retires? Possibly live in a rural district of some country where they only talk a patois!

Perhaps Hack will settle down at his present pied à terre—the bungalow at Shoreham, on the south coast of England. Here are stored his souvenirs, his pictures, his books.

BUSY DAY FOR "RUSSIAN LION."

Hack Goes on the Road Three Times and Takes a Plunge in the Lake.

In preparation for his match with Frank Gotch at the Sox park on Monday, George Hackenschmidt put in a strenuous day's work at his north side training camp. He did road work three times and took a plunge in the lake for the first time since he contracted a slight cold last week. President Comiskey of the White Sox became a wrestling fan last night. During the absence of the Sox today Commy will become acquainted with Hack. Matchmaker Coffey and Comiskey held a meeting last night to arrange for accommodations for the 200 newspaper men and also for the canopy over the ring. The Empire A. C. has appointed Drs. A. E. Price and J. J. Davis official physicians of the club to examine the wrestlers before they go upon the mat.

PLAY TENNIS SEMI-FINALS

VICTORS IN COMBAT TODAY.

Dr. James Dwight, President of Association, Declines Re-election.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 29.—Quick, decisive matches marked the semi-finals of the all comers' tournament for the national tennis championship today, Maurice E. McLoughling of San Francisco defeating Gustave F. Touchard of New York, 6—2, 6—4, 6—3, and Beals C. Wright of Boston putting out Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, 6—4, 6—3, 6—1. McLoughlin and Wright will meet in the finals tomorrow.

The two matches were singularly alike, for in each case the winners got the jump on their opponents at the start and never let up, while their own defense was strong at all times.

McLoughlin began like a whirlwind, and when Touchard managed to reach the net McLoughlin lobbed over his head or passed him with some wonderfully fast shots. Touchard made a good stand in the second set, but McLoughlin soon ran it out, and the third and deciding set was run off in quick time.

Wright Has Sweet Revenge.

In the meantime Wright had been paying up an old score of a year's standing, for it was in the last tournament that Bundy put out the former champion in the finals. The first set was a fine battle, with Wright running in on the service and holding Bundy to the back of the court. The Californian could not seem to get his game going and, while the set reached four all, Wright ran it out in fine style. The second set reached two all, and then Wright jumped into the lead again. Bundy won one game and scored only twelve points in the third set. Summaries:

Maurice E. McLoughlin, San Francisco, defeated Gustave F. Touchard of New York, 6—2, 6—4, 6—3.

Beals C. Wright, Boston, defeated Thomas C. Bundy, Los Angeles, 6—4, 6—3, 6—1.

Dwight Refuses Presidency.

An incident of considerable interest to the tennis world was the announcement today by Dr. James Dwight of Boston that he would decline reëlection as president at the annual meeting of the National Lawn Tennis association next winter.

Dr. Dwight's service covers more than two decades, his elevation to the presidency following a few years after he and Richard D. Sears of Boston had won the doubles championship for the sixth consecutive year.

COLD WAVE STRIKES HUMBOLDT

Fall in Temperature Which Retards Training Is Not Welcomed by Champion Gotch and His Trainers.

Humboldt, Ia., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Extremely cool weather which has arrived in Iowa with apparent intention of staying is not welcome at the Humboldt wrestling quarters of Frank Gotch, the world's title holder, because it intereferes with his training, retarding the sweating out process so essential to condition, and increasing the danger of colds and stiffness. Thus far Gotch has escaped these evil effects which are reported to have bothered Hackenschmidt. The amount of handball with Joe Rogers, which always precedes the afternoon wrestling, has been increased since the cold wave arrived.

Gotch is expected to leave here either tomorrow or Thursday for Chicago to complete his training. The champion would not say this was his plan, but the report was generally current about the camp.

No information is forthcoming as to where Gotch's headquarters will be after he arrives in Chicago. His trainers have intimated he will be kept from public view as much as possible.

U. S. MARINE CORPS WINS SHOOT.

Gets Grand Aggregate Over All Ranges of 3,180 of Possible 3,600 at Camp Perry, O.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 29.—The ninth annual national rifle team match, conducted under the auspices of the war department, was won today by the team representing the United States marine corps with a grand aggregate over all ranges of 3,180 of a possible 3,600 for twelve men teams. Although the United States infantry led the field at all ranges from the 200 yards rapid fire, the magnificent skirmish run of the marines, in which they scored 1,085 of a possible 1,200, gave them the victory. The other winners in class A in order are: United States infantry with 3,118; United States navy, 3,113; and Massachusetts with 3,101. The winners in the other classes are as follows: Class B, Kansas, with 3,050; West Virginia, 3,027; Arizona, 2,978; Florida, 2,963. Class C, Tennessee with 2,851; Delaware with 2,819; Virginia, 2,797; North Dakota, 2,788.

Racine, 11; Aurora, 7.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 29.—Racine won a weird game from Aurora today, 11 to 7. Siebert was hit hard, the visitors getting fourteen hits. Score:

Aurora ....0 0 2 2 0 2 0 0 1—7
Racine ....0 0 3 0 1 2 2 2 1—11

SHOER OF HARNESS NAGS DIES.

W. A. Rawson, Foot Doctor for Star Pointer, Lou Dillon, and Uhlan, Passes Away at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 29.—W. A. Rawson, a blacksmith known throughout the horse world as the most expert horseshoer in America, died today of congestion of the lungs. In 1896, when James A. Murphy of Chicago purchased Star Pointer he sent for Rawson, then conducting a shop in that city, to have the horse, a confirmed knee hitter, properly shod and balanced. Rawson straightened out Star Pointer to such an extent that he paced a mile in 1:59¼, a new worlds' record. Since then he had shod Lou Dillon, Uhlan, and numerous other holders of world's records.

THREE IN TIE AT BEVERLY

Trio of Players Score 161 in Invitation Event.

VETERANS OUT IN FORCE.

First Match Round of Play for Five Cups Scheduled for Today.

H. R. Shollenberger, the home champion, E. Olson of South Shore, and Dr. A. F. Henning of South Shore tied for low score in the invitation tournament of the Beverly Country club yesterday and will play off for the medal. All three had scores of 161. P. J. Roy and Charles Baker, two of Beverly's stalwarts, being one stroke behind the leading trio.

The tournament is open to players of 30 years of age and over seventy contestants took part, making the addition of a fifth flight necessary. A strong northeasterly breeze helped to swell the scores. The first match round is scheduled for today and players must report not later than 2:30 p. m.

MOTOR CONTROL AT ADE FARM.

Noon Stop on First Day of October Reliability Run to Include a Chicken Dinner.

Hazelden, George Ade's farm near Lafayette Ind., will be the first noon control in the Chicago Motor club's five state reliability tour, to be started Oct. 6, and the drivers and officials will be entertained by the playwright as long as they can be persuaded to remain at his place, just outside the village of Brook. Mr. Ade promises as one of the big attractions a chicken dinner. The cars will be parked in the little woods which adjoin his grounds, and in case of rain they will be parked in his barn and hay sheds.

WOMEN GOLFERS IN KEEN MATCHES

Four Contests in First Round of Championship Won by Small Margins.

MISS HELMER IS VICTOR.

Midlothian Player Defeats Miss Clark of Waukegan at the Nineteenth Hole.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

As was anticipated, the meeting of Miss Myra Helmer of Midlothian and Miss Inez Clark of the Glen Flora club of Waukegan furnished the feature match of the first round in the women's western golf championship at the Homewood Country club yesterday, the home player winning on the nineteenth green. Three of the other seven matches reached the home green, while the other four were won by goodly margins.

Seven of the survivors are from Chicago clubs, Mrs. E. R. Whitcomb of the Milwaukee Country club being the only visiting player to reach the second round. Midlothian has three players left in, but two of these, Miss Myra Helmer and Miss Alva Sanders, the club champion, will meet today, while Skokie, which has two survivors, is in the same predicament, as Miss Katherine Forrest will have to meet Mrs. Percy Manchester. Miss Caroline Painter, who is at the top of the first half of the draw, is expected to have a hard match with Mrs. F. S. Colburn, the lone representative of the Evanston club.

Scores Are Mediocre.

Scores in general were about on a par with those of the medal round, a strong northeasterly breeze again proving a handicap, while the morning air was crisp enough to be uncomfortable.

Miss Helmer and Miss Clark played close golf on the out round, neither doing anything spectacular, although Miss Clark got a half on the fifth hole by the aid of a twenty foot putt. Miss Clark was 1 up at the turn, and by making another twenty foot putt at the eleventh hole led 2 up. Miss Helmer then took three straight, holing a thirty foot putt on the sixth green. She was stymied on a short putt on the next hole, and as Miss Clark got a fine three on the home green the match was all square. Both sliced to the sand trap on their drives for the extra hole, but Miss Helmer jumped out. Miss Clark tried to play for the pin, but went into another bunker and then pitched into the water. Miss Helmer was well over the creek in 2 and won, 5—7. Cards:

Miss Helmer—Out..5 4 6 5 6 6 7 7—50
Miss Clark—Out...6 4 6 4 6 6 5 7 5—49
Miss Helmer—In....5 4 6 5 3 6 6 4—45—95
Miss Clark—In.....5 4 7 6 4 6 6 3—46—95

Miss Katherine Forrest had one of the best out rounds of the day in her match with Miss Eustis. With an approximated seven at the ninth hole, she had 47. She won the first five holes and was 4 up at the turn, Miss Eustis taking 51. Miss Forrest came home in 51 and Miss Eustis in 55. Mrs. Manchester went out in 49 against Miss Knapp, finishing the out round 1 up. Coming home Mrs. Manchester took three of the six holes played. Miss Painter went too fast for Mrs. Haskell, who showed lack of practice. The home player scored 50 and was 3 up at the turn, Mrs. Haskell taking 52. Of the next six holes Miss Painter won three and Mrs. Haskell two.

The driving contest was won by Miss Clark with a score of 26, Miss Eustis taking second prize with 23. There were several ties in the approaching and putting contest, which will be played off today.

RODGERS TO TRY LONG FLIGHT

Aviator Announces Plans for Trip from Coast to Coast.

START FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Duration Prize Winner at Local Meet Secures Backing for $20,000.

Neenah, Wis., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—C. P. Rodgers, who won duration honors in the Chicago aviation meet, today announced that he would make an attempt to fly from San Francisco to New York, starting within two weeks. Rodgers will be backed by a cash register company, with financial support of $20,000 to meet the expense of the flight, upon condition that he carry a register with him on the trip.

Rodgers will make the flight in a Curtiss biplane. He leaves for Chicago soon to begin preparations for the attempt. Mr. Rodgers states that he is confident such a flight is possible, and hopes to win the $50,000 offered by a New York newspaper for such a flight.

Fowler a Formal Entrant.

New York, Aug. 29.—Robert G. Fowler of Los Angeles is announced tonight as the first formal entrant in the coast to coast aeroplane flight contest. Fowler, who will fly a biplane in his projected transcontinental trip, is expected to start from San Francisco on Sunday, Sept. 10. His route calls for a crossing of the Rockies between Laramie and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Minneapolis Has Ambitions.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 29.—Minneapolis has been invited to join with the Aero club of St. Louis in the promotion of a 1,500 mile aeroplane flight from this city to New Orleans. Wallace G. Nye of the Minneapolis Commercial club has received advices from St. Louis that this city may have the start if it shows sufficient interest to contribute to a $15,000 prize fund. Mr. Nye will submit the proposal to the public affairs committee.

St. Louis Withdraws Balloon.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 29.—The Million Population club announced today that it has withdrawn its entrant from the international balloon race to start Oct. 5 from Kansas City because of the recent rule requiring rubberized gas bags. The club's balloon, a cotton bag, with John Berry pilot, won in the preliminary race last July the right to compete in the international.

"Aerial Derby" at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 29.—What the Kentucky Derby is to horseracing the "Elks aerial derby" may in time become in the estimation of aviation enthusiasts. At least the Louisville lodge of Elks has obtained the sanction of the Aero Club of America for the first aerial derby in the country on Saturday.

Congressman Up in the Air.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Undaunted by unfavorable atmospheric conditions, Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky made his first flight in an aeroplane today and gained the distinction of being the first person outside of army circles to be taken up as a passenger in any of the machines being flown at the army aviation school at College Park, Md. The Kentuckian made the trip with Lieut. Harry H. Arnold, remained in the air twenty minutes, and attained a height of 600 feet.

Howell Beats Ray Bronson.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—Tommy Howell of Philadelphia was given the decision over Ray Bronson of Indianapolis in twelve rounds of clean fighting at the Armory Athletic association tonight. Both men gave a scientific exhibition of boxing with comparatively little slugging.

FIGHT MANAGERS FINALLY AGREE

All Differences Cropping Up in Wolgast-McFarland Bout Settled.

RAISE PRICE OF SEATS.

Will Cost Fans $10 to Sit at Ringside on Night of Sept. 15; Gossip of the Rialto.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

At a meeting yesterday at which Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, Emil Thiry, who looks after the interests of Packey McFarland, and Frank Mulkern, promoter of the National A. C. of Milwaukee, under whose auspices the ten round bout between Wolgast and McFarland will be decided on Sept. 15, were present, all obstacles which possibly can prevent the match from taking place were overcome. Both fighters have settled down to hard training for the match, which promises to attract more interest than any bout held in this section since the boxing lid was clamped on in Chicago.

After a lengthy conference in which the price of ringside seats was the bone of contention, Mulkern finally agreed to charge $10 for all ringside seats. Jones thought the price of these tickets should be boosted from $5 to $10, and he finally convinced Thiry and Mulkern. Tickets have been placed on sale at the corner of Clark and Adams streets and at 134 Clark street.

McFarland started training yesterday at O'Connell's and gave a large crowd of spectators a real exhibition. Packey took on Ernie Zanders for two rounds and Chuck Larson for another two round session. In these tilts McFarland displayed all the speed and cleverness which has made him one of the classiest boxers in the lightweight ranks. After his workout, which was rather strenuous for the first day, the majority of persons who saw the exhibition said Packey would cut Wolgast to ribbons over the short route, and also said Wolgast's only chance for the popular verdict was by the knockout route.

Tom Jones has made arrangements for the lightweight champion to do all his training at a camp outside of Milwaukee. Jones said Wolgast has been doing light work at his home in Cadillac, Mich., and the manager believes his fighter will need little work to put him in shape for the battle.

According to Mulkern, $26,000 worth of tickets already have been sold, and the promoter expects at least a $50,000 house. Special trains will be run from Chicago to the scene of battle.

Tony Caponi, the local middleweight, is after matches with Papke, Klaus, and Thompson. Tony said he had issued challenges to these fighters, but asserted none of them want his game.

Danny Goodman has been matched to meet "Young" Donahue at Quincy, Ill., on Labor day. According to the agreement the fighters will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock. Goodman also has been matched to meet Grover Hayes at Dayton, O., on Oct. 4. In this bout the fighters will box twenty rounds and the weight will be 133 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Mickey Sheridan and Jack McHenry boxed four fast rounds at O'Connell's. Sheridan has a bout with Freddie Daniels at St. Joe, Mo., on Labor day, and the ex-jockey is doing a lot of hard preparatory work.

In boxing with Packey McFarland, Ernie Zanders finished his training for his ten round bout with Tommy Sheehan before the Shamrock A. C. of Gary, Ind., on Friday night.

Harry Forbes, who will meet Earl Denning before a suburban club in a ten round bout on Labor day, put up an interesting exhibition with his brother Clarence at Gilmore's. The brothers went after each other in earnest, and Harry appears to be in shape. Freddie Whittingham boxed three rounds with Harry after Clarence had finished.

JEANNETTE LOSES TO FLYNN.

Boston Heavyweight Outpoints Negro in First Bout Under New Frawley Law in New York.

New York, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Superior science and coolheaded generalship enabled Porky Flynn, the Boston heavyweight, to outpoint Joe Jeannette in a ten round bout at the Fairmount Athletic club tonight, the first battle held under the new Frawley boxing law. Flynn was quicker and more accurate than the negro in landing blows and in seven of the rounds he showed superiority. Jeannette put up a rushing fight, but many of his punches were either blocked or avoided.

FURTHER DECLINE IN WHEAT TRADE

September Liquidation and Better Weather in Canada Are Market Factors.

CASH CORN SALES LARGE.

Export Demand Improves; Oats Weak After Firm Tone at Outset.

Wheat had a weak tone all through the session yesterday, selling pressure increasing towards the close. Last prices were practically at the low figure of the day, with net losses of ⅞@1c to 1⅛c. Scattered liquidation in September was a feature. Warmer weather in Canada, indifferent cables from Liverpool, with continued liberal receipts, were all factors helping the buyers.

One of the chief features of the situation continues to be the absence of outside trade. Local sentiment in the main is bullish, but without the aid of outside buying the local bulls are unable to lift the market out of the rut, and recently they have had no help from the bigger interests. Winnipeg and Minneapolis were even weaker than Chicago, indicating the damage to the Canadian crop was not so serious as supposed.

Continental Markets Strong.

Liverpool at the close was unchanged to ⅛d lower, but the continental markets were firmer. Paris was unchanged to ½c off; Antwerp, 1¼c up; Berlin, ⅝c better, and Budapest, 1⅛c higher. The European visible showed a fair increase, but only about half as much as a year ago, and world's stocks, as reported by Bradstreet, showed a gain of 2,209,000 bu, compared to an increase of 8,416,000 bu last year. Harvesting conditions have been favorable on the continent and new wheat is being offered quite freely on the continent.

Russian reports indicated a poor to bad outlook for spring wheat crop. The number of cargoes off coast increased materially and there was only a moderate demand. Liverpool was also affected by the belief that Canadian reports of damage were exaggerated.

September in Demand on Dips.

Buying of September on the break was headed by Logan-Bryan, Nye-Jenks, Harris-Winthrop, Lamson, and Babcock. Barrell and Clement-Curtis bought December. Selling of December was led by J. Rosenbaum Grain, Rosenbaum Bros., Chapin, and Knight-McDougal. Bartlett-Frazier were fair buyers on the break. Local receipts were 202 cars and the estimate for today is 199 cars, the receipts here being larger than expected. Country offerings reported moderate. Primary arrivals were 806,000 bu, against 1,220,000 bu a year ago. Arrivals at northwestern points were 310 cars, against 644 cars a year ago. Winnipeg had 101 cars, against 202 cars a year ago. Clearances for the day were liberal at 466,000 bu. Cash sales here were 100,000 bu and at the seaboard 120,000 bu.

Firm Undertone in Corn.

Corn was strong and a little higher at the start, but closed ¼ to ⅛@⅜c lower, the reaction being due principally to the weakness in wheat. Receipts were liberal at 626 cars, with 607 cars for today promised, but there was an active shipping demand and sales were about 700,000 bu. Sample prices were ½c higher. Country offerings were moderate.

Weather conditions over the belt were more favorable and fair and warmer weather is predicted. No frost damage was reported of consequence. Receipts in the west were 856,000 bu, against 879,000 bu a year ago. Kansas City reported cash prices ½c higher with a good demand. Omaha reported a firm cash market with small receipts. Cables were ⅛@¼d higher. A large part of the shipping business from here was for export.

Weak Finish in Oats.

Oats were weak in the latter part of the session and closed ⅜@1½c lower. The demand early was good, but offerings were liberal on the swell and when wheat turned weak there was renewed selling pressure from commission houses. Cash demand was fair with sales of 260,000 bu. Sample prices were ½c higher. Receipts here were 312 cars; estimate for today, 279 cars. In the west total arrivals were 715,000 bu, against 1,058,000 bu a year ago.

Provisions finished a little lower for the day. Offerings were liberal and there was free selling early, headed by Hately, Tietgens, and Schwarz. Press and Congdon-Steever were early buyers. Receipts here were 13,000 hogs, with 26,000 expected today. Market at yards was steady. The shipping demand was moderate and the foreign inquiry for lard was less urgent.

BOARD OF TRADE GOSSIP.

Local corn shippers reported heavy sales of corn yesterday both for export and domestic account. Practically all of the export brokers did a fair business, and the aggregate sales were about 700,000 bu. Total sales on Monday were also said to have been larger than reported and some of the shippers turned down bids for considerably more corn wanted at the same price corn was sold at Monday. The country is offering a little corn, but most of the receivers said there was less corn being sold than expected, and that reports from the country indicated comparatively light supplies of old corn.

Reports from Des Moines and Omaha said Chicago houses were bidding ½c over Chicago September for No. 3 corn. Some of the cash men claim to expect liberal receipts of corn here all through, but many of the receivers say heavy arrivals will not last long. Many sections report the corn as well cleaned up now as it was in June last year.

Corn and oats were both ⅛c higher. Oats sales were 260,000 bu. Offerings were fair.

Minneapolis stocks decreased 260,000 bu for three days.

W. S. Crosby of Shearson-Hammill returned from a European trip Monday.

Canadian forecast was for warmer weather, but showers were predicted for today in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg were 102 cars, compared with 75 cars a week ago and 202 cars the corresponding day last year.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 199 cars; corn, 607 cars; oats, 279 cars; rye, 14 cars; barley, 63 cars; hogs, 26,000 head.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were 1c lower; corn, unchanged to ½c lower; oats, ¼@⅜c lower, and rye ¼@⅜c lower. Sales were: 6,000 bu No. 3 yellow corn or better, thirty days' shipment, 64½c Illinois proportional.

Bradstreet's report of the available supply last week shows the following increases:

After Sept. 1 trading in indemnities will be between 1:45 and 2:30 p. m., according to a regulation adopted by the directors yesterday.

The claim of the Peavey Grain company against Horace Jackson, who is said to be indebted to that concern for a large sum, was up before the directors yesterday. It was referred to the arbitration committee, and the directors will not take action on the matter for another week.

WARNS OWNERS AND TENANTS OF BUILDINGS TO OBEY LAW.

Commissioner Ericsson Threatens to Prosecute Large Number Who Ignore Fire Safety Ordinance.

Commissioner of Buildings Henry Ericsson yesterday sent out a warning to owners, agents, and lessees of buildings that they must comply with the new ordinance which went into effect on Jan. 9 last.

"There are a large number of such persons who have neglected to make the required changes," said Mr. Ericsson. "If they do not accord with the new law they will be prosecuted."

"You are legally, morally, and financially responsible in case of failure to comply," declares the notice, which recites the various necessary improvements to insure safety to employés and other occupants in buildings of different classes.

The notice tells of the fire escapes specified in the ordinance, the prohibition of obstructions in stairways and other places that would be used in fleeing from fire, that doors must be kept unlocked and swing outward in factories, work shops, hotels, assembly halls, hospitals, and similar places.

Basement, boiler or furnace rooms, and all portions of premises shall be kept absolutely free from débris, papers, paints, oils, or inflammable material, it is ordered.

All steam, hot water, or hot air furnaces must have ceiling over them, fireproofed with asbestos and metal, extending two feet beyond all sides of boiler or furnace, smokepipe to be covered with heavy asbestos.

Canadian Northern to Go to Spokane.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 29.—It was announced from the offices of the Canadian Northern today that the road would build into Spokane, Wash., from Kamloops, B. C.

WEATHER FAVORS CORN BELT WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI.

Occasional Frost in the Spring Wheat States East of the Rockies—Hot and Dry in Texas.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—The weather bureau's National Weekly Bulletin, for the week which ended yesterday, says:

"In the corn growing states west of the Mississippi conditions were mostly favorable although it was generally too cool and dry over the more northern portions of the belt. East of the Mississippi more moderate temperatures prevailed, there were good showers in nearly all the states, the surface soil is generally well supplied with moisture and conditions were mostly favorable.

"In the spring wheat growing states east of the Rocky mountains rather unfavorable conditions obtained, the weather was abnormally cold, with occasional frost, but without serious damage and considerable cloudiness prevailed although the rainfall was generally less than the average.

"West of the Rocky mountains the weather was much more favorable for maturing and harvesting the grain.

"In the cotton growing states high temperatures and dry weather prevailed in Texas and Oklahoma during the first part of the week, but good showers and cooler weather prevailed over the most of those states during the latter part.

"In Louisiana, Arkansas, and Mississippi the weather continued partly cloudy, with frequent showers, the heavy rains causing some damage in river bottoms. More sunshine and drier weather are now needed in those states.

"In the eastern states of the belt the weather was mostly favorable, although the rainfall was generally light, and it is still dry in some sections."

END OF WORLD "POSTPONED."

Two Zion City Chiefs, Who Said Christ Was to Appear, Now Put It Off 431 Years.

Two Zion City chiefs who officially recorded at Portland, Me., some time ago the end of the world, now write to eastern members of the church that the destruction has has been postponed 431 years. Christ was to appear before eight persons at Zion City, they said.

CATHOLICS PLAN 3 IMPROVEMENTS

New Parish Properties and $35,000 Convent Object of Deeds Filed Yesterday.

FLATS CHANGE OWNERS.

Residence Property Active; Will Erect a Modern Wholesale Bakery on West Side.

Three notable improvements planned by Catholic parishes of Chicago were formally made of record yesterday. A deed was filed preliminary to establishing a new parish, Our Lady of Mercy, with a new church and school. The building of a Ruthenian church and parish house, and also of a convent to cost about $35,000, were objects of two more deeds.

The buildings to form a part of Our Lady of Mercy parish are to be located at the southwest corner of Troy street and Sunnyside avenue, in Albany park. They will cost about $50,000 and will consist of a school and church combined.

The parish now numbers 250 families, presided over by the Rev. Father Henry Coughlan, who for a month has been conducting services in a public school building.

To provide for the improvement fund a trust deed has been given on the property at the southwest corner of Troy street and Sunnyside avenue, 458x125 feet, by the Catholic Bishop of Chicago to Andrew J. Graham, securing a loan of $45,000 for five years at 5 per cent.

Twenty Lots Purchased.

As a site for its new church, school, and other improvements to be made, the St. Nicholas Ruthenian Catholic church has bought from Edmund A. Cummings twenty lots at Leavitt and Rice streets and Oakley avenue, for a consideration of $16,000. The church buildings will be located at Oakley avenue and Rice street and will cost between $50,000 and $60,000.

A new three story brick convent, 42x82 feet, to cost about $35,000, will be built by St. Anne's parish at Fifty-fifth street and Wentworth avenue, adjoining St. Anne's church. Work has already been commenced on the structure under plans made by Architect J. W. McCarthy.

Harry Howell has sold to Barbara Travis three new one story store buildings and ground, 50x149 feet, at 855-859 Belmont avenue, just west of North Clark street, for a consideration of $25,000. Sontag Bros. acted as brokers in the deal.

Sells Store and Flats.

Jacob Bass has sold to Samuel M. Jess the store and flat property at the southwest corner of Turner avenue and West Thirteenth street, consisting of ground 50x124 feet, three stores, and fourteen flats. The consideration is given as $51,000, subject to an incumbrance of $32,750.

Mr. Jess disposed of several other holdings to different parties before making the purchase of the Turner avenue property.

Following its purchase of a tract of six lots located in West Division street, between Western and Campbell avenues, from the estate of Elizabeth McCreery of New York yesterday, the Northwestern Baking company proposes to improve the same with a modern wholesale bakery for its own use and stores and flats. The improvement will cost about $40,000. The Chicago Title and Trust company represented the McCreery estate, while Julius Moll & Son represented both parties in the deal.

Apartment Property Sold.

Frederick S. Rockund has sold to Carl O. Olson apartment property occupying a lot 115x124 feet at the northwest corner of Eastwood and Clarendon avenues for a consideration of $11,000, subject to an incumbrance of $2,600.

William S. Pace of Cleveland, O., has purchased from Azariah T. Galt the six apartment building and ground 170x150 feet at the northeast corner of Sheridan road and Winona street, for $22,666. An undivided one-third interest in the same property has been sold by Marie Van Antwerp McCutcheon of New York to Mr. Pace for $11,333. The purchaser gives back to A. F. Galt a trust deed to cover a loan of $24,000, three years, at 5 per cent.

Frank E. Zinn of Chicago and Harry A. Zinn of Rock Island have sold to John T. Marron of Rock Island the store and apartment property, 50x95 feet, in Jefferson avenue, 150 feet south of Sixty-third street, for a nominal consideration.

John Wheeler has bought from Morgan Weed property 50x161 feet in Michigan avenue, 51 feet north of Forty-sixth street, for a consideration of $15,375.

Sells South Side Flats.

Robert J. Lytle has sold to Anna M. Schrage apartment property, 30x125 feet, in Sixty-sixth place, 140 feet west of Stony Island avenue, for $16,500, subject to an incumbrance of $8,000.

John Murtagh has purchased from Abraham Loebe property, 50x101 feet, at the southwest corner of State and Fifty-first streets, improved with a three story store and flat building, for a consideration of $30,000.

Michelangelo and Rosario Discosola have bought from Mrs. Sarah J. Lynch a lot 50x150 feet in Independence boulevard, 50 feet south of Lexington street, which will be improved with a residence to cost $15,000. The consideration was $5,000.

Samuel W. Schwab has bought from Anton Wallenta an improved lot, 75x132 feet, at the northeast corner of Ogden and Turner avenues, for a consideration of $16,500, subject to an incumbrance of $3,000.

Murray Wolbach sold to Solomon Bach, for a consideration of $21,000, apartment and store properties, 50x125 feet, at the northeast corner of Turner avenue and Twenty-sixth street, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000. The same property was afterwards bought by Abram Simon from Mr. Bach for $20,500, subject to an incumbrance of $14,500.

WIN 7 HOUR MAIL RUN TO ST. LOUIS

Postoffice Heads Get Offer from Frisco; Cuts an Hour Off Present Schedule.

START SERVICE AUG. 31.

Success Attends Long Negotiations; "Pennsy" System Has 69,760 Stockholders.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—The postoffice department has arranged after all for the establishment of a seven hour mail service between Chicago and St. Louis. This news, which will be gratifying to the business men of the middle and south west, is contained in the following statement issued by the department today.

"Postmaster General Hitchcock has authorized the inauguration of a new fast mail train service by the Frisco Lines between the cities of Chicago, Ill., and of St. Louis, Mo., to begin Aug. 31. This train will be operated on a seven hour schedule, leaving the terminals not earlier than 7 p. m. and arriving not later than 2 a. m. each day. It will carry the business mails between the two cities and all mails that can be connected for dispatch therefrom. This is the result of negotiations that have been in progress for some time and gives to the two cities a much desired business mail connection."

Success Attends Long Negotiations.

Postal authorities had despaired of effecting such a satisfactory arrangement when Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart took up the matter. He proposed a six hour service between the two cities. He offered exceptional advantages to any line undertaking such a schedule. Claiming the expense was too great, no road would meet the department. Then Mr. Stewart suggested a seven hour service, and after considerable telegraphic discussion, the Frisco lines agreed to undertake this work.

The seven hour service will mean a reduction of two hours in time, but more than this, will insure connections both at Chicago and St. Louis. Undoubted benefits will flow to the business community as a result of the agreement reached.

PENNSY STOCKHOLDERS INCREASE

The largest number of stockholders ever recorded in the history of the Pennsylvania railroad is shown in a compilation just completed by the company. On Aug. 5, the date of record for the August dividend of $6,764,610.75, the total outstanding shares of the company were held by 69,760 persons. The average holding was 129.9 shares, of a par value of $6,464.50. The total outstanding capital stock on that date was $450,971,050, divided into 9,019,481 shares of $50 each.

The 10 per cent allotment recently made by the company increased the capital stock $38,357,... on Aug. 5, 92 per cent having accepted the privilege of paying in full instead of two installments. The number of stockholders prior to April 12, when the allotment was made, was 66,046, showing the addition of 3,714 shareholders in the last four months.

Foreigners Hold 15.65 Per Cent.

On Aug. 1, 15.65 per cent of the entire capital stock was held abroad by 10,000 stockholders, with average holdings of 141 shares each. In this country there were on the same date 31,8.. shareholders located in the state of Pennsylvania and 12,006 in New York. The number of women shareholders was 32,801.

To the total number of shareholders of the Pennsylvania may be added the many thousands of stockholders in other companies controlled and owned by the Pennsylvania, not to speak of the other thousands of bondholders in the parent and subsidiary companies, in order to appreciate the wide distribution of the companies' earnings.

By the purchase of the Texas Central, the Denison, Bonham, and New Orleans, and the Dallas, Cleburne, and Southwestern, and the building of a new branch from De Leon to Cross Plains in Texas, the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas railway has added 341 miles to its system. The total length of its lines is now 3,395 miles, an increase of 11 per cent during the last twelve months.

RETIRE BONDS IN TRACTION MERGER

New York Syndicate Begins Payment of Northwestern "L" Issue Next Friday.

INVOLVES $20,000,000 CASH.

Further Plans for Consolidation of Elevated and Surface Lines, Wait City's Sanction.

Next Friday the New York syndicate which is behind the local street railroad deal will begin the payment of $20,000,000 in cash, retiring substantially that amount of bonds of the Northwestern Elevated. The bonds may be presented for payment either in New York City at the office of Blair & Co. or in Chicago at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. The retirement of these bonds will end the large payments to be made by the New York syndicate. Should one-half the issue be presented for payment here Chicago will have received in all about $25,000,000 cash in connection with the elevated railway deal.

The larger plans for the consolidation of the surface and elevated lines are standing still. It is not intended to go far with them until after consulting with the city and bringing about negotiations which shall determine a great many matters that must be settled before a consolidation can be effected. Even the plans for the unification of operation of the elevated lines cannot be carried out without the consent of the city. The matter of through routes must be mutually agreed upon. The operating plans, so far as they can be worked out, are being developed under the direction of Samuel Insull.

Local Money Demand.

Speaking of the demand for money as experienced at the National Bank of the Republic, Vice President W. T. Fenton said yesterday:

"We find considerable improvement. Note brokers are offering paper at 4½ per cent. Generally speaking, the market may be said to be 5 per cent. A good demand has started from the southwest.

"Some of our patrons in the manufacturing business report sales ahead of last year. This, however, is not general. But one concern which sells its product in the smaller cities finds its orders larger than in 1910."

To Enforce Directors' Liability.

Under authority of the controller of the currency there has been issued from his office at Washington a pamphlet bearing on the efforts of the controller to secure more efficient bank directoral control. It appears to be the intention of the controller to enforce the liability of the bank directors. The pamphlet says, among other things:

"It is estimated that there are over 600,000 stockholders in our national banks and 9,225,000 depositors, while the affairs of the institutions are controlled by nearly 62,000 directors. Under the national banking act a stockholder's liability is double the amount of shares held. On March 7, 1911, this liability was therefore $2,023,140,646. If to these figures be added a surplus of $665,722,-532 and undivided profits of $232,447,742, a total of $2,921,310,940 is reached; and this measures the sum for the management of which directors are responsible to stockholders just as the deposits of $5,350,147,638 represents the interest of depositors in having the banks soundly conducted.

Public Opinion with Controller.

"The directors of a bank are liable for deposits made during the insolvency of the bank when they know of its condition and which may have been received with the evident intention of defrauding the depositors.

"In attesting the reports of conditions to the controller few directors realize the extent of their liability. It will be no longer possible for boards of directors to plead ignorance. Sustained by public opinion, by the decision of the courts and by the records of his own office, the controller has brought home to every director his duty and responsibility under the law. Their answers are on file in his department and he will know in event of a failure just where to place the blame."

Schiff Says "Manipulation."

Jacob Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. has returned to New York. Speaking of present conditions, he said:

"The underlying conditions at home, as far as I know, are good. I do not think there should be any apprehension over the recent considerable decline in stock values. In my opinion it is due to a great extent, to the consequences of the unjustifiable and unwise attempt to advance stock prices by manipulation in the early summer in the face of the destructive decision in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco cases."

Harvester Common Weak.

International Harvester common stock dropped yesterday on the local exchange from 110¾ to 108½. The selling followed the course of the New York market.

There has been a falling off in the demand for some of the company's lines of output. The business as a whole is not up to last year, but is maintaining a fair average. Sales abroad are said to have increased 25 per cent.

American Tobacco Extension.

Announcement is made that an extension of thirty days has been granted for the deposit of the 4 and 6 per cent bonds of the American Tobacco company with the protective committees. The preferred stockholders will be given until Sept. 15 to deposit their shares. It is said that between 49 and 50 per cent of the preferred stock outstanding has been deposited.

Application has been made to the New York stock exchange for listing the certificates of deposit representing the bonds and stock and the insiders think the application will soon be granted.

Dividend Declared.

The American Can company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock payable Oct. 2 to stock of record Sept. 15.

Clearings were $42,162,707.

General Financial News.

Standard Oil stock sold on the New York curb yesterday at 645, an advance of 46 points compared with the last sale Monday.

Officials of the Inland Steel company are reported as admitting they are considering the purchase of two large steamers to be used in the lake service.

The governing committee of the New York stock exchange will meet today to act on the petition of the members asking that the exchange be closed on next Saturday. More than 500 signatures have been obtained in favor of closing.

A large interest in the American Piano company says the sales thus far this year have been 20 per cent ahead of the same period in 1910. In the year ended Dec. 31, 1910, the company earned around 6¼ per cent on the common stock.

Chicago Securities.

On the local stock exchange business was but moderately active. Prices were irregular, with a general tendency to steadiness. Swift & Co. sold at 102¾ on a small volume of transactions. Following New York National Biscuit common sold up to 131, an advance of 1¼ points over the opening. Commonwealth Edison was firm but after touching 133 the price closed at 132¾. A few shares of Chicago Railways series 2 certificates sold at 27¼. Sears-Roebuck common was fractionally higher at the close the last quotation being 138Q.

Boxboard made a new low record at $1.75 for a $100 share. The close was at $2.00.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Advance orders were few and far between on the cotton goods market today; buyers continued to operate for nearby requirements. There was some inquiry for lightweight sheetings for China, but no sales were made as the offers made were under the market. Jobbing houses are doing a good house trade. A firmer tendency was noted in gray goods and cotton yarns.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

New York, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—There was no indication that the weakness in the market at the close of today's session was due to any renewal of the liquidating which had accompanied the decline recently checked.

There was no news that would have led to a renewal of such liquidation, and the circulation coincidental with the decline in the last hour of unfavorable reports which had much the appearance of originating in professional trading quarters appeared to throw some light on the character of most of the selling which caused the sharp recession in several of the leading stocks after a fair degree of firmness had been shown during most of the session.

It is true that prices yielded easily to the pressure put upon them and to this extent the course of prices today supplied further corroboration of the fact that public buying has not been attracted to the market to any extent proportionate with the losses prices recently have incurred.

Steel Suit Rumor Factor.

A rumor that the often predicted federal suit against the United States Steel corporation was about to materialize and that the office of the attorney general had drawn up papers for the institution of such a suit was denied almost as soon as the report gained circulation in stock exchange circles, but it may have been partly influential in helping the decline in United States Steel from 71½ to 69⅝.

In pleasing contrast with the unfavorable report regarding the steel corporation's affairs circulated during the last hour of trading was the information contained in an official statement made later that in addition to the increase in unfilled orders reported at the first of August the bookings up to the 20th of the month show a further fair increase. To this was added the statement that the specifications for prompt shipment in August have been larger than in any month this year, and that the outlook is all that can be desired.

This would seem to indicate that the feeling of hesitation which lately developed in the steel trade as a result of unsettled sentiment for which the heavy decline in the stock market was at least in part responsible, has again yielded to a more hopeful attitude by purchasers of steel products.

Railway Traffic Expands.

Railroad reports for July, which came to hand during the day, contained gratifying indications of expansion in the volume of traffic in the eastern states, which appear just now to be doing better than some of the western roads. The Erie reported a substantial gain in gross earnings and a good increase in net earnings for July, and the Reading company, showed some increase in gross, although increased expenses reduced the net earnings of the system by a small amount.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were quiet today. Traders on the stock exchange were chiefly interested in arranging for the general settlement. Carryover rates for American shares are quoted at 3½ per cent. New buying appeared in the American and foreign rails and bonds sections, but home securities sagged under the lead of home rails. American securities opened steady and a small fraction higher. Canadian Pacific led an upward movement during the forenoon. This was followed by a short period of weakness, but New York buying strengthened values in the late trading. The market closed steady.

CUT OFFICIAL PRICE OF BUTTER TO HALT INCOMING MOVEMENT.

Chicago Dealers' Action Not Affecting Retailers—Best Eggs Advance—Potatoes Drop 5 Cents More.

Determined to check the incoming movement of butter, dealers at Chicago yesterday lowered the official price of extras in creamery 1c a pound, to 25c. This reduction did not affect the jobbing price to retailers, and the only end sought was to divert shipments towards other markets until accumulations here have been cleared.

Buyers continued to look upon the market with disfavor, and are not expected to increase their purchases to more than most pressing needs so long as the maintenance of the Elgin price at 26c compels them to pay 27½c for butter quoted on the Chicago board at 25c.

The egg market had a buoyant undertone, and the best of the graded eggs sold at an advance of ½c a dozen. Poultry values were unchanged. Potatoes sold at a further decline of 5c for northern stock, most of which was of poor quality.

THREAT TO TURN SUFFRAGET GETS ASSESSMENT REMOVED.

Miss Alice Beesley Says She's a Cousin of Mrs. Pankhurst and She Positively Refuses to Stand for Levy.

Modern day application of the "no taxation without representation" spirit of '76 brought Miss Alice Beesley, 318 West Seventy-second street, exemption from her personal property assessment yesterday, but in the settlement the cause of woman suffrage lost a recruit of the Patrick Henry type.

Miss Beesley, who is a dressmaker, was assessed $500 on her personal property. In a letter of complaint to the board of review she protested against the levy, declaring that her piano, valued at $50, was the only taxable article in her possession.

"I will become a suffraget before I will stand for such taxation," declared Miss Beesley.

"Millionaires right here in my own neighborhood are assessed $500 or $600 and then the assessor comes and places us of the hoi polloi on a level with the plutocrat.

"I am a cousin of Mrs. Pankhurst, the English militant suffraget, and when I start I'll start right."

HOG PRICES HOLD ON STEADY BASIS

Shortage in Supply Appears at Close; Packers Rush In to Buy.

LAMB MARKET DECLINES.

Excessive Receipts Cause Sharp Slump; Cattle Limited, Figures Remain Firm.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday held on a steady basis, but the market closed in a strong position, with fewer hogs left unsold than on any other previous day in a long time and with some of the packers' buyers carrying unfilled orders. Buying of light hogs by a Milwaukee packer added ginger to the trade. Quality was poor and the average price 2c lower at $7.28.

Excessive receipts knocked the props from under the lamb market and sales were made at a decline of 15@25c for natives and at a loss of 5@15c for rangers. Many of the latter were carried over unsold. Sheep were weak to 10@15c lower for rangers.

Calves rallied back to $9.00 for prime assorted vealers and the market had a buoyant tone at the upturn. Cattle supply was limited, but there were no urgent orders in evidence and sales were made at Monday's prices.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION DEFENDS BANKRUPTCY ACT.

Action Taken After Report by Committee Is Heard—Plan for Recall of the Judiciary Scored by Body.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—The results of a year's investigations by more than a dozen committees on the intricacies of various branches of law and legal procedure, were presented tonight before the thirty-fourth annual session of the American Bar association.

The convention opened with the president's address, delivered by Edgar H. Farrar of New Orleans, which was followed by the election of the general counsel.

One of the speakers was Baron Uchida, Japanese ambassador to the United States, who spoke on "The Teaching of Jurisprudence in Japan."

Oppose Bankruptcy Act Repeal.

A recommendation that the American Bar association oppose any attempt toward the repeal of the national bankruptcy act was made in the report of the committee on commercial law. The committee urged that the association exert every endeavor to secure the defeat of the bill to repeal the bankruptcy act introduced by Representative Clayton now pending in congress.

Acts relative to wife and child desertion and to the probating in one state of wills made in another state were recommended for indorsement by the committee on uniform state laws.

Its report said the desertion act already has been passed in five states—Washington, Kansas, Rhode Island, Michigan, and Wisconsin. It provides for punishment of deserters by imprisonment at hard labor, a portion of the proceeds of such labor to be devoted to the support of the deserted wife or children.

Denounces Recall of Judges.

Edgar H. Farrar, president of the association, advocated uniform state laws to govern corporations rather than federal control.

Mr. Farrar denounced the proposition for the recall of judges and the idea of a federal commission to fix the prices of merchandise. He favored the limiting of the capital stock of national banks and the prohibiting of consolidation of such banks or of their control by any corporation.

Regarding the proposed recall of judges, Mr. Farrar said:

"If the judiciary of this country were in any material part corrupt, or if there were in our system of law no effective means to remove corrupt or ignorant judges, or if the means provided had been appealed to in vain and could not be made operative, then there might be some excuse for a revolutionary measure of this character. But none of these things is true."

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or income from other sources] who, while not in a position to borrow money from a bank, realize that exorbitant interest charged by professional money lenders is high and extortionate. I am connected with the Indiana Loan, Credit, and Trust Company of Chicago co-partners 4303 Grand-blvd., and, having private means of my own I am willing to loan money with or without security and at a consideration but a trifle above bank rates, and never more than the interest legalized by the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the precise rate being determined by the amount loaned and risk assumed. My location [15 minutes from loop district via South Side Elevated] assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where lenders congregate. Always best to telephone Drexel 54 for private appointment. Ask for MR. S.

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE — IF YOU hold a permanent salaried position we will loan you any reasonable sum from $10 upward WITHOUT security or knowledge of employer or friends. Our rates are LOW, payments easy. REBATE IF paid before due. QUICK SERVICE; long time if desired; no red tape; no extra charge; nothing taken out of loan in advance. Office hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. THE WORK EDITOR.

By JOHN A. HOWLAND.

(Personal replies will be mailed if stamped and addressed envelope is inclosed. Address the Work Editor.)

THE selling end is that which is most profitable for the average man.

This is in answer to several hundred letters.

But there are salesmen getting $6 a week and others getting $1,000 a week. And there are salesmen earning less and earning more.

There are two types of salesmen—those who are human phonographs and those who have imagination. There are men in between these extremes, but their pay depends upon the proportion of one or the other in the blend.

The phonograph merely learns by heart the ready made selling talk he gets from the sales manager. When some new point is raised, not in his list of "answers to objections," he is stumped. That's why he gets a small salary.

This topic doesn't need elaboration. Every one can elaborate it for himself.

THE WORK EDITOR'S ADVICE TO INQUIRERS.

E. J. W. X.: You want to know the average salary paid a commercial artist. Art is not a respecter of averages. Art is above that. Even commercial art does not stoop so low. A mechanical draftsman, called artist, draws from $20 to $35 per week. The man who specializes on lettering comes in for the same scale. Figures and faces call for more of the artist, and are paid better. I have allowed myself to be dragged into answering the question, when I should have adhered to my first intention that art is not measured by the yard stick or agate rule.

ENGRAVING: Men doing pen and ink for line cuts or brush work for half tones are paid fairly high wages. A poor artist does not command much, but illustrating receives a better remuneration than the same grade and class of writing, if a comparison of the two can be made. The reason for this is because there are more writers than pen and ink artists.

MRS. A. A. M.: The irregularity of private pupils and their indifference to attend their lessons at the appointed time is one of the inherent difficulties of private teaching. Still there are quite a goodly company of men and women earning comfortable livelihoods by private instruction. These folks advertise all the time, so that when pupils fall away others are immediately at hand to replace them. If you should decide to devote yourself to teaching music privately, make it plain to your prospective pupils that they must pay whether they take their lessons or not, once that permanent arrangements are perfected. A good way is to sell a course of lessons, payable in advance.

F. F.: Keep the boy at home. While the suggestion is not distinctly original, I do not know to what extent it has ever been operated by invalids and shuts-in, a clipping service can be established in your house. You can canvass for customers by mail. The sick boy can probably be taught to use the shears and clip. His mother can read the papers and mark the parts which are to be cut out. The work will not pay well, but it will keep the boy occupied.

C. J. R.: Punchinello sang best the night his sweetheart died. The world does not want to see the suffering of others. It does not want to be reminded of its own. Make light of your affliction. Laugh it away. Some folks are always flaunting their sores in the faces of their friends; in consequence we flee them. That is not saying that we do not sympathize with them, nor that we would not apply balm to them. Sometimes we have some great ailment of our own that we are seeking to forget, which may start up when we behold a similar ill in others. Do not let any one know that you have an artificial limb. Hide it as much as you can.

H. S.: We never give up anything but we get something in return. Your honor was dearer to you than the job with its accompanying remuneration. You saved your honor, and let the job slide. Remember what Barrie says: "He canna be baith gran' and comfortable." Your wide experience, your mastery of a good job, and good common sense will aid in your locating a job at a living wage and with livable conditions. Be not satisfied with any less.

I. X. U.: Many men attend the university of hard knocks, but no one "gets cash through graduating." Life is one continuous session of struggling. Accept the present offer at $100 per month without any further hesitation. Work, live and save. On Jan. 1 write to me again. Tell me how much you have on hand. Then we will discuss the subject a little more.

PENN: How many different kinds of friends there are! Never questioning; never doubting; answering every call; responding to every invitation; failing in no test—that is the measure of a friend.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

THOUSANDS ARE NOW GROWING RICH through Western Canada's marvelous development. Touching this point have you read the address of President Schurman, of Cornell university, New York, before the Winnipeg Canadian club, which the Canadian newspapers made such a to-do about? We will send you a copy free if you write. Both city and country property is increasing phenomenally in value. Here is your opportunity. You need not leave home to share in this great new wealth. We can send you particulars, diagrams and statistics which prove how you can get a share—and that without risk. Our "non-forfeit of payments" plan makes your money as safe as in a savings bank, to be refunded if you are unable or unwilling to continue investment. This English corporation's $1,400,000 stands back of every dollar you invest. The biggest bank in Canada handles our account. References furnished on request. Do not delay. It costs you nothing for this valuable information. Western Canada is making money for others, and will do it for you. Write today CANADIAN CITY & TOWN PROPERTIES, Ltd., 574 Stobart Blk., Portage-av., Winnepeg, Man.

BRIDE AND GROOM LIVE BY FORGERY

Mrs. George Gilmore Passes Checks, $50 to $350, on Individuals and Banks.

CAUGHT IN NEW MEXICO.

"My Son Is Innocent," Mother Declares; Husband Sticks to Accused Woman.

A succession of forged checks on an assortment of banks in Chicago and elsewhere seem to have supplied the greater part of the expenses of George Gilmore of La Grange and his wife, Julia, since their marriage in Seattle last December.

The woman, who is 24 years old, pretty and vivacious, passed the checks, and is now under arrest in Silver City, New Mexico. She is the daughter of Mrs. John R. Smith of Detroit.

So far one of the checks, the smallest of the lot, has been paid up. The victim caught the Gilmores in a downtown store just before they left for New Mexico, and threatened to call a policeman unles sthe $50 was paid. It was paid. Another victim, with a $.00 complaint, hurried to La Grange, only to find the couple gone.

Ill, Penniless, Out of Work.

The Gilmores were married in Seattle just before last Christmas. At that time Gilmore was sick, penniless, and out of a job. He had been a chauffeur. The girl, somewhat older than he, professed to be in line for an inheritance of $35,000 or thereabouts. As this was entirely satisfactory to Gilmore, they were married.

Subsequently they went to Detroit, and two months ago came to Chicago, renting a room from Mrs. L. L. Jonese, 969 Edgemont place, where they stayed for about two weeks, running up a bill with Dr. Thomas A. Hogan, 3957 Sheridan road. A little later the physician was allowed to cash a $100 check on the Northern Trust company, purporting to be signed by the woman's mother.

About the same time Mrs. Jones' son, Charles, a clerk, was allowed to indorse a $50 check bearing the signature of Dr. Seth Wicks, 1207 Wilson avenue. Then the Gilmores disappeared.

Not at Address Given.

Both checks were returned, repudiated, and the address left by the couple was found not good. The checks were turned over to the police.

Gilmore's mother deeclares he is innocent of any wrong, but does not say where she thought the woman obtained her money. His mother says that in La Grange, too, the yarn of the $35,000 inheritance was circulated among the bankers, to the betterment of the Gilmore credit.

JAP MOTHER-IN-LAW NO JOKE

Consul Yamasaki Arrives with Bride; Tells How He Married.

SAYS IT BEATS CHICAGO WAY

Mothers, Not Sweethearts, Consulted if Man Wants to Wed.

The advice of a mother-in-law is not a joke in Japan, according to Keichi Yamasaki, Japanese consul to Chicago. Mr. Yamasaki acquired a Nipponese mother-in-law recently. He returned to Chicago yesterday after a wedding journey of 10,000 miles.

"Marriages in Japan are arranged by mothers rather than by lovers," Mr. Yamasaki declared. "I think that if you were to adopt that method in Chicago there wou.. be fewer divorces.

"A young man of our country who wishes to mary consults his own mother and then the mother of his sweetheart—his mother-in-law to be, he hopes. It is their decision by which he abides.

Group to Choose From.

"Of course, the young man is not limited to one young woman. He asks his mother to give him a choice of two or three or half a dozen. She then reviews the young women she knows, consults the mothers of those whom she approves, and announces the result to her son.

"In my own case, I had from my mother a list of three girls among whom I might choose. But there was no doubt in my mind as to which of these I wished to marry.

"My wife is the 20-year-old daughter of Baron Ishii, vice minister of foreign affairs in Japan."

Daughter of Baron Ishii.

Mrs. Yamasaki was dressed after the fashion of Chicago when she arrived on the Overland Limited yesterday. She wore a traveling coat with a black hat and a white veil.

They will reside at 5735 Lexington avenue, opposite the University of Chicago.

WIFE LOCATES MISSING ARTIST.

Mrs. Ellwood Potts Receives Letter from Husband, Who Disappeared One Day After Taking Job.

Ellwood Potts, the Chicago artist for whom the police of Boston have been searching, was located by his wife yesterday. She received a letter from the missing man in which he is said to have stated the reason for his disappearance.

Potts went to Boston about a week ago to take a position offered by Frederick Millson, a stained glass manufacturer. Potts stayed at Millson's residence for a day after arriving in the city and then disappeared. It is thought that he was dissatisfied with his new position.

Mrs. Potts lives at 1002 West Monroe street. She was not there yesterday afternoon, but the news that Potts had been found was given out by acquaintances.

Sweater Coats for Women

The most serviceable of Outdoor Garments

Gradually but surely women have accepted Sweater Coats as an important and permanent part of their wardrobes—accepted them for their comfort and convenience, their general out-of-doors usefulness, and last—but by no means least—for their decided attractiveness. These garments have everything in their favor for motoring, golf, pedestrianism and all outdoor recreation. Fifth Floor.

In our enlarged showing will be found a variety of imported models—garments handknitted by Swiss mountaineers—others from Ireland—in shades not to be duplicated. Other styles in white and colors are shown in all desirable lengths, at from $5.00 upward. One of the newest styles is illustrated—$8.50.

THE FALL FASHIONS IN SCHOOL APPAREL for MISSES find their highest expression in our complete displays of new

Coats—Suits—Dresses

In the development of serviceable school apparel nothing more attractive or eminently sensible than our new models has been devised. The fabrics are in rough, heavy effects—long-wearing. The Suits and Coats are strictly man-tailored, with slightly increased length to jackets, and new revers and collars on the coats. Fourth Floor

They are garments which will receive enthusiastic commendation from misses and mothers. Even a single garment from these carefully chosen lines will set the style-tone of a complete school outfit. The following values are representative:

Misses' Suits—In mannish mixtures; coat plain tailored, satin lined; skirt loose, panel back, high waistline. Sizes 14, 16 and 18. Special, $32.50.

Misses' Wool Dresses—Excellent serge, round neck, kimono sleeves, waist hand embroidered, in contrasting shades, colors navy, brown and dark red, sizes 14, 16 & 18. Price $22.50.
